YOUR BOY AND MINE

Written By Norman E. Peterson, Adjutant Frank M. Jarman Post 36, American Legion Chestertown, Maryland

While we are rocking our little boys And singing sweet lullabies Someone is planning stouter planes For death to ride the skies.

While we are dressing our little boys In little boyish suits Someone is making uniforms To fit your boy and mine.

While our little boys chase butterflies Amid the tangled grass Someone is testing chemicals To make a deadlier gas.

And while our little boys are sleeping Perhaps the war lords sit To start again the bugle notes That calls your boy and mine.

While we would build, yes, splendid men From your boy and from mine Someone, in secret, tries to make A farther reaching gun.

A gun that on some distant day When drums of battle roll May leave us with a golden star And iron in our souls.

The war that we fought in the year '17' Still lingers fresh in our minds. Have we gained anything as a Nation For the heartaches we feel to this day?

Oh, May we have Peace everlasting, As war takes your boy and mine.
