The Census Bureau reports that the 1936 death rate has advanced to 12.3 per 1,000 population, compared to 11.4 per in 1935. Summer heat waves, influenza and pneumonia were factors in the increase, the bureau said. Cities which had the highest rate last year were listed as Washington, with 18.7; Nashville, 19 2 Memphis, 18, and New Orleans. The bureau said: "In most of these cities the high proportion of Negro population contributed to the large death rate."

Death of Rev. Dr. Don S. Colt.

The Rev. Dr. Don S. Colt, a well known Methodist minister, who occupied some of the most prominent pulpits of Methodism and at one time was superintendent of the Baltimore District of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E Church, died Thursday afternoon of last week at the Maryland Gensral Hospital, Baltimore. He had been ill since New Year's Day. He was 75 years old. He held prominent pastorates in Kansas City, Mo ; Rochester, New York; Pittsburgh, and in Baltimore at Grace Church, Madison Square and in more recent years at Govans and Roland Avenue Churches. He was district superintendent from 1918 to 1924, and it was during this period, when the M. E. Churches of Calvert were in the Baltimore District, that he become well known in this county.

He was chairman of the committee on evangelization in the Baltimore Federation of Churches for many years and took an active part in the Billy Sunday campaign in Baltimore. He was in demand as a Sunday preacher at camp meetings througeout the East. He took an active part in every campaign for prohibition and was a member of the board of trustees of the Anti-Saloon League of Maryland and a member of executive committee of the Lord's Day Alliance. For years he had been associated with the work of the Maryland Bible Society and the Pocket Testament League. His most recent work was as chairman of an interdenominational committee arranging for the coming of Gipsy Smith, English evangelist, to Baltimore in the fall.

He was noted for his evangelistic preaching and for his eloquence. A man of strong convictions, he participated to a great degree in conference debate, especially in those that referred to doctrine, but persons disagreeing with him loved him even when they felt obliged to fight against him.

Dr. Colt was born April 30, 1861, in Wilmont, Wis., the son of the Rev. James H. Colt, a Methodist minister When 13 years old he went with his parents to Kansas, where he was educated at Baker University, Baldwin. His first charge was at Green, Kan., where he had a four-circuit appointment. After his graduation from the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill., he assumed charge of First Church in Kansas City, Mo. In 1893 he went to Wichita, and left there in 1900 to assume charge of North Avenue Church in Allegany, Pa. He came to the Baltimore Conference in 1901 as pastor of Grace Church, where he served five years, going from there to First Church, Rochester, N. Y. From that pastorate he went to a pastorate in the New York East Conference, and returned to the Baltimore Conference in 1911 as pastor of Madison Square Church, where he served six years. Then came his term as district superintendent After that appointment he was pastor of Govans Church for eight years.

In 1934 he expressed a desire to retire from pastorial work, but at the last moment not convinced that by retiring he would be following what he believed to be the "will of the Lord" he took another pastorate—the Roland Avenue Church, retiring in June of last year.

In April of last year he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary, also his fifty year in the ministry

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon lastat 2 o'clock at Govans M. E. Church, Baltimore, with Rev. Dr F. R. Bailey, superintendent of the Baltimore District of the Baltimore conference of the M. E. Church, assisted by Dr. D. W. Justice, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Baldwin, Kan.

Milton Sinclair King.

Funeral services for Mr. Milton S. King, of 1732 West Fayette street, Baltimore, who died suddenly on Saturday last, were held from the funeral parlors of Harry H. Witzke on Tuesday at 2 p. m. The services were conducted by Rev. Marritt Earl, pastor of Union Square M. E Church, of which the deceased was a member, and Rev. J. W. H. Beale, pastor of Homestead M. E. Churc. Burial was in Loudon Park.

Mr. King is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eva May King, one son, Mr. Boyd King, of New York, one daughter, Mrs Iris J. O'Neil, of Cincinaati, and two grandchildren, Marie King, of Collingsdale, Pa., and Mary Iris O'Neil, of Cincinnati, and four brothers and one sister, all of Baltimore

Mr. King, a resident and merchant in Calvert county for many years, was born at Huntingtown. He was 67 years old. His many friends morn his loss.

A New Banking System.

Little five-year-old Betsy Briscoe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Everard Briscoe, of Prince Frederick, on Monday evening at her home gave a fair example of saving up for a rainy day. Dr. Briscoe had given a few coins to each of his three children and Betsy's portion was two nickels. Suddenly the family found that the daughter of the house was choking. They supposed the cause of the trouble was nothing more than a crumb, for, after a little pat on the back, she was quite all right again, but at once she meekly announced "I've swallowed 'em both"—meaning the two nickels. Betsy is probably a little skeptical about the value of her banking system, but anyhow her physical condition is apparently no worse for it.

Teachees' Meetiug.

The winter meeting of the Calvert County Teachers' Association was held Wednesday night last at the Calvert County High school. In addition to routine business, reports were given by the delegates to the State Teachers' Association, held recently in Baltimore.

