James Gittings Junr. Lessee
a
Aquila Hall

The deposition of James Gittings of Thomas aged forty six years or thereabouts being sworn on the holy Evangelists of Almighty God in presence of both parties in the Cause the sheriff and surveyor deposeth and saith that about forty years ago there stood a Corn house and a dwelling house on the places he now shews to the sheriff and surveyor, and that they stood there for ten or twelve years afterwards and they were the property his of this deponents Grand father Thomas Gittings the Elder and after his death became the property of Thomas Gittings the Elder and after his death, became the property of Thomas Gittings the younger his father; he further saith not.

Taken on the survey for Plaintiff this 8th day September 1800. } James Gittings of T.

James Gittings Junr.
a
Aquila Hall.

The deposition of Philip Chamberlain aged Fifty three years or thereabouts being sworn on the Holy Evanjelists of Almighty God, in presence of both parties in the Cause, the sheriff and surveyor deposeth and saith, that about seventeen or eighteen years ago Captain Tolley had a Company of people, met at a place now shewn to the sheriff and surveyor, Thomas Nicholas came and informed this deponant that Capt. Tolley wanted him to come, that he was going to fix a boundary of his land he this deponant came down by his brothers and informed him of it he then came near the place, directed by Thomas Nichols and as they came near thereto, Captain Tolley and the rest of the Company just were going away, he further saith that a hicory saplin was grubed up and a stone planted in the place when he this deponant came up thereto; he further saith that the aforesaid Stone has been standing there ever since that time; this deponant further saith that his this deponants father and James Moore informed him that Nicholas Gray and Major Franklin had bounded the aforesaid Hickory saplin as the beginning of the marna the white oak being decay'd, he further saith not.

Taken on the survey for Plaintiff this 8th day of September 1800. } Philip Chamberlain.

James

James Gittings Junr. Lessee
a
Aquila Hall

The deposition of Philip Chamberlain, aged fifty three years or thereabouts being duly sworn on the holy evanjilists of Almighty God in presence of both parties in the Cause, the sheriff and surveyor deposeth and saith, That about thirty, six or thirty seven years ago, there run a fence on the place now shewn by this deponent to the sheriff and surveyor belonging to Thomas Gittings Senr. and rented to William Herrming, that he this deponent worked and plowed up to the said fence several times and to the west of said fence was in woods: He further saith that he plowed and worked the Ground for the aforesaid Herrming several times.

2. Being asked by plaintiff, did Herrming at this time live in the house of Thomas Gittings shewn by you?

A. he answers yes he further saith not.

Taken on the survey for Plaintiff this 8th day Septr. 1800. } Philip Chamberlain.

James Gittings Junr. Lessee
a.
Aquila Hall

The deposition of James Gittings of Thomas aged forty six years or thereabout being sworn on the Holy Evangelist of Almighty God in presence of both parties in the Cause the sheriff and surveyor that the stone he now shews is a stone that was shewn by William Everit at different times once about two years ago, and and once about three or four years ago, to be the Corner of Captain Tolleys Land he this deponant understood from the aforesaid Everit the said stone was set up at the time that the other stones were set up and that he the aforesaid Everet told this deponant that he was present at the sitting up of the stone which stone he now shews to the sheriff and surveyor; he further saith that he has seen the aforesaid stone standing for twelve or fourteen years past, but it might have been standing longer; he further saith that he thought it was set up the time the rest of the stones were set up from what Captain Tolley said he further saith not.

Taken on the survey plaintiff this 9th day of September 1800. } James Gittings of T.

James