the said Emory afterwards, to wit, on the day and year last aforesaid at the County aforesaid, had notice.

And whereas also the said Emory afterwards, to wit, on the day and year last aforesaid, at the County aforesaid, accounted with the said Charles for several other sums of money by the said Emory to the said Charles before that time due, and to the said Charles then in arrear and unpaid: And upon that account the said Emory was found in arrear to the said Charles in other Nine hundred pounds current money, and so being therein found in arrear, the said Emory, to wit, on the day and year last aforesaid, at the County aforesaid in Consideration thereof upon himself assumed, and to the said Charles then and there faithfully promised that he the said Emory the last aforesaid Nine hundred pounds to the said Charles when afterwards he should be thereunto required, would well and truly content and pay.

Nevertheless the aforesaid Emory his several promises and assumptions aforesaid in form aft. made not regarding but minding and fraudulently intending the said Charles in this behalf craftily and subtilly to deceive and defraud the said several sums of money or any part thereof, to the said Charles according to his several promises aforesaid hath not yet paid, nor him for the same in any wise hitherto contented altho' to do it the said Emory was afterwards, to wit, on the same day and year last aforesaid at the County aforesaid, by the said Charles requested, but to pay him, them or any of them, or in any manner to content him for the same, hath ~~hitherto~~ altogether refused, and yet doth refuse to the damage of the said Charles fifteen hundred pounds current money; and thereupon he brings suit and pro fidelitate.
