THE JACKSON GUARDS BALL.

A Brilliant and Successful Affair.

GOV. JACKSON AND STAFF PRESENT.

The Attendance Large and Everybody Happy.

The first reception and ball by the Jackson Guards was held in the new Bulett Carriage Factory, at Bel Air, last Friday night, January 4th. The large building was handsomely decorated with American flags and other ornaments, and was well lighted and comfortably heated. Governor Jackson, his military staff and others came upon a special train which left Baltimore at 7 o'clock, and the bright uniforms of the officers and of the Guards contributed to the brilliancy and picturesqueness of the scene.

Dancing took place in the large rooms in the second story, the first story being set apart for lunch and the third story for a coat room. A special train brought persons from the Delta and intervening points, but more came in private conveyances. The ball was crowded at 9 o'clock. In the party with the Governor were Adjutant-General James Howard, Gen. J. McKenney White, Gen. Clinton P. Paine, Gen. Robert Ober, Col. W. H. Love, Col. L. B. Parnell, Col. H. C. Tieck, Col. Parry Lee Downs, Col. L. McCabe, Capt. McLean, of the Towson Guards, Lieutenants H. H. Boswell and C. F. Dailey, Postmaster Frank Brown, Dr. St. George W. Teackle, Hon. Stevenson Archer and C. K. Ober.

They were met at the station and escorted to the Masonic Temple, where lunch was provided for them, after which they went to the ball room.

Upon their arrival Capt. Dallam ordered his men to fall into line, and put them through the manual of arms. Their evolutions were admirably performed and elicited applause. Adjutant General Howard, on behalf of the Governor, complimented the Guards on their fine, soldierly appearance and the precision of their movements, remarking that if called upon for actual service he felt sure they would do their duty.

The Governor and chaperons received the guests in the room in front of the main hall, where a tent had been artistically arranged. The ladies receiving were Mrs. W. S. Richardson, Mrs. Murray Vandiver, Mrs. R. E. Bouldin, Mrs. C. H. Street, Mrs. Otho S. Lee.

Mrs. Murray Vandiver was attired in white satin but the other ladies did not appear in party costumes.

A substantial lunch, consisting of sandwiches and coffee, was served at midnight.

Streett, G. F. Walker, etc. Harry McGuigan and B. S. Kirk.

The music was by a band of eight musicians, led by Professor George Lyle.

The ball was one of the pleasant and most successful affairs of the kind that has ever taken place in Bel Air. The Guards deserve much credit for the admirable manner in which it was arranged and carried out. Not a single thing occurred to mar the occasion. Those who were there enjoyed it and those who were not will doubtless regret their absence.

The invitation committee consisted of Lieut. W. W. Preston, chairman; Sergeant, James F. Lingan, Corporals Daniel J. Golden and J. D. Stearns, Privates Wm. A. French, Wm. W. Heuer, Darius K. Prigg, Edward Ferry, Frank H. Jacobs, H. F. Lee and S. Pitmus Davis.

The general managers were Captain Chas. L. Dallam, chairman; Lieut. W. W. Preston, Lieut. Harry Bateman.

A MODERN MIRACLE.

For the Ægis and Intelligencer.

There is living in Harford county, an old man who came to this country many years ago from one of the German States. His life is irreproachable, his habits of industry and thrift have won for him a competency, and his reputation for veracity is as good as that of any other person of my acquaintance.

He is now an aged man and when I am in his presence I always imagine I am in the company of Adam; perhaps because I see him oftener than in any other situation, in the midst of his cows, his goats, his sheep and his poultry, who gather around him with every manifestation of regard for him as the source of all their comforts. This worthy old man lately told me the following story, and I know that he believes it to be absolutely true:

I was born, he said in the town of B——, in the State of ——, in Germany. My parents had lived their whole lives in the same town.—They have often told me that in 1812 when Napoleon Bonaparte was passing through Germany, on his way to Russia, he stopped with his army in our town, and staid there a week, in order to enable the rear of the army and the straggliers, to come up to the main body.

Bonaparte, as is well known, was deeply impressed with the magnitude of his undertaking, and he hesitated in his march, because he had serious misgivings as to the result of it. It is also well known that afterwards, at St. Helena, he said that at that time he and the Russian Emperor were in the position of two bullies, who earnestly hoped somebody would part them. Bonaparte was there on Sunday.

