By John Barclay
Heating Expert

Rubbish and Garbage Should Not Be Burned in Your Furnace; They Cause Trouble.

I SHOULD like to caution you against burning garbage and rubbish in the heating plant of your home. Many home-owners are given to this practice, knowing it is a quick and easy way to dispose of garbage, but not realizing fully that it is very harmful to the furnace.

Your furnace was built to burn coal, and coal only. Garbage and rubbish, when burned in it, deposit a thick crust of soot on the burning surfaces, and this soot absorbs much of the heat that should go into your rooms. They also form clinkers which, as you know, cause no end of trouble for you in keeping your fire burning efficiently.

Don't burn rubbish or garbage in furnace. They cause heavy soot to cake on surfaces and waste heat and also cause clinkers to form. Keep the ashpit clean.

Remember this: A clean furnace, like a clean automobile engine, will give better service and greater comfort.

Rare Book

There are estimated to be only about 45 Gutenberg Bibles in the world and in 1884 one sold for $15,000. At that time, many of the books were privately owned. Today, with most of the Bibles permanently retired to museums and thus off the market, the price should be higher.

The Gutenberg Bible is valuable not for its scarcity alone. It is a curiosity because authorities aren't even sure Johann Gutenberg printed it. In fact, some experts claim the Fifteenth century German wasn't a printer at all!—Washington Post.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

'Twixt Pan and Palate

By MARTHA SAMPSON

THAT Ma Hadford had been the best cook the world had ever known was the sincere belief of her son Bert. Not only was it his belief, but he did his level best to make everyone else think so. The whole town of Bradford had long ago heard the wonder of her compositions extolled in his tempting and luxuriant adjectives. That anyone should for a moment doubt them was a challenge to war.

SHORT SHORT STORY

Bert's newly taken wife, being from another town, had yet to hear of this strange person who so long ago had joined the almost mythical characters of history. That she should express doubts was sufficient to rouse his deepest ire and to strain domestic conditions to such an extent that her amateurish cooking, for a time, was forgotten.

However, this little trouble was soon lost in the tide of married life and his wife began to take his suggestions and rebukes with absolute submission. It was his belief that everything he said about her cooking was but his mother's voice speaking through him and was to be taken as law. A harsh complaint would often bring tears to her eyes, but he, feeling a sincere love for her, would comfort her and promise to be patient.

One morning, after finishing his cup of coffee and laying his paper aside, he said: "You know what I'd like for supper tonight?"

"What?" she asked, eager to serve and to please.

"Ah," he said. "'Tis only a dream. There is no one that could make it—an apple pie—the kind my mother used to make." He was off again. "One with the finest of tinge to its crust—so tempting: with apples superbly smooth; with a flavor that is the result of years of study and labor; with that faint, almost alluring taste of cinnamon, and with that aroma that was but the blessing of my younger years to enjoy."

A longing and wistfulness had stolen into his eyes, and May felt a stirring desire to create this wonderful pie that so bound the man.

Bert was about to leave, when he kissed her and whispered into her ear, "Don't worry about the pie."

She had little time to think about it in the morning, as she was kept busy by her innumerable tasks, but with the afternoon and leisure moments the idea came back to her, and she was seized by a mighty ambition to create that pie and make him the most surprised and the happiest man on earth.

Trembling with hope, she found the recipe in the cook book, and read it. So far so good! It sounded very simple. Book in hand, she mixed the dough for crust; laid the bottom; sliced the apples, and filled them in; sugared and sprinkled with cinnamon; and slit, laid, and trimmed her top crust.

Impatiently she watched the time. The minutes became hours of agony. Now filled with exalted hope—now dashed by foreboding doubts. Her mind had become a frenzied chaos.

At last the marked time came. Eagerly she opened the door. A puff of oven odors came to her. 'Twas a heavenly aroma that carried her far beyond the kitchen. For a few moments she hesitated, a prayer on her lips. Then she lifted the enigmatic creation from its rest. Her eye was caught by the most beautiful tinge of crust that ever crowned an apple pie!

Bert came home right on time. May had worked herself into such a frenzy by this time that she could hardly restrain from trembling when he kissed her. Through the early part of the meal Bert spoke haphazardly about some trouble at the office, but May heard very little of it, for her mind was on things of a more agreeable nature.

At last came the favored moment. Proud and flushed, she bore the prize on high. Bert rose in tribute. "A pie of my mother's, by George!"

He took the pie and knife and sat down. The knife bit through the top crust, and slipped through the apples. With the bottom it met difficulty. It stuck. Bert, surprised, pressed heavily and cut two generous pieces. May's face fell to a gloomy scowl, and cheerlessly she accepted her piece and waited for Bert to try it.

He took a generous bite. She heard an apple crunch. The last of her hopes faded. Then he made a wry face. She rose. Her eyes were very sad and her shoulders stooped wearily.

