October Term 1802

Burlington County one of the first settlers in New Jersey her father had ten children Caleb Pancoast was her eldest brother he married Hannah Andrews and had issue William Pancoast the plaintiff in this cause and Ann Pancoast now married to Francis Robinson this deponents father died about the year 1764 Caleb Pancoast her eldest brother died before her father her grandfather and also before her father the plaintiff was about four or five years old when his father died he was bound apprentice to one Joseph Reeves a house carpenter in Philadelphia after his apprenticeship he married and settled in Philadelphia and about four or five years ago he came to and settled in George Town This deponant was born and bred up in Jersey where her father and grandfather lived and died she has heard her father and others of the family now dead say that her grandfather and Joseph Pancoast his brother Emigrated from England that Before they Emigrated they had a younger brother who had been bound apprentice to a mechanic and as well as she recollects a Watch maker in London that this brother was kidnapped from London and brought to Maryland and sold by the Captain of the vessel to some gentleman in Maryland that this brother was a youth when kidnapped and had made his situation known after he was sold to his master that his master treated him with great kindness and as one of the family and he was not treated as a servant that when his time was out he continued to reside in the family of his master and his master advised him to take up a piece of vacant Land which he did the Land had a name but she has forgotten it that some time after John Pancoast her grandfather and Joseph Pancoast the other brothers had settled in the Jersey they advertised for their brother and by that means some time after got a letter from him and he came to see them in the Jersey that the Two brothers in Jersey solicited him to come up and settle with them and offered him a plantation if he would come that he agreed to sell his Land in Maryland and came back to Maryland and soon after died of a bleeding at the nose as well as she recollects this brothers name she heard when she first heard his history but had forgotten it that the Land Lay in Maryland between Belle Haven and George Town that some time after the death of the brother in Maryland the family in the Jersey were informed of his death and he died without a will he died a bachelor and it was generally reputed in the family that the land he died possessed of was held by the family in which he had Lived as aforesaid this knowledge this deponent gained in Jersey except as above stated and it was the common talk reputation and tradition in the family that this deponent knew Joseph Pancoast her grandfathers brother he lived to the age of ninety nine years she often saw him at her fathers house and has often seen him at his own house it was a common reputation in the Pancoast family that John Pancoast her grandfather one of the first Emigrants as aforesaid was the eldest brother this deponants father was his eldest son Caleb Pancoast this deponants eldest brother was the eldest son of her father and William Pancoast the Plaintiff is the only son of her brother Caleb. that this Deponants brother Caleb Died in the Jersey and her father and grandfather lived and died there also The Pancoast family in the Jersey are of the religious denomination called Quakers and this Deponant was bred up and continues of that persuasion and this deponant

October Term 1802