Near the town there was a field comprising a few acres of ground that was held and enjoyed by the town people as a common pasture field.—In the region of the town there were no stones on the land, but in this field there was one stone. How it came to be there no one could tell, but it was a hard stone, of two or three feet across, and a foot thick. It had a flat upper surface.

On the Sunday Bonaparte spent in the town, he and his staff rode into this field and stopped near this stone. The people of the town gathered around admiring the grand appearance of the mighty Emperor and his distinguished officers, and listening to their conversation, which was in French, few understanding it.

The old man's father, who was among the listeners, had learned French whilst in the army fighting the renowned warrior who sat on his horse before them.

Bonaparte said he wished he could have some supernatural indication of the Divine will to indicate whether his Russian expedition had or had not the favor of the God of all the earth. He sat on his horse, and this stone was directly in front of him.

After a conversation of some length with his officers, in which some indication of the Divine will was earnestly desired, Bonaparte said he would make his horse place his forefeet on the stone, and if his feet sank into the hard material he would take that as proof that God favored the grand plan of conquest in which he was then engaged. His horse was made to mount the stone and his feet sank hoof deep into it!

C.

Bonaparte then dismounted, deeply impressed with the wonderful circumstance. After some further conversation with his officers, he said that he trusted that since God had given him this signal indication of his favor in answer to his earnest wish or prayer, he asked Him to give him another indication of His sovereign will.

He drew his sword and uplifting it, he said he would strike the hard rock before him with the whole length of its edge, and if the sword sank into the stone, all his hesitancy would be removed, and he would regard the miracle as conclusive proof that God guided his hand, and that he marched to certain victory. He struck the stone, and his sword sank into it as if it had been soft clay, to its whole depth!

Bonaparte's doubts were removed, and he went on his way, assured that he had the countenance of the Lord of all the earth, and he would conquer by many or by few.

Now this old man, whom I would believe as promptly and as positively as I would believe any human creature whom I have ever known, says this thing occurred before he was born, but that he has heard his parents and many others who saw the whole occurrence relate it often and that he has himself frequently seen the prints of the horse's feet and of the sword in the stone, which was still lying there when he left his native land.

Our Bush River Neck Letter.

MICHAELSVILLE, Jan. 7.

The German boy mentioned in my last letter, died of scarlet fever in its most malignant form. One of his brothers has since taken the disease, and his recovery is now despaired of.

The trustees have ordered the school to be closed in order to prevent the spread of the infection.

Mrs. Walter Malcolm was seized with a congestive chill on Wendesday night of last week, and died the following morning. Mrs. Malcolm was a daughter of Mr. Mills, of Carroll county, Maryland. Up to the time of her sudden seizure, she appeared to be in perfect health. She was buried on Friday at Spesutia Church, the Rev. Mr. Chesley conducting the funeral services. The following were the pall-bearers: Messrs. J. W. Botts, John Jewens, Wm. McDonald, Wm. Russell, George Ford, Jr., and Michael Fisher.

A pleasant hop took place in the hall at Perryman, on the 27th instant. The participants were Misses Florence and Annie Gallup, Mamie Courtney, Blanche Nelson, Susie Richardson, Lizzie Morgan, L. Rawhouser, Etta Keen, Gussie Galloway, Georgie Malcolm, of Baltimore, Kate Dorsey, also Miss Hopkins, of Atlantic City; Miss Chapman, of Aberdeen, Miss Reed of Baltimore; Miss Roberts, Miss Butler, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cronin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole, Mr. and Mrs. J. Streett Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keen, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Raymond, Mrs. Roderick Dorsey, Messrs. Edward Gallup, Stanley Patterson, Frank Walker, G. F. Griffith, Thomas Johnson, A. S. Porter, of Aberdeen; J. A. Osborn, George Roberts, of Bel Air; W. B. Harris and others.

A glass ball shooting match took place in the Neck, on Tuesday of last week. No prizes were offered. JIM SANK.

Letter from Kellyille.

JAN. 4th.—Our old opossum hunter, John How, better known as Dr. How, moved from Bynum's Run to the farm of Col. Walsh, two years ago, bringing his dog, Dash, with him. The first fall after his arrival he caught sixty opossums during the present season he has added forty more to that number. He is nearly eighty years of age, but still climbs the trees shakes the little animals down, when they are instantly dispatched by his faithful dog.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Frank Brazier, who has been confined to the house for several weeks with a cut foot, is again able to get about.

