Miss Grace Moffat Stuart, to Mr. William Shemwell Parran, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Parran, of Prince Frederick, on Wednesday, February 3rd, at 4.30 o'clock, at 3900 P street, Washington.

Successful Youth Conference.

The mid-winter Youth Conference held in Prince Frederick under the auspices of the Calvert County Youth Council was a pronounced success. Both in attendance and in number of churches represented the conference was the largest occasion of its kind ever held in county. Sixty-six young people attended as delegates from fifteen churches Enthusiasm and active participation characterized the conference from start to finish.

The conference opened at 10 a. m. with a devotional service led by Miss Virginia Norfolk and addressed by Rev. Durrie B. Hardin. A similar service at 2 p. m. was led by Mrs. Edward Daniels, with Rev. John C. Millian, director of religious education of the Baltimore conference of the M. E. Church, giving a brief address. The major portion of the time—morning and afternoon—was devoted to three discussion groups which met simultaneously, as follows: "Personal Religious Education," led by Rev. C. E. Kirby; "A Constructive Use of Leisure Time," led by Rev. G. Custer Cromwell, of Baltimore, and "Building for World Peace," led by Rev. S. Paul Schilling. The conference closed with an evening service at St. Paul's P. E. Church. A devotional service was led by Mrs. Alonza Young and addressed by Mr. Millian, followed by a brief but impressive service of consecration.

Ample fun for all was provided by the hour of group games in the late afternoon and the group singing around the banquet tables, both activities being led by Mr. Cromwell. At the banquet Miss Alice Harrison played several piano selections and Miss Ellen Hance gave a reading.

One high point of the conference was the unanimous passage of a resolution urging "the President and Congress to secure the enactment of neutrality legislation laying mandatory embargoes on arms, munitions and materials essential for war purposes," as a means of keeping the United States out of war. The resolution is being sent to President Roosevelt, Senators Tydings and Radcliffe and Representative Gambrill.

Registrar of the conference was Miss Dorothy Ordwein, secretary of the Council. Dr. Schilling, president of the Youth Council, served as chairman. The program committee, in addition to the above, included Misses Genevieve Anderson and Louise Norfolk and Mr. Owen Grover.

Coad is Elected President of County Trust Company.

State Senator J. Allan Coad, of Leonardtown, was on Wednesday last elected president of County Trust company of Maryland and the county corporation of Maryland with their nineteen banks on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland. The board of directors of the two institutions unanimously elected Coad at a meeting in Annapolis to succeed State Treasurer Hooper S. Miles, who announced at the recent meeting of stockholders in cambridge he was resigning.

Senator Coad, who is chairman of the Finance committee and majority floor leader of the Senate, will assume his new duties as president of the two concerns after adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly. He will devote his full time to the work as the companies' president after the Legislature adjournment. He has been a member of the Legislature for 17 years and a prominent figure in State politics.

Help The Relief Fund.

The Calvert County Chapter of the American Red Cross, co-operating with the National organization, is making a drive for funds for the relief of the sufferers in the flood area in the middle West, and is asking all of our people to contribute whatever they can in this fire emergency. Those who can and wish to contribute, can get in touch either with Mrs. Everard Priscoe or Mrs. George M. Boyd, who will receive the contributions and pass them on.

We in Calvert, who are so blessed in the respect that we are seldom visited by even similar minior disasters, must and assuredly do sympathize with those less fortunate, and here is the opportunity for us to show our sympathy in some substantial manner. With over 750,000 people homeless in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Missouri and Pennsylvania, about 150 dead, a mounting toll of sick and dying and property damage totaling $300,000,000 in those States, the situation is appalling. Everyone should give, wherever possible, and cheerfully.

Meeting of Homemaker's Club.

The monthly meeting of the Prince Frederick Homemaker's Club was held last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Durrie Hardin. The election of officers took place and the following were elected to serve for a year: Mrs. Samuel Young, president; Mrs. Durrie Hardin, vice-president; Mrs. Allen Dorsey, secretary, and Mrs. T. O. Tongue, treasurer.

Miss Feiser gave a very interesting and instructive talk on pictures, arrangements and choice. She showed many lovely types of beautiful grouping and arranging. Mrs. Allen Dorsey gave a very fine talk on the pictures to be used and selected for a child's room.

The hostess served refreshments, after which the meeting adjourned.