"For goodness' sake, didn't you put any sugar in this? If my mother—" But May had flown.

Bert found her on the divan, face buried, weeping convulsively.

"I'm sorry," he said, and brought her to a sitting position. "It was my fault. I forgot myself. Anyway, you must remember it takes time to discover that mysterious art that takes place 'twixt the pan and the palate—one's not born with it."

May raised her tear-streaked face, mutely imploring for hope and sympathy.

"And remember," he said very confidentially, "Mother never told of her first pie!"

Caligula Bath

Bearing the commemorative medal which states that the foundation stone was laid by the Emperor Caligula, a Roman bath is located at Plombieres, France. It was built sometime between 37 and 41 A. D., the years of this ruler's reign. Resting on a bed of a material resembling cement, the bath is lined with blocks of polished stone.

AROUND THE HOUSE

In Making Vegetable Salads.—To prevent vegetable salads from becoming too watery, dry the vegetables before combining with the salad dressing.

When Washing Blankets: Never leave any soap in blankets as this will turn them yellow. Allow half a cupful of vinegar to each gallon of final rinsing water; this will clear all soap from them.

Washing Voile.—Voile frocks will not shrink if you use a tablespoonful of epsom salts to every gallon of water when washing them.

Wipe Up Acid Foods.—Since some enamels lose their luster when they come in contact with acid, always be careful to wipe up, immediately, any vinegar, lemon juice, tomato, or other acid food that is spilled on the enamel of your range.

To Wash Velour Curtains.—Did you know that curtains and table covers of heavy velvet-finished furnishing velour can be washed? The trick is never to wring them—just douse them in warm soapy water, then in clear water and hang out dripping wet to dry.

For Dry Shoe Polish.—Shoe polish which has become hard and dry should be moistened with a little vinegar.

Savory Salmon Dish.—Turn out a small tin of salmon, remove skin and bones and flake the fish. Season with pepper and salt. Mix 2 cupfuls of breadcrumbs with 2 ounces of flour, stir in 2 well-beaten eggs and the salmon. Mix well, then form into the shape of a fresh salmon steak. Fry in a little hot fat until brown, turning carefully so that both sides are cooked. Serve garnished with sliced lemon or tomatoes.

Advertising Reduced Cost

A third of a century ago the price of the cheapest automobile was about $5,000. Today a much better car can be bought for around $700. Advertising created demand, demand created mass production, with many times the number of jobs, and mass production improved the quality and reduced the price.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?

YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unsympathetic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it.

When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Constipated? Don't Let Gas, Nerve Pressure Keep You Miserable

When you are constipated two things happen. FIRST: Wastes swell up the bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. This nerve pressure causes headaches, a dull, lazy feeling, bilious spells, loss of appetite and dizziness. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay forming GAS, bringing on sour stomach (acid indigestion), and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath.

Then you spend many miserable days. You can't eat. You can't sleep. Your stomach is sour. You feel tired out, grouchy and miserable.

To get the complete relief you seek you must do TWO things. 1. You must relieve the GAS. 2. You must clear the bowels and GET THAT PRESSURE OFF THE NERVES. As soon as offending wastes are washed out you feel marvelously refreshed, blues vanish, the world looks bright again.

There is only one product on the market that gives you the DOUBLE ACTION you need. It is ADLERIKA. This efficient carminative cathartic relieves that awful GAS at once. It often removes bowel congestion in half an hour. No waiting for overnight relief. Adlerika acts on the stomach and both bowels. Ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only.

Adlerika has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. No griping, no after effects. Just QUICK results. Try Adlerika today. You'll say you have never used such an efficient intestinal cleanser.

Suede Combines Smartly With Knit

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IMPORTANT news—knit and suede have formed a partnership! If it's fashion thrills you are seeking just make a visit to the nearest display of late fall and winter knitwear fashions and see how smartly knit and suede are carrying on in their new alliance.

If you are interested in knitted apparel, and of course you are, for every woman is sensing more and more that knitted clothes not only serve most faithfully, but when it comes to "style" it's all there and—well, as we were saying, if you are interested in knitted apparel just wait before buying until you see the magic worked in the new outfits via the added touch of suede either in an accessory way such as gloves, belts, handbags, hats and shoes or by working the suede in as an integral part of the costume.

See the stunning two-piece to the left in the picture. It demonstrates perfectly how skilfully designers are using suede with knit. The knitted fabric for this model is appropriately called "huntress tweed." The modern Diana will certainly "dress to the part" in this striking twosome. Describing the knitted material that fashions it, there are solid colored cotton nubs splattered throughout a vertical rib stitch. The jacket front is of soft suede in a contrasting color and a zipper closure. The silk scarf matches the tailored suede belt in color, and the little skull cap worn snugly at the back of the head is of the same knitted material as the skirt.

