Here lately, it seems like a good many folks figure that if somebody has something like 10 | Would-Be Robbers dollars or 15 dollars or maybe a full sack of flour ahead, that they kind of need watchin'-and are maybe not the best type of person. And this idea, it got started, because somebody got himself elected by hoppin' onto anybody with two-bits, and it looked easy, so more fellers have been tryin' it.

But if we did not have some folks who figure on a rainy day, we would not have any savings banks, or life insurance, or railroads, or much of anything.

And you take the railroads, it is different from what it was 100 years ago, when if you wanted to go from Cincinnati to Salt Lake, you could walk, or ride a horse. And it would take you 6 months or 8 months, and at 100 dollars per month, it would cost 600 or 800 dollars, and also use up a good horse, to boot.

And your grand-father, who went west, with a musket on his shoulder, he would not be findin' fault with the railroads, and everything-he would be givin' 3 cheers.

Yours, with the low down, JO SERRA