P. T. A. Association Formed.

About two hundred and fifty persons were present Tuesday night at the Calvert County High school, when a Parent-Teachers Association was formed for that school and the following officers elected:

President, Mrs. Robert Meade, of North Beach; vice-president, Calvert C. Backler, Huntingtown; corresponding secretary, Miss Dorothy Ordwein, of Prince Frederick, recording secretary, Mrs. T. Gordon Bennett, of Lusby; treasurer, Miss Frances I. Grover, of Prince Frederick.

Willis H White, principal of the school, presided at the meeting. A dramatic sketch was presented by members of the senior class English section, and seven numbers were given by the school glee club of fifty boys and girls, under the direction of Miss Gruver and Miss Mary Warren, of the faculty.

Calvert County School Superintendent Harry R. Haghes gave an address on "The Educational Situation in Calvert County" in which he emphasized the need of more space in both the high and elementary schools in Prince Frederick. The Calvert County High School is, he said, practically the only school of comparable size in the State without auditorium facilities.

Banquet Makes a Hit.

The first annual banquet of the Calvert County Farm Bureau was held Thursday evening of last week in the hall at Huntingtown. The program committee of the Farm Bureau was composee of Messrs. Calvert C. Buckler, Roland H. Trott and Carrow T. Prout, who were in charge. A fine turkey dinner was served, after which speaking and entertainment was enjoyed by the large crowd present. It was one of the finest social affairs ever held in the county. Mr. Thomas Parran acted as toastmaster and entertained the crowd in fine style. Brief talks were made by County Agent, J. B. Morsell, H. H. Nuttle, president Maryland Farm Bureau; Mrs. Sporline, of Carroll county and George Sachse, manager Maryland Tobacco Growers' Association. Commander Slaton, of Annapolis, entertained with a very fine selection of magicine stunts. Following the banquet program a very delightful dance was held, which was enjoyed by all.

Recommendations on Prison Idleness.

Four major recommendations toward solution of Maryland's problem of prison idleness was contained in the report of the Maryland Commission on Prison Labor to the General Assembly, says the Baltimore Sun of recent date. They are:

Enactment of a law establishing a State-use system of prison industries and a revolving fund with which to develop it.

Authorization of a bond issue of $2,302,500 for prison construction and equipment.

Development of probation and parole to reduce overcrowding and idleness in penal institutions.

Adoption of the policy of using prison labor in road building in Maryland.

The commission also recommended that a law be enacted to provide "time allowance" for inmates showing exceptional industry, skill and application to their duties in order that they might apply themselves more diligently to the newly created industries. A further recommendation was for establishment of an adquate penal library service as an aid in vocational and general educational facilities at an annual cost of $4,000. The major item in the commendes construction and equipment program was $1,200,000 for the completion of the State penal farm at Roxbury, which is housing 900 to 1,000 prisoners.

The other $902,500 would be spent as fcllows:

Construction of a separate women's prison at the House of Correction, distinct from the men's institution, $250,000.

Remodeling the present women's quarters at the House of Correction to provide a receiving and classification unit, $250,000.

"Absolutely necessary" improvements to the Penitentiary, $200,000.

Industrial equipment for State-use industries at the Penitentiary, House of Correction and State Penal Farm, construction and equipment of road camps. Revolving fund to carry on industries, $402,500.

No specific recommendations were made as to what industries should be set up in the prisons. The commission pointed out, however, that any attempt to manufacture goods for the use of State institutions would mean that the industries chosen would be highly diversified in nature. It also dwelt on the necessity of establishing a system of classification to determine the needs and aptitudes of the individual prisoners and the types of work they could perform to advantage.

Note of Thanks.

The directors of the Calvert County Farm Bureau wish to express their sincere appreciattion to the ladies of Calvert county, who assisted with the banquet held on January 21st. The directors feel that no little part of the success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of the ladies and high school girls, who gave their time so generously on the occasion. It was a fine demonstration of cooperation and ability, particularly of Huntingtown folks, to work together.

J. B. MORSELL, Sec't'y,
Calvert County Farm Bureau.

Food Market Advice.

Liberal supplies of many vegetables are in market at very moderate prices in spite of the California freeze which seriously affected supplies from that state. From Florida, Texas and the West Indies are coming green and lima beans, beets, peas, peppers, squash and tomatoes as well as new potatoes. Turnips and onions are also plentiful and cheap. Mushrooms and salad greens, with the exception of iceberg lettuc, are abundant and relatively inexpensive.

Egg production has been unusually large for the season and prices are low. Take advantage of them for luncheon and supper dishes and use them liberally in cooking, for the value is exceptional and severe weather may at any time reduce production and raise prices again. High feed prices may also shorten their season of plenty. Butter prices, too, are somewhat lower.

