LOCAL MATTERS.

COURT.—The January Term of the Circuit Court for Kent County, commences on Monday next. As this is the term at which no jury attends, it will doubtless be short—not more than a day or two.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—We are requested to state that Rev. A. B. Baldwin, of the M. E. Church (South), will preach in the Chapel of the M. P. Church, Sunday afternoon, January 15th, at 3½ o'clock.

INQUEST.—On Saturday last, 9th inst., John T. Hyatt, Magistrate, acting as Coroner, held an inquest over the body of Bill Sampson, (colored), on the farm of Mr. Ira Vansant. Verdict rendered—"Death from dislocation of the neck, by slipping off a cart load of straw." The old negro has always borne a good name for honesty and industry."

BISHOP LAY.—It is said, as we learn on good authority, that the Rt. Rev. H. C. Lay, D. D., Bishop elect of the Diocese of Easton, Md., has accepted, and will enter upon his duties as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, with the assent of a majority of the House of Bishops and Standing Committees of the different Dioceses of the United States.

RESIGNED.—Mr. Chas. Gordon Ricaud, Principal of Shrewsbury Academy in Galena, has tendered his resignation, to take effect on the 15th of February next. He took charge last February, and has had during the whole time a very large and attentive school, with able assistants, as the duties were too onerous for one person.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—Joseph Woods, the negro man who attempted the assassination of Captain Wallace Clayton of this town, whilst asleep in the cabin of his vessel, the schooner C. M. Stewart, lying at Smith's wharf, Baltimore, on the night of the 28th of May, 1867, was arrested a few days ago in Anne Arundel county, by Sergeant Cross and officer Farnan, and on Monday underwent an examination in Baltimore. Woods, (says the Sun), who has persisted in denying his identity, insisting that his name was not Woods, that he did not know Captain Clayton, and had never sailed in the Stewart, was fully identified by Captain Clayton as having been his cook or steward when the robbery and attempted murder took place, and that he then disappeared. Several other witnesses swore to his being Woods, and that he had sailed with Captain Clayton. Justice Jarden committed him for the action of the grand jury.

NEW STEAM LINE.—We see by a communication in the Centreville Observer of Tuesday last, that the steamer URBANNA is making semi-weekly trips from Baltimore to Queenstown, and also that there is a movement on foot to run her as a "night boat" from the "Centreville granaries" to Baltimore.

From the Crumpton paper there seems to be a disposition to establish an independent line to that place.

Sassafras River has her two lines; and if, as has been reported currently this week, our railroad Directors are going to leave Chestertown some three or four miles from the road, it is about time our citizens were looking about for their own safety.

The steamer CHESTER was built on Chester river, and "old man Young" is a Kent county institution; and it appears to us that some arrangement could and should be made to have a boat from our town direct to the city, leaving off the landings which cause the great delay. We believe a boat properly conducted can be supported by our town, and it seems to be the part of wisdom to make the experiment.

HORSE FIDDLING.—Whether horse fiddling is a nuisance peculiar to our town exclusively, we know not, but we do not remember ever to have heard of its being practiced elsewhere. It is one of those unearthly noises resorted to, to annoy newly married couples, and disturb the quiet of the town generally. We believe it is denounced by nine-tenths of our citizens, and yet in the face of the ordinance against it, has been practiced with impunity for years. A poor unfortunate drunken "Rat" who indulges in giving vent to a speech on the corner, under the influence of the ardent, is immediately put in [illegible] and yet it is permitted a party of horse-fiddlers to make night hideous and annoy the whole town without so much as an effort to prevent it.

The nineteenth of the Revised Ordinances, passed so late as the 22d of last June, Says: "Every person who shall beat a "drum, or blow a fife, or horn, in or "through the streets of Chestertown, be"tween the setting and rising of the sun, "unless it be for a military company or "procession, or who shall participate in "any mock serenade, to the manifest an"noyance of quiet citizens, shall forfeit "and be fined two dollars for every offence.

The occasions selected for these demonstrations is one when it is peculiarly offensive to the parties for whom it is intended, and the Commissioners of the town should protect the citizens from these outrages. If the present law is not sufficient, let them enact a special ordinance to suit the case. Such action, we are confident, would meet the approval of all whose opinion is worth having.

TABLEAUX.—Some of the young ladies and gentlemen of our town got up a few Tableaux and Charades, for Thursday evening last. The entertainment was private, though quite a large number of the friends of the actors were invited.

The opening piece was "Preparing for Tableau"—well conceived and executed—but the arrangement of the light somewhat destroyed the effect. "Winning the last game," followed. The light was changed to the foot, and this was produced with good effect. Then followed the proverb "All is fair in love and war." This was a good selection, well played by most of the actors, and if all had been prompt, would have been very good indeed. The "Music Lesson" was very admirable; the young lady and gentleman in this piece caught the spirit exactly—it was very good. "Paul and Virginia," a representation of statuary—by a brother and sister—was superior to any private tableau we have ever seen: it was very difficult, but we saw no room for criticism. Proverb second was, "No rose without its thorn." This piece was well sustained throughout, and the rendering of Miss Rose was exceedingly creditable. Tableaux fifth and sixth were "Love at first sight," and "The Declaration." Proverb third was a representation of "When the cat is away the mice will play," an entertainment in the parlor by the Irish cook and coachman, in the absence of master. This was a very humorous piece, and was received with loud applause. Tableau seventh was "The Quarrel:" the eighth, and last, "Taking the Veil." This was quite elaborate, and admirable throughout. The whole entertainment was admirably conceived and executed, and was much enjoyed by the audience.

NOTICE.

ON and after Monday, the fourth instant, my son, COLIN F., will have an interest in my business. The title of the firm will be JOHN L. STAM & SON.

All persons indebted to me are respectfully requested to call and settle their accounts—either by note or cash—as it is important to me that my old accounts should be settled to pay my own indebtedness.

My son Colin F., is authorized to settle up my old business. JOHN L. STAM.

DURYEAS'
Satin Gloss Starch

HAS established a world-wide celebrity for being the Purest, Whitest, Strongest, and Most Glossy and Economical Starch known. Disinterested judges pronounce it the "Perfection of Starch."

The Messrs. Duryea have no occasion to personally assert the superiority of their goods. A discriminating public and the decision of the following scientific and disinterested judges establish it.

PRIZE MEDALS AWARDED
Duryeas' Starch and Maizena

For their "Perfection of Quality," at Grand Paris International Exposition, 1867. Great London International Exposition, 1862. Great Internat, Exposition, Hamburg, 1863. Great Internat. Exposition, Cologne, 1865. Also at States', Agricultural, American Institute and Maryland Institute Fairs.

Inferior Starch is sour, musty, or has a golden or yellow tinge, a color not desirable in one's linen. (It is absurd for the laundress to cleanse and bleach, and then discolor linen with impure yellow starch.)

Maizena

Is a pure flour, from the choicest Indian corn, and is used for all the purposes of Corn Starch and Arrowroot, to which it is superior. Put up in the same style of packets, and at same price, with directions for use.

For culinary purposes, call for Duryeas' Maizena. For the laundry, call for Duryeas