and himself, this deponant and James Greenfield this deponants father were all present at the place now shewn to the sheriff and surveyor and that James Moore told them that that was the beginning tree of the land of promise, Henry Bennet Darnall said it was not but pointing down the falls saith it was below a large rock, William Lynch then mentioned to said Darnall that he the said Darnall knew that the said tree was the beginning of the land of Promise as well as Mr. Moore, but wished it to be below the rock; This Deponant further saith that said tree shewn by James Moore was a black Oak; three pronged, which tree now is gone, but stood by the edge of the falls forming an angle between two Black oak trees now shewn to the sheriff and surveyor; this deponant further saith that he never was shewn any other tree or place as the beginning of the said land of promise, this deponant further saith not.

Taken on the survey 22d of Aug.t 1800 for the Dependant — " } Micajah Greenfield.

The deposition of Micajah Greenfield aged forty Eight years after being duly sworn deposeth and saith; That between twenty seven and twenty eight years ago he this deponant was informed by William Lynch that the tree where he now stands was the end of the last line of the affinity and the beginning of the five miles end which tree stands on the edge of the Great falls a small distance below a rock mark'd C.R 1765 which tree he now shews to the sheriff and surveyor this deponant further saith that he always has since heard that the above mentioned tree was the end of the last line of the affinity and the beginning of the five Miles end; he further saith not.

Taken on the survey for Plaintiff this 5d day of Sept. 1800. } Micajah Greenfield

Baltimore County Ss. The deposition of Henry Hart aged about fifty two years being duly sworn deposeth and saith that in the year 1789 and 1790 this deponant acted as surveyor in the Case of Henry B. Darnall against Charles Ridgely and William Goodwin that at that time Mr. William Lynch was Called on to prove the end of the line Dividing Darnells and Ridgelys Lands that he came to the place now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor, and then declared on his oath that the place then shewed by said Lynch was the end of the third line of affinity and also the End of the first line of the Land of Promise; and that the said Lynch declared that the said Darnall and Ridgely had agreed and then fixt the said place as the end of the aforesaid Lines. This deponant then went to a place and there deposeth that on the above above mentioned survey William Lynch at the time proved the said place to be the beginning of the land leased by Henry B. Darnall to said Lynch and that this deponant located the said lease from said place; This deponant then shewed the land part of Affinity sold by Capt. Charles Ridgely to said Lynch, which said Lynch then proved that the said Land had been in the possession of the defendants and the fences shewed by him been standing upwards of twenty years before the Commencement of the above suit, which fences or the places where the fences stood are now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor. This deponant then went to a place where stood a house known by the name of Magnes's house and a field round the said House known by the name of Marys field which house and field where shewn to this deponant by the aforesaid Lynch at the time above mentioned and that he this deponant located the said field and house as now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor; and that this deponant further saith that the said field and house were proved in his presence by the aforementioned William Lynch; Then this deponant went to a double poplar and two white oaks and there deposed that William Lynch above mentioned and a Certain Richard Hendon at the time of the survey above mentioned proved in presence of the then sheriff and this deponant that the said trees were the beginning of the tract of land called Averilles Garden and another tract called Grears Discovery; and further this deponant saith not.

Taken on the survey the 12. 13. 14 & 15 of August 1800 for the defendant } Henry Hart.

Baltimore County Ss.

The deposition of Henry Hart aged fifty one years being duly sworn deposeth and saith, that about the year 1790 when this deponant acted as surveyor in the Case of H. B. Darnall against C. Ridgely and Wm Goodwin, John Allen and Robert Trap shewed this deponant the division line of the Land of Promise between Henry Bennet Darnall and Nicholas Lowe Darnall which line began at a stone now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor and the stumps and trees now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor were at the time above mentioned shewed by the said J. Allen and R. Trap shewn by them to this deponant to stand in the said division line and this deponant Located the said line agreable to the said proof by Allen and Trap. This deponant then went to a place in a Glade and there deposed that the place now shewn by this deponant to the sheriff and surveyor is the place where William Lynch now deceased