Lamb continues to be the best meat value. When varied with less expensive cuts of beef and pork and with poultry it can be the mainstay of several dinners a week. Poultry, with the exception of fowl, is like lamb, cheaper than last year.

Apples and bananas are reasonably priced and fairly plentiful while oranges and grapefruit are abundant and cheap Winter strawberries are unusually plentiful and cheap for the season. They are sweet and full of flavor as well.

Below is a menue* planned around foods which are plentiful and moderately priced:

Egg and Anchovy Canapes
Fried Chicken Cream Gravy
New potatoes Green beans
Avoncade and grapefruit salad
Bread and Butter
Strawberry Shortcake
Tea or coffee

(Communicated.)

Mr. Editor: An article in your issue of January 16th last, on packging and stripping tobacco, I think, should be answered by as many farmers as there are farmers that can write, as I think this is only a comoflage to cut prices again. I was pleased to read Mr. Newton Gibson's letter and think it was timel, although he should have left the antagonizing part out.

Now I understand that the Leaf Tobacco Association of Baltimore City, is a closed organization. It is so arranged that they absolutely control the market, and buy for the foreign manufacturers. Why don't the farmers Tobacco Growers' Association of Maryland sell direct to the manufacturer? We know that 3, 4 or 5 cent tobacco can not be very much over sampled, for that price should not be paid for tobacco unless it is intended for use in insecticides, and after paying such a price no one should make such a noise as the president of the great Leaf Tobacco Association of Baltimore city has made.

What should be done is to have the association before the Federal Trade Commission with their books, and see who is making the most out the tobacco of Southern Maryland and who is putting in the most service in the handling of same, including the capital invested to do so, each to receive the same interest on investment. This is what will have to be done before the farmers will be paid a full reward for their effort. If these prices were for only the tips or real 3 and 4 cent tobacco, there could be no complaint on the part of the grower. But I have had some and have seen samples of other growers that I consider an out rage to be sold so little, both by Association and commission merchant. I think this hits the nail on the head, although I could continue considerably. But will close and wait for a comback. Respectfully,

GEO. H. BOYD.

Paris, Maryland.

ELECTRIC BITTERS
THE BEST FOR BILIOUSNESS AND KIDNEYS

New York . . . One-half of all the telephones in the world are in the United States, which has an average of about fourteen telephones for every 100 of its population. The next highest per capita distribution is in Canada, which has about eleven telephones for every 100 people. Canada has, however, only about three and one-half per cent of the world's total. Europe has thirty-six per cent of the world's telephones, but only two telephones per 100 of population. Denmark has the highest per capita development in Europe, with slightly over ten telephones for every 100 persons.

Manila . . . Merging of the Davao Telephone System with the Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company has made an addition to the telephones available for connection with the Bell System and other telephones throughout the world, according to Trade Commissioner J. Bartlett Richards. The Philippine Long Distance Company operates the only dial system telephones in the islands. With the exception of the Baguio Telephone System, which is owned by the municipal government, all other telephone systems are owned by the provincial government, some of them being very small with less than 100 telephones in operation. Telephone service between the Philippines and the United States was inaugurated March 30, 1933.

Burma . . . Mandalay, Rangoon and other up-country towns of Burma made famous by Sir Rudyard Kipling now have telephone service, according to Vice Consul Lyle C. Himmel of the U. S. Department of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Excellent telephone service is reported by the new lines recently placed in operation and the Posts and Telegraph Department of the government is contemplating an extension of service to other Burma cities and towns in the near future.

Athens . . . The inauguration of dial telephones has revolutionized the development of the telephone system throughout Greece. At the close of 1935 there were 22,000 telephones in operation as compared with 9,000 at the end of 1931. All but 2,000 of the telephones in service at the latter date were dial operated. Greece is one of the few countries of the world that is not connected by telephone with the Bell System.

Evanston, Ill. . . . Mrs. Harold Green probably owes her life to the telephone in her home. She was overcome by gas fumes from a leaking pipe in the heating system recently, according to the Associated Press. Mrs. Green staggered to the telephone and called "Help" and then collapsed. Her parrot flew to the telephone and repeated the cry "Help." The operator heard the bird and notified the rescue squad, which revived Mrs. Green.

Washington, D. C. . . . Telephone service with El Salvador, Central America, was opened recently with an exchange of greetings between Secretary of State Cordell Hull at Washington and Dr. Miguel A. Araujo, minister of foreign relations for El Salvador, at San Salvador. All Bell and Bell connecting telephones are now available for this service. El Salvador is the most densely populated country in the Western Hemisphere, having about 1,670,000 people in an area of 13,000 square miles.
