Congress Condems Misuse of Motor Rerenues.

The President last Wednesday, affixed his signature to the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1938 and by so doing released to the various States, sums totaling $357,500,000 for the fiscal year 1940 and 1941.

Congress in preparing the Federal Aid Highway Act did not see fit to change Section 12 of the Act of June 18th, 1934, which Section includes the penalty clause for misuse of motor vehicle revenue, and thus this Section remains in effect. This sect on by Congress is most important to the motorists of Maryland when it is recalled that the Federal Bureau of Public roads, under the authority of Section 12, threatened to reduce by one-third, the Federal appropriation to Maryland highways when the Maryland General Assembly had under consideration the diversion of huge sums of motor vehicle revenue to the general fund.

Section 12 expresses the attitude of Congress against the diversion of motor vehicle revenue in the following language: "Since it is unfair and unjust to tax motor vehicle transportation unless the proceeds of such taxation are applied to construction, improvement or maintenance of highways".

Also of interest to the Maryland motorists is the language of Section 12 which details the proper use of motor vehicle revenue. Included among the uses is the "retirement of bonds for the payment of which such revenues have been pledged." This language is particularly significant to the Maryland motorists because at the present time, these motorists are paying over $2,000,000 in carrying charges on state bonds, for the payment of which the motor vehicle revenue has never been pledged.

650-Year Old Waits Oak Dies.

The great white oak tree standing on Trace Mountain in Wirgo county, West Virginia, near Williamson, claimed by timbermen to be one of the largest of its kind in the world and reputed to be 650 years old, failed to bud so much as a single leaf this spring. According to, after numerous tests, it was declared dead by A. W. Lee, superintendent of the lumber department of the Island Creek Coal Company, of Holden.

The tree is 146 feet tall, and has a girth of 30 feet at the ground. With several branches more than 50 feet long, it is estimated to contain more than 177,000 feet of lumber. Its weight weight is estimated at more than 120,000 pounds.

PROMOTED IN SERVICE OF TELEPHONE COMPANY

J. W. TALBOT

Lloyd M. Griffin, general manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, has just announced the appointment of J. W. Talbot to the position of assistant general manager. Mr. Talbot was formerly general plant manager, in which job he is succeeded by Arthur L. Lanigan.

Mr. Talbot began his telephone career with the Chesapeake and Potomac organization at Alexandria, Va., in 1897. The following year he was transferred to Washington where he served in various capacities in the Plant Department until he came to Baltimore in 1926 as division plant superintendent. In 1929 he was appointed general plant manager in charge of all installation, maintenance and construction forces throughout Maryland. Mr. Talbot directed rehabilitation of the telephone plant on Maryland's Eastern Shore after the storm damage caused by the severe storms of August, 1933. During his administration the new Nenjemoy dial exchange in the lower part of Charles County was installed late in 1937, extending service to the residents of this area who had formerly been without telephones. Although this was the first time an attempt had been made to serve an entire exchange in Maryland through the use of the new buried wire and cable, the installation was successfully completed under Mr. Talbot's supervision. During the last five years, when Western Maryland has been plagued by severe electrical storms, Mr. Talbot's forces have maintained telephone communication under the most trying circumstances.

During his nine years as general plant manager he has seen the number of telephones in the state increase by more than 50,000 and just recently watched one of his wire chiefs install Maryland's quarter millionth telephone. He brings a wealth of experience to the new position of assistant general manager. Mr. Talbot is a member of the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

ARTHUR L. LANIGAN

Mr. Lanigan assumes the position of general plant manager after nine years' experience in the telephone business. Entering the service of the company at Washington in 1916 as a draftsman, he had advanced by promotion to the position of division transmission engineer. Four years later he became associated with the Telephone Company in Virginia where he remained until his transfer to Maryland as general plant supervisor, in which capacity he served until his new appointment as general plant manager.