As to the costume centered in the group, all the way from Tibet comes the fine soft cashmere wool so emphatically in vogue in knitted sportswear this season. Being well styled, this cashmere knitted dress will prove chic and comfortable at outdoor sports at the same time that it underwrites a promise of being well-dressed at afternoon functions. There are suede accents with gold eyelets and a suede belt with a gold buckle. The skirt is four-gored and flares gracefully.

Cashmere does service to smartness, comfort and sports style in the two-piece knitted dress shown to the right. There is a shirred yoke effect in the front part of the blouse, mounted by a neckline drawn up and bowed with a grosgrain ribbon in peasant fashion. The belt is suede. The wide hip-band emphasizes the youthful silhouette and is surmounted by novelty pockets posed on the diagonal.

Which reminds us, the pocket theme is an important one. Watch the newest little jackets and see how decoratively and amusingly they are being pocketed this season. Furthermore, advance news is to the effect that designers are going to continue to "say it" for the new spring fashions in terms of novel and numerous pockets.

If you are assembling a suede accessory ensemble, look up the smart new belts made of cutout leaves in multi colors riveted together with metal eyelets. They tone up the simplest knit dress to perfection.

Another way to carry out a successful partnership of suede with knit is to top the knitted dress with a knee-length somewhat flaring coat of bright suede. This type costume is proving a campus favorite. Also to wear about town there's nothing swankier.

As to sweaters and twin sets (some of the latter top the knit pull-on blouse with a cunning knit bolero instead of the usual sweater jacket) they yield to the new embellishment of suede most gaily.

IN BLACK AND GOLD

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Black and gold, black and gold! Style creators and designers are singing the refrain in clarion tones while the vast throng of fashion followers join in a mighty chorus that resounds throughout the fall and winter mode. With the season's highlight of black and gold in mind, Madame Jolles of Vienna, noted for handbags, especially exquisite petit point as well as other media, designs the elegant bag which you see in the picture of black antelope with an imported dome-shaped gold frame and a circular center lock topped with a ruby red stone.

Corsage for Youth

Floral gifts are appreciated in different ways. A young person will usually like best an arrangement or corsage, while an older person is likely to prefer a plant.

FASHION RUNS WILD IN USE OF FLOWERS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It all started back in the days of the Restoration, when ladies tied beguiling bonnets underneath their chins, with flowers tucked at the brim to complete the picture of feminine charm.

Now the designers are giving us bonnets, flowers and femininity, based on Restoration styles. And we're using flowers where we never thought of using them before: nosegays pinned to chiffon handkerchiefs, violets on a black suede glove, velvet neck-bands finished with forget-me-nots, flower jewelry, and flower polishes for fingertips.

It's all part of the back-to-femininity movement, which started the cropping up of flowers and the softened, subtle nail polish shades that make the hands look really feminine. It's especially smart to match up your polish to the flower you wear—clover polish with a silver-violet flower in your hair, tulip with a brilliant tulip pinned to your black gown, thistle with a bunch of faun-colored thistles on the lapel of your brown fur coat.

Wear All the Jewels You Wish and Be in Fashion

From Paris comes report of an unrestricted use of jeweled gold and silver belts, huge clips, jeweled buttons and brilliant sequins and other amazing jewels, in way of necklaces, bracelets, rings and innumerable individual brooches, flower sprays, bow knots and such, bringing back 1900, 1860 and the Eighteenth century luxury display that characterized the modes of those periods.

Luxury Motif

Lame combined with furs and rich fabrics makes handsome evening costumes at the leading Paris fashion houses.

What Women Want to Know About Fashions

Starched, crocheted lace is back in style.

Beige is now an important decorative color.

Costumes glitter day and night with sequins.

Lelong uses leopard heads as pockets on a fur jacket.

Braid of silk or mohair trims afternoon suits and dresses in the Molyneux winter collection.

Double-breasted sports coats with high revers are featured for autumn by Paris houses.

Marcel Rochas shows a Persian lamb bolero with large, full length sleeves for wear with a black velvet dress.

Exquisitely fine zibelines and zibelined broadcloths (a new description coined this season) make coats for winter formal wear.

Are Women Better Shoppers than Men?

GRANTING a woman's reputation for wise buying, let's trace the methods by which she has earned it. Where does she find out about the advantages and details of electrical refrigeration? What tells her how to keep the whole household clean — rugs, floors, bathroom tiling — and have energy left over for golf and parties? How does she learn about new and delicious entrees and desserts that surprise and delight her family? Where does she discover those subtleties of dress and make-up that a man appreciates but never understands?

Why, she reads the advertisements. She is a consistent, thoughtful reader of advertisements, because she has found that she can believe them—and profit thereby. Overlooking the advertisements would be depriving herself of data continuously useful in her job of Purchasing Agent to the Family.

For that matter, watch a wise man buy a car or a suit or an insurance policy. Not a bad shopper himself! He reads advertisements, too!
