In all cases the first prize winners in every regular class in every breed will be presented a rosette.

There will be a rosette for the best brace in every breed and a silver trophy and rosette for the best brace in each variety group.

There will be silver trophies for the best in each variety group and Mr. John E. Hurst of W., President of the Maryland Kennel Club, is offering a sterling silver trophy for the best dog in the show.

Other features of the show include the Obedience Test Classes, the Children's Handling Classes, and a Whippet Racing Class. The Children's Handling Classes will be judged by Miss Rosa Ponselle, and in addition to several prizes in both the boys and girls classes each entrant will receive a pound box of candy.

The Maryland Cocker Spaniel Club is sponsoring the Cocker Spaniel entry and it is expected that there will be at least 125 Cockers benched at the show.

. Mr. Felix Leser, one of the original members of the Maryland Kennel Club, is going to bring one of his celebrated sled teams to Baltimore for exhibition purposes. This exhibit will be set in natural surroundings and should prove not only a very interesting but an educational attraction. Mr. Leser is, of course, well known to all Baltimoreans and for the past few years has been devoting his time to breeding and racing sled teams.

Entry blanks for the show can be secured from the office of the Maryland Kennel Club, 1508 Fidelity Building, or will be mailed to anyone if they will simply call the club office, Calvert 4500. The first closing date for entries is January 18 and no entries can be accepted at the Baltimore DIONCINE office after 5 p. m. on Friday, January 21.

The beneficiary of the show this year is the Children's Hospital School.

When Science Cleans

When science and industry finally devise means of "cleansing the air," like it is being done by air-conditioning in many homes and buildings today the actual saving to every person in the United States will be between $10 and $30 a year.

That is the estimate of the United States Public Health Service, which has been studying air throughout the country.

In some cities, the Public Health Service found that as much as 100 tons of dirt is contained in one cubic mile of air per year.

Papua Governed by Australia Papua, a territory slightly larger than Utah, adjoins New Guinea and is governed by Australia. Because of their appearance, Papuans, observes a writer in the Washington Post, have been called "Oriental negroes." They can't count above six. They wear only loin cloths, but carry umbrellas of leaves when it rains. They get tattooed when they kill another man, scar themselves with ugly gashes when they make a successful sea voyage. Their houses are 500 to 700 feet long and in them are kept human skeletons as relics. Pigs are their
