Death From Automobile Accident

Hazlewood, 31, of 417 7th street, Northeast Washington, died at the Calvert County Hospital about 3 o'clock on Thursday morning from injuries received the ev-ning before when the car he was driving and the truck owned by Gordon E. Jones, of Island Creek, came in collision on the State highway at Hunting Creek bridge. Claude Hance, of Prince Frederick, passing at the time, brought De injured to the Hospital. Drs. Everard Briscoe and Page C. Jett found it nec-sary to amputate Hazelwood's left arm at 10 o'clock Wednesday night. His death was caused by shock and other injuries.

On Thursday morning a jury of inquest, ordered by State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell, was held before Justice William W. Lyke, acting coroner, with Charles H Alton as foreman, who rendered a verdict that Hazelwood came to his death as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident, which accident was caused by the reckless driving of the said William L. Hazelwood." The testimony at the inquest developed among other facts that Gordon E. Jones, the driver of the truck, was well to his side of the road, and observing the proper degree of caution.

Careless Carriers.

Are you planning for your vacation? Looking up routes, places, camps, getting your outfit in order? If y u are, you will be interested in what Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, advises you to put down as item number one—very important on your list of preparations. Here it is:

"If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last year or two, go to your doctor or the nearest health officer and have him give you the three 'shots' that will protect you against that disease. It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself throughout the system, so it is not wise to wait until just before you start on the trip, to have it done. Begin the treatments without further delay.

"Typhoid fever is less of a menace than it was a number of years ago. But it still is the cause of much unnecessary sickness. You take typhoid fever by way of the mouth. You either eat or drink the germs. You contact the disease through the use of water, milk or other foods that are contaminated by typhoid germs that have been passed by somebody who is ill with the disease or who has had it at some time.

"Protection of public or private water supplies from pollution, pasturization of milk, protection of food supplies from contamination and other sanitary precautions, have reduced the danger from such sources of infection greatly. But there are other sources of danger that are not be reduced by public precautionary measures.

"Some people who have had typhoid continue to pass the germs that cause the disease, long after they have recovered from the illness. Such persons are known as 'carriers.' When such persons are careless in their personal habits—if they fail to wash their hands thoroughly after they have been to the toilet, and always very thoroughly before handling food or preparing it for others to eat—they are likely to leave the typhoid germs on any food they touch. Some of the most serious outbreaks of typhoid that have occurred in recent years have been due to careless carriers.

"There are other sources of the disease that must be considered also. A stream or spring along the roadside may be clear and sparkling but does not mean that the water is free from contamination. Milk may be a source of danger, too. If you are not sure at any time of the purity of your supply, it is always safer to boil milk as well as water before using. Health departments can, and do, safeguard you against sources of infection. Vaccination against the disease is the best protection against other sources.

"Clinics for protection against typhoid are held regularly in many of the counties. Your family doctor or your health officer will make the necessary arrangements for you."

Scaggs—Linder.

The marriage of Mrs. Blanche E. Linder, of Washington, D. C., to Mr. George W. S. Scaggs, of Lower Marlboro, took place on Saturday afternoon last at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John L. Parker, pastor of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church, Bethesda, Md.

The bride was attired in a navy blue chiffon dress, with matching crepe and accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses, lilies of the-valley and baby breath.

After the ceremony, which was attended by a few close relatives, the happy couple, relatives and friends were entertained at a reception given in their h me at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. L. S. Cox, in Washington. The couple will reside at the home of the groom at Lower Marlboro. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Fewer Cows—More Milk.

The total quantity of milk produced on farms in the United States last year is estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at slightly more than 103 billion pounds. Production was about the same in 1936, nearly 2 per cent greater than either 1934 or 1935, but about 14 billion pounds short of the record milk production of 1933.

The average number of milk cows on farms in the United States during 1937 is estimated to have been 25,710,000 head. This was about 1 per cent fewer than in 1936 and about 6 per cent below the peak number in 1934. Milk production per cow in 1937 averaged 4,003 pounds, which was about 1 per cent higher than in 1936 and the highest since 1911.

OBITUARY.

The State Tobacco Warehouse suffered a great loss by the death of John E. Williams, formerly of Charles county, who died May 19th, in Baltimore, at the age of 51 years. He had been employed at the warehouse for the past 15 years and was known to his many friends as "Eddie." Loved by everyone who came in contact with him, he was always eager to help everyone who came into this institution and was known for his many acts of kindness. He also had the esteem of the commission men and buyers on the Baltimore market and at the same time always had the interest of the tobacco shippers at heart. The funeral parlor where he laid was a high bak of flowers, whereby proving that his many host of friends were loyal to him to the end. The employees of the State Tobacco Warehouse join with me in extending to his beloved widow, mother and family their heartfelt sympathy.
