The mice of Calvert county have had a narrow escape. A kitten born to a cat owned by the family of Gams Ward en Thomas I. Weems recently had two perfectly formed bodies joined to one head. With two tails to switch and eight legs to run on, it would undoubtedly have scattered confusion among its natural prey had it reached maturity. But it was dead at birth.

Rev. Mr. Kirby reports having married a couple last week with the groom from West Virginia, the bride from Pennsylvania. They were married in Maryland by a minister who came here from Virginia, and they left for New Jersey in a car with District of Columbia tags. The groom was a United Brethern communicant, the bride an Episcopalian, and the officiating clergyman a Southern Methodist. A little bit of a mix-up, we would say.

Music lovers of the county will be afforded another unusual opportunity on Saturday, May 7, when the widely known choir of First Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, will give a concert of sacred and secular music in the Town Hall at Prince Frederick. The choir, which is composed of 28 voices, is directed by Earl Evans, minister of music at First Church. Its work in recent years has won acclaim. The concert here will be under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Societies of Calvert Circuit M. E. Churches. Reserved seat tickets will go on sale on Thursday, April 28.

General Conference to Meet.

The General Conference, the quadrennial legislative body of Southern Methodism, will convene in Birmingham, Alabama, on April 28th, and remain in session until all business for the ensuing four years has been provided for following recommendations of the general boards and annual conferences.

The chief interest lies in the vote on Methodist Union. This is expected to be the final vote on the matter and all leaders are confident unification will be approved. At the same time a strong opposition has developed since the annual conferences voted for it, this opposition being a layman's movement which demands each local congregation be given a vote. Just how strong is this opposition cannot be known until the Conference meets.

It is expected that six new bishops will be elected. The present active bishops are John M. Moore, U. V. W. Darlington, W. N. Ainsworth, James Cannon, Jr., S. R. Hay, H. M. Dobbs, H. A. Boaz, Arthur J. Moore, Paul B. Kern and A. Frank Smith. Bishops Ainsworth and Cannon are expected to be retired by age.

The probability that this will be the last General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, is focusing great interest in its proceedings.

The manor house stood near the graves, and some of the original bricks from its foundation are being used as a foundation for the tablet.

Little Mary Anne Brooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brooke, of Upper Marlboro, will place a wreath of flowers beside the tablet.
