It is a matter of regret that sometimes when trucks are carrying trash away from places of business in Prince Frederick, stores, garages, etc., not all of it reaches the dump pile, for, due to the way in which it is packed and placed by the carriers probably, it is while in transit liberally sprinkled along the highway, boxes, big and little, paper and other objects. It is not the fault of the person from whose place the trash is collected probably, it is the drivers' responsibility, and they should be more careful.'

Farmer's Picnic at Seaside.

The ballroom at Seaside Park will serve as the sounding board for all the Gubernatorial candidates who desire to address their residence to Annapolis on Wednesday next, July 20th, when the Maryland Tobacco Growers' Association holds its annual picnic at Chesapeake Beach.

The committee in charge, not wishing to slight any of the candidates, invited them all to appear at the picnic and allotted each ten minutes to speak. All of them have accepted, Governor Nice, Mayor Jackson, Senator Sasscer, Attorney General O'Conner and Comptroller Gordy will be present. Senator Millard E. Tydings and Congressman David J. Lewis have also signified their intentions of being present. Therefore, there will be much speaking, many promises made and beautiful word pictures drawn next Wednesday a 2 o'clock in the Seaside ballroom. Ample provision has been made by the Park management so that everyone will be able to hear and see the distinguished visitors.

Prior to the forensics of the afternoon there will be a tobacco judging contest, which should be of interest to every grower in the five Southern Maryland counties of Calvert, Charles, St. Mary's, Anne Arundel and Prince George's. There will be five county first prizes of $10.00 each and five county second prizes of $5.00. The sweepstake will be $30.00 for the best sample of 1937 crop produced in each of these counties. Earlier in the day a "trap shoot" will occupy the attention of the picnickers.

The Methodist Churches of Friendship will again serve meals at 50c. So instead of packing a lunch for the picnic bring the family over to Seaside and treat them to one of the famous Friendship lunches After the afternoon speaking and other events are over there will be dancing in the ballroom.

Next Saturday night the second in the series of Bathing Beauty Contests will be held at Seaside. Last week's winners were Miss Audrey Emery, first prize and Miss Mary S Innett, second prize. Have your favorite entry registered at Seaside ballroom before 10 p. m. Saturday night.

Next Tuesday Seaside will be the boats to the Baltimore City Fire Department. These fire laddies will arrive on the chartered Wilson Line Steamer Dixie at 11.30 p. m. and there will be a real afternoon of fun and frolic following their arrival.

Washington Youths Try to Steal Four Calvert Cars.

Willis Kendall, 16, and his brother, John Kendall, 13, of 1329 I street northeast, Washington, on Friday night of last week stole a car in Washington and drove it to this county. When the gas gave out at Steak ey they abandoned it and made off in a machine belonging to Stanley Bucker, but gave that up to when the gas supply was low. They next made unsuccessful attempts to steal the car of Stanley Tor and the truck of his brother-in law Benjamin Turner, directly across the road, but at each place were chased away by the owners. Later they drove off in the truck of Olin Ireland, of Parran, but were arrested at Huntingtown by Corporal Charles W. Magaha. They were confined in the Prince Frederick jail, but were turned over to the Washington authorities, when two policemen calle , here for them.

Death of Mr. Peter Anschutz.

The sudden death of Mr. Peter Anschutz on Tuesday night last at his home near Willows, was quite a shock to his family and friends. Death was due to a heart attack.

He was the husband of Mrs. Lydie Robins n Anschutz, and was aged 70 years. He was not a native of Calvert, but came to the county when he was a boy, and spent the rest of his life here. Mr. Anschutz was very well known, and was quite a successful farmer. He had the friendship and esteem of many persons.

The deceased is survived by his wife, and two daughters, Mrs. Myron Wood, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Darrill Sansbury, of Friendship.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at Emmanuel M. E. Church South Rev. Clarence E. Kirby conducted the service.

Child Injured by Car.

William Isenbaugh, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Isenbaugh, of Randle Cliffs, was seriously injured, and had a narrow escape from being killed when he was struck by an automobile while crossing the road in front of his home on Thursday of last week at 6.30 o'clock. The child was on the opposite side of the road from his home, and was returning when the car struck him. The driver of the car was from Washington, and is named Thompson. He was placed under arrest, charged with reckless driving, on a warrant issued by Justice Herman J. Fey, and gave bond in the sum of $1000 for his appearance for a hearing. The little boy was taken to the Calvert County Hospital, suffering with head and body injuries, but his condition so began to improve, we are happy to report, and after a few days he was able to be carried back to his home, where he is convalescing.