A rising vote of thanks was given the members of the committee which has been working on the salary restoration program for the past two years. A resolution was passed, asking Mr Willis H. White, president of the association, to assume full responsibility for directing the activities of the teachers in their efforts to have their salaries restored to the 1932 scale. Letters are being sent to Governor Nice and to members of the county delagation in the Legislature, asking their support in this matter. Many of the teachers with six years of experience are getting less pay today than they were during their first year of teaching, it was pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Swann, of Owings, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Fowler Swann, to Mr. Curtis M. Pippen, of Baltimore The wedding took place on December 31, 1936, at Towson, Md The ceremony was performed by Rev. George T. MacDorman, of the Methodist Protestant church, Towson.

The only attendants were Miss Estelle Lemmon and Mr. Joseph T. Barrow, friends of the couple.

The bride was attired in a suit of black velvet, with white blouse and gloves and wore a corsage of white rose buds and maiden hair fern. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph left for a short wedding trip to Philadelphia, and are now living at 603 West 39th street, Baltimore.

Notice to Auto Drivers.

Mr. Walter R. Rudy, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, has released a statement that beginning January 25th, all motor vehicle operators who are convicted on the charge of failing to obey traffic signals, failing to stop at boule'vd signs, speeding and reckless driving will have their operating licenses suspended The minimum suspension for the first offense will be five days; longer periods for habitual offenders will be left to his discretion. It is the opinion of Mr. Rudy that someting drastic must be done to cope with the appalling increase in both fatal and other automobile accidents.

This ruling will be in effect in Baltimore city and all counties throughout the State of Maryland as long as the Commissioner deems it necessary.

(Communicated.)

Mr. Editor: The letter appearing in your last issue concerning the poor stripping, packing and sampling of Maryland tobacco, puts more blame on the grower than he deserves.

The letter from Holland had nothing to say about the stripping or packing. It only complained of the badly drawn samples. The grower has nothing to do with the sampling of his tobacco crop. The sampling is done by two politicians, who in most cases, know nothing and care less, about sampling tobacco. One is sampling in competition with the other. The one who gives the best sample gets the most business. Competitive sampling and competitive selling will never get us out of this trouble.

The letter from Belgium finds the main fault lies with the grower who packs the tobacco. If we could get an act passed that would require all Maryland tobacco to be sampled by one sampler, the competition in sampling would be eliminated. Under that plan, if tobacco was badly stripped and packed, the sample would show it, thereby safeguarding the buyer. Right here is where grading would help, as this is the best guarantee the buyer could get. But the buyer said no, we don't want Maryland tobacco graded So that leaves the grower in a state of confusion. We offered to guarantee a straiget pack and the buyer would not have it.

The domestic situation—I am sure there are many hogsheads of tobocco opened at the factory that do not run true to the samples they were bought by. That is of course due to over sampling. This is one side of the question. Lets take a look at the other side. In 1934 our crop was poor, yet the cigarette grade sold at from 40 to 55 cents per pound. In 1935 we had a very much better crop and no cigarette grade sold above 40 cents—a reduction of around 15 cents per pound. It seems to me that this reduction would certainly reimburse the buyer for any bad stripping or packing about which he may have cause to complain. Of the estimated 55,000 hogsheads sold in 1936, I would say 35 000 hogsheads were cigarette type. Well, a reduction of 15 cents per pound on 35,000 hogsheads amounts to quite a snug sum. But still, the tobacco dealer does not notice small things like that. We simply took a licking to the tune of 15 dollars on each 100 pounds of our better grades in 1936 and some of the dealers report we had a very satisfactory market.

In conclusion, I want to say I do not wish to antagonize either seller or buyer. I hope I have brought out some points that may have been overlooked by all parties concerned.

Respectfully,
T. NEWTON GIBSON,
A tobacco grower for the past 35 years.
Huntingtown, Md.

Church, Baltimore, when Miss Elsie Estelle Pardoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pardoe, of Wallville, this county, became the bride of Mr. Charles Kliensmith, of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Melvin and was witnessed by members of the families of the young couple. The bride wore a brown suit, with matching accessories and wore a corsage of sweet peas. After the cremony, a reception was given in their honor at the home of the groom.

New Lighting, Even Bubbles in Color To Beautify Fair

NEW YORK, (Special).—None of the scientific discoveries or developments being hurried from the laboratories to make the New York World's Fair unusual and thrilling will produce more startling results than the latest technique in illumination.

This statement was issued by Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, at the inauguration of experiments by the Fair's staff of engineers and illumination experts and their consultants. These men are already at work with quarter-inch scale models of the Fair, types of lighting equipment never before used in comprehensive manner, and utterly new principles never developed practically. They are dealing with everything from fluorescent dies and colored bubbles to concentrating lamps and floodlight systems.

The plan is not to create spectacular effects in the usual sense of the term, says Mr. Whalen, but rather to create designs in light that will make their appeal through their magnitude and their sheer beauty.

IN MEMORIAM.

CHASE.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, RACHEL A. CHASE, who departed this life four years ago—Jan. 14, 1933.

Our hearts cannot tell what to say,

In a home that is loneson e today.

By her loving daughters.
