Tests Prove the Power of Food

Demonstrate a Vitamin-Rich Diet Is Vital to Health

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

MANKIND owes many things to the animals which have been used as test subjects in laboratories all over the world. As doctors and scientists have waged their war against disease, as they have made great strides forward in the study of foods and nutrition, they have carried on many of their experiments with rats.

The rats pictured here dramatically illustrate the power of food to influence growth. Although these two rats are exactly the same age, the weight of one is twice that of his brother. Where one animal is puny and underdeveloped, the second is fat and sleek and full of vitality.

What has produced such a difference in weight and general physical well-being? Merely a slight difference in diet. The two rats have lived under identically the same conditions, but the smaller animal on the left has received food lacking in sufficient vitamins, while the other rat has been fed the same diet, reinforced with vitamins.

If a well-balanced food ration is vital to the health of animals, how much more vital it must be for human beings. Surely the lesson is plain to see. If a mother wants her children to thrive she must feed them adequately. The child who is receiving a diet lacking in vitamins has no chance to grow and develop properly. Nor will the adult on a deficient diet attain or maintain optimum health.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To plan a diet wisely, to recognize the foods rich in important food elements, we must learn to utilize the discoveries of science. We must keep abreast of the newer knowledge of nutrition as it is presented by wise, unbiased interpreters such as C. Houston Goudiss, nationally known food authority, who each week offers his "What to Eat and Why" column in this newspaper. In this column Mr. Goudiss translates the latest developments into simple, non-technical language. By following his articles regularly, it is easy to keep in step with the most up-to-date findings of nutritional science.

THE GREATEST LABOR SAVER AND FARM HOME CAN HAVE

"I PRIZE my Superfex above anything else in our home." That's what users say. And no wonder. We are enthusiastic about these refrigerators, too, and so will you be when you see what one will do in your kitchen, especially if you live far from town, where the need for refrigeration is much greater than in city homes, with food markets just around the corner.

Cheapest to Run

No matter where you live, Superfex is one modern convenience you can have. It works ANYWHERE and it costs less to run it than any other refrigerator we ever heard of. There's no continuous flame. The burners do 24 hours' work in about two hours and then go out automatically. And the kerosene for a whole year costs only about $10—less than $1.00 a month.

Superfex is made by the Perfection Stove Company, and we know what that means, and so does everybody who has ever used any of the oil stoves they've been making for almost 50 years. They began making these refrigerators ten years ago, and when we found out that many of them have been in use right at the equator we figured that they must be pretty good and free from trouble. And that's a fact, they're wonderful refrigerators. They have no outside connections and no moving parts to wear or get out of order.

How It Saves

Think of these advantages—not so many trips to markets, better meals, saves thousands of steps daily, no wasted left-overs, meats kept cold and fresh for days, ice cubes and delicious frozen deserts. Superfex is a convenience that "pays for its keep."

SAVE WITH KEROSENE

Just send us a postcard or telephone us. We will be glad to give you a demonstration in your kitchen.