Mr. John Hurley is doing a tip top job of stoning the road leading from Joppa road to Clayton post office. The roads in this vicinity have been slighted for twenty years and we are glad that the County Commissioners are interesting themselves in them.

Messrs. John Barrier and Andrew Dannigan have two of the finest colts in the neighborhood, Maud S. and Allen H. Maud S. is extremely handsome and if well trained will make a racer. Allen H. is the larger of the two, very attractive in appearance and evidently built for speed.

Mr. Charles H. Leonard & Brothers propose to enlarge their canning house in the spring and put in a large engine. They will then employ more hands and do business on a larger scale. Their fruits are excellent.

This was the quietest Christmas that has ever been known here. Those who came out saw their shadows and, like the ground hog, went back into their holes. I hope this does not forebode six weeks of bad weather.

Furnace and Vicinity.

JAN. 7.—The Idle Wild Literary Society met Friday, Jan. 4th, and the following programme was carried out: Inaugural address by the President, S. M. Webb; reading, by Miss Corrie Ball, Miss Aggie Beaumont, Mr. J. W. Ball and G. W. Walter; declamation, by Mr. James Mason and Charles Hess, Jr. The question discussed was, "Which is the greater incentive to action, the hope of reward or the fear of punishment." Although the negative was ably discussed the decision was given unanimously in favor of the affirmative. Judges, Messrs. G. W. Walter, William Miles and Michael Kelly. The society promises to be a success, and meets every Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

We had the pleasure of a visit, a few days since, from our school examiner, Professor J. D. Worthington.

Mrs. Nannie R. Butler has removed to her new home, in Gatesville, Pa.

The Ebenezer Aid Society met at the house of Mr. Hollin Beaumont, on Wednesday last. After dispatching the regular business of the society and partaking of refreshments, the members adjourned to meet on the 18th of February, at Mr. Charles Parker's. PLEXUS.

A Dance Near Pylesville

Reported for THE ÆGIS.

One of the most delightful entertainments of the season was a dance which took place at Mr. C. M. Myer's hall, near Pylesville, on the 3d instant. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Harkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Macatee, Misses Bertha McKelvie, of Baltimore; Annie Snyder, of Frederick county; M. T. and Bettie Myers, Bessie Macatee, Belle and Fannie Roberts, Georgie Scarboro, Helen and Loretta Wheeler, Cora Jay, Belle Glenn, Nannie and Susie Streett, Mary Bradley, Fannie and Alice Ady and Miss Edy, of York. The gentlemen were Messrs. Howard Scarff, Howard Poole, Samuel Ady, Charles M. Myer, Jr., Nace Streett, R. L. Macatee, Isaac Robinson, Walter Streett, Gorsuch Glenn, Harry Day, Steve Lee, Charles Bradley, Will Whiteford, Samuel Wilson, Ed. Ramsay, John Roberts, and Charles McGuigan. The music was furnished by George Lyle.

Sunday School Entertainment.

The Methodist Episcopal Sunday School of Aberdeen gave its annual Christmas entertainment in the school, on Tuesday evening, 1st instant.

The decorations, consisting of four trees, festooning and mottoes, were tastefully and pleasing. The music by the choir and school was excellent. The recitations and dialogues were full of animation, all indicating the enthusiasm with which every participant had come to his or her part on the programme celebrating the gladness of Christmas and furnishing an evening's feast to the large audience present.

When each did so well, praise can not discriminate, but bestows its meed upon them all.

The choir was composed of Miss Susie Pritchard, Miss Hattie Holloway, Misses Allie and Fannie Pritchard and Mr. Wm. A. Brownley, of Baltimore, and the last named, as basso, whose part was excellently rendered.

Just before the close, candies and oranges were distributed to the entire school.

Mr. Joseph Wilkinson made a brief address. Benediction by Rev. B. G. W. Reid.

Letter from Wilna.

WILNA, Jan. 8th.—Mr. Joseph W. Archer has purchased and removed to the farm lately occupied by his father.

A disease known as "pink eye" is somewhat prevalent and bids fair to go through the schools. It does not materially effect the attendance. Our school is quite large and an assistant for a few weeks would be of material advantage.

An interesting meeting of the "Live Oak" Temperance Society was held on Thursday evening last. Its influence is healthful.

Miss Florence Bateman, of Baltimore, is visiting her brother, Mr. Hudson Bateman, of Wilna. Some of our farmers are plowing and ice houses are hungry. OBSERVER.