Wm. Warran Gantt Murdered.

William Warren Gantt, of Sollers community, who also owned the old Hardesty farm near Port Republic, was found dead there on Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock. The body was lying beside the road which runs through the farm, and about two hundred feet from the tenant house occupied by Mr. Gantt. (The farm horse is occupied by a tenant.) James Fowler, who states that he went to the farm to see Mr. Gantt by appointment about renting some land, found the body and notified State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell, who at once began an investigation and ordered an inquest. Justice William W. Duke, acting coroner, summoned a jury, naming Ollie Bowen as foreman.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Arthur A. Hashess, at Mutual, where Dr. Everard Briscoe performed an autopsy, assisted by Dr. Ragg C. Jett. Their investigation revealed that Mr. Gantt had been dead when found about 10 hours, and that he had been shot five times with a revolver, one of the bullets passing through a lung and causing his death. Two of the bullets were taken out of his body.

The automobile of the dead man was missing and inquiry brought to light that he had been out in it the evening before with a man and two women. It was also discovered that he had over $1,000 upon his person the day he was killed. When the body was found a small paper bag on the ground near it contained three $1.00 notes and around $2.00 in silver, as well as a gold watch and ring.

A definite clue to the guilty parties was obtained on Tuesday afternoon early, when the police at Fredericksburg, Va., notified the authorities here that Walter Stinnett, 24, and Margaret Ashell, 18, of this county, and Bettie Birrer, of Baltimore, were being held there, and that the Gantt automobile had been located. It was known here that the three mentioned were with Mr. Gantt on Monday night.

Warrants charging each of the three with murder were issued by Justice Duke, and at 2 o'clock State's Attorney Dowell, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Buckler and Corporal Charles W. Magaha and Sergeant Kries, of the Maryland State Police, went to Fredericksburg and placed the three accused under arrest and recovered the automobile. Each of the prisoners waived extradition, and are now in custody.

The coroner's jury met yesterday (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. The report of that meeting, with any verdict rendered, will be published next week.

Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lucas.

Chief McGonnegal and Assistant Chief Samuel Tapp, of the plumbing office, District Building, Washington, and his staff of inspectors and their wives, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Lucas at North Beach on Sunday last. Mayor Lane, Mr. Hidaway, chief of police, and Mr. Willard Ward, of North Beach, welcomed the guests. Supper was served in the new building on Fifth street by Mrs. Philip Baker, Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. Arthur O. Dwyer, Mrs. John Portner and Miss Anna Kelly. Mrs Margaret McConnell served at the punch bowl. Mr. Robert E. Kelly, Mr. Arthur O'Dwyer, Mr. Jack Portner, and William Kelly, of North Beach, assisted in entertaining the guests. Other out of town guests were Captain Groves of number eleven precinct, Washington, L. German and Jack Kraft.

High School Group Visit Farm Projects.

The first farm-project tour ever to be undertaken in Calvert county was carried out successfully Monday afternoon last under the direction of Carey E. Lacey, vocational agricultural teacher at the Calvert County High School.

The value of the tour to the agricultural students, as well as their parents, in its observation of the methods employed in carrying out the various projects selected by the boys, and in comparing each with the other.

The tour was made up of pupils, parents and other interested persons. Crops in general, buildings, farm arrangements and black angus cattle were all of equal interest to the many who undertook the tour.

The first farm visited was that of William Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Bowen, at Stoakley, whose project is raising corn and tobacco.

Afterward, visits were made to the farm of John W. Yon, near Port Republic, whose son, Linwood Yon, has for his farm project tobacco and chicken raising; the farm of Lawrence W. Pardoe, Island Creek, where his son, Roland Pardoe, another agricultural student, is combining bee keeping with the raising of chickens, and finally, to the farm of Jefferson Patterson, known as Point Farm, on the Patuxent river near Sheckalls where farming methods were studied.

Those who were on the farm project tour were Clare Briscoe, Dudley Brickett James Briscoe Howard Bradley, John W. Yon, Linwood Yon, Maurice F. Bowen, Maurice Bowen, Jr., Claude Bowen, Perry Bowen, Charles Cox, Arthur W. Dowell, Dr. I. N. King, William W. Duke, Roland Pardoe, Mrs. J. Alen Sheckells, Miss Helen Bowen, Mrs. Maurice F. Sunday Governor's Day at Camp Ritchie.

