Jones Tried for Mu...

Wilson Jones, Jr., indicted by the Grand Jury for the murder of Mrs. Margaret Combs Morris on June 26th last, was tried before a jury on Thursday of last week at the November term of the Circuit Court, and convicted of murder in the second degree, State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell prosecuted the case, and John B. Gray, Jr., was counsel for Jones. The defense sought to prove that the accused was mentally unbalanced at the time of the attack, and testimony from Dr. Irving J. Speer, alienist, from the University of Maryland, bore out this condition, but the opinion of Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, of Baltimore, alienist for the State, was to the contrary. The jury of which J. Daniel Lyons was foreman brought in a verdict, after deliberation of about two and a half hours, of murder in the second degree, and that the accused was sane at the time of the murder and is sane now. On Friday the Court, with Associate Judges William Meverall Loker and Joseph C. Mattingley on the bench, sentenced Jones to imprisonment for twelve years in the Maryland Penitentiary. Judge Mattingley pronounced sentence