LETTER FROM SHANE.

JAN. 8th.—Miss Ida Doran has been confined to her room by sickness.

Mrs. Rachel Armony, died at the residence of Mr. Wm. Barton, near Fawn Grove, on the 1st of January. She was buried on the 3d instant at West Liberty M. E. Church, Rev. Mr. Yingling officiating. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. Woodrow, J. Rutledge, J. Watters, J. McElvain, J. Wright and J. Strawbridge. Mr. W. Ramsey Webb was the undertaker.

Mr. Wm. Bosley received, in the person of Miss Alverda Billingsley, the handsomest Christmas gift evere presented in this section. Rev. J. Fred Heisse tied the knot.

Letter from Jarrettsville.

JAN. 9.—Marshall's Lodge, No. 99, K. of P., installed the following officers, at their regular meeting, Jan. 3d: P. C., C. Bowen Tipton, C. C., W. S. Long; V. C., Elwood Calary; P. C., C. Carman; M. of A., Joshua Ward; M. of F., W. H. Carroll; M. of E., J. E. Beatty; I. G., Charles Bay; O. G., Frank Daughton; Representative to Grand Lodge, Sylvester Phelps.

In last week's paper the types made me say that Mr. Daniel Hild was chopping wood on Sunday. It should have read Saturday, as Mr. Hild does not engage in unlawful pastime on the Sabbath day. H.

New Year's Eve Entertainment.

A very pleasant entertainment was given at the residence of Mr. W. Frank Carter, on New Year's eve. There were present on the occasion persons from Baltimore, Monkton, Federal Hill, Cooptown, Fountain Green and Hickory. Dancing was the order of the evening, and was kept up until the small hours. At 12 o'clock refreshments were served. Among the guests was our candidate for sheriff, Mr. James S. Calder, also, Miss R. B. Whittie, of Baltimore, who is visiting Miss Belle Carter, of Fountain Green.

RESOLUTIONS.

Armory Jackson Guards,
Company D, 1st Reg't. I. M. N. G.

Whereas, many kind friends by timely assistance greatly aided in the splendid success of the reception and ball given by this company on Friday, the 4th instant;

Resolved, That the thanks of this company be and are hereby tendered to all who in any way contributed to that success.

Resolved, That this company is under special obligations and hereby returns its heartiest thanks to the Directors of the Bulett Carriage Company of Harford county, for their kindness in having, at great risk and inconvenience to themselves, allowed their building in Bel Air to be used for holding said reception and ball.

Resolved, That the Bel Air papers be requested to publish these resolutions, and that a copy be sent to the Directors of the Bulett Carriage Company.

The foregoing preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Jackson Guards, at the time and place named above.

CHAS. L. DALLAM, Captain.
THOS. G. FORWOOD, Secretary.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Ægis and Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR: I notice a statement in the last issue of The Ægis that I had lost a valuable colt by its falling into a well. When I read the article I felt a little uneasy and went to the barn to coat my colts. I found them all right. I then examined an unused well and found it all right—which by the way is covered by a large flat stone a foot thick and two feet of earth on the stone, sufficient to bear the weight of a two year old elephant. I imagine your informant had been making New Year's calls and got something a little mixed. I wish this correction made for my credit as a member of the Deer Creek Farmers' Club.

Very respectfully,
GEO. R. STEPHENSON.

A GENERAL TIE-UP

of all the means of public conveyances in a large city, even for a few hours, during a strike of the employes, means a general paralyzing of trade and industry for the time being, and is attended with an enormous aggregate loss to the community. How much more serious to the individual is the general tie-up of his system, known as constipation, and due to the strike of the most important organs for more prudent treatment and better care. If too long neglected, a torpid or sluggish liver will produce serious forms of kidney and liver diseases, malarial fever and chronic dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are a preventive and cure of these disorders. They are prompt, sure and effective, pleasant to take, and positively harmless.

POSNERS'.

LADIES:—

We want your trade. If you are situated so that you can come to the city and deal with us in person, do so. If not, send us your orders. We promise to not only treat you well, but to serve you well—to sell you the best goods for the least money and to make every sale give the fullest satisfaction. Remember that our store is the only one of its kind in the whole South. It covers a superficial area of three and one-half acres in the aggregate, has fifty thousand square feet of salesroom, and is devo