Sunrise will be ushered in with a fanfare of bugles Saturday morning throughout Maryland as the companies of the 1st Maryland assemble in their armories to start their annual two week's summer encampment.

Eastern Shore units will make the trip by train, while companies of "the Fighting First," located in Western Maryland will be taken to Camp Albert C. Ritchie by truck.

By Saturday afternoon the entire 5th Brigade, Maryland National Guard, under the command of Brig. Gen. Amos W. W. Woodcock, will be in camp, the Fifth Regiment having moved into quarters at Cascade last week.

Sunday, July 17th, will be Governor's Day at Camp Ritchie. Thousands of visitors from all sections of Maryland will be on hand to watch a series of ceremonies that will reach their climax when Governor Harry W. Nice reviews the 5th Brigade.

Prior to the review, Governor Nice will present service medals to approximately 700 National Guardsmen, who have served for 10 or more years with the Guard. The outstanding soldiers in each unit of the First and Fifth Regiments, Headquarters Co., Co. "D," 104th Quartermaster Regiment and the State Detachment, will also receive medals offered by the Sons of the American Revolution.

A committe, representing the Sons of the American Revolution, headed by George S. Robertson, secretary, will be the luncheon guests of Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant General of Maryland, prior to the presentation. The medals will be presented by Mr. Robertson. These medals are presented to the National Guardsmen in each company who was elected as the "best" soldier by his company commander.

High city and state officials will be on hand to welcome Governor Nice when he arrives at the encampment. Mayors from the majority of the Western Maryland cities will be among the guests of honor.

Friends and families of the Guardsmen from all sections of the State will also be on hand for the day, and will be given a full opportunity to inspect the encampment, and find out just how the National Guard men live while in camp.

Governor Nice, Commander-in-Chief of the Maryland National Guard, will make a complete inspection of the encampment prior to reviewing the brigade. On his tour of inspection he will be accompanied by General Reckord, General Woodcock, Colonel D. John Markey, commanding officer of the First Regiment, and Colonel Frank A. Hancock, commanding officer of the Fifth Regiment, and by members of his staff.

The following regiment will be celebrated by the 1st Regiment as Regimental Day. Sporting events and a regimental review will be among the highlights of the afternoon that is expected to draw as large a group of visitors as Governor's Day.

Amateur Night and Carnival.

Mrs. Ripperger, of Chesapeake Beach, is giving an "Amateur Hour" and "Carnival" on Thursday evening, July 28th, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the Seaside Park Ballroom

Carnival—Persons costumed to impersonate different characters, such as Uncle Sam, Shirley Temple, Aunt Jemima, etc., or a group of persons. There will be five judges for amateur hour, also five judges for the carnival. Prizes will be published later.

Those wishing to enter the contest from Solomon's, communicate with Mrs. Preston Lore; from Prince Frederick, Perry G. Bowen; from Huntingtown, Mrs. John Leitch; from Owings and community, Mrs. Asa Tracey.

The judges for the amateur hour are Mrs. L. Herbert Chaney, Mrs. Harry Bedell, Mrs. Mayo Proctor, William W. Duke and Robert B. Mead, and prizes will be: 1st, $10.00 or a tryout for an audition with Major Bowes; 2nd, $5.00; 3rd, $2.50, and other prizes to be selected from the display table in the order named by the judges.

Judges for the carnival: Mrs. Preston Lore, Mrs. Oscar Marshall, Mrs Harry Lane, Mrs. George Klein and Perry Bowen, and prizes will be: 1st, $5.00 and others to be selected from the display table in order named by the judges.

Prize waltz: 1st, $2 50; 2nd, selected from table judges, Douglas Parran, Albert Rosenblum and Mrs. Rider.

Infant Abandoned at Seaside.

A male infant was found abandoned in an automobile at Seaside Park on Tuesday night. The baby, which was about 5 days old then, was found in the car by a man named McDonald, from Washington, who was spending the evening at the resort, and who at once reported it to the police. The infant was brought to the Calvert County Hospital, where it is being cared for. While apparently in normal health, it is noticeably undernourished. This makes the third infant abandoned at Seaside Park. The first, a girl, was adopted by a family who lived near Washington. The second, also a girl, died some months after it was found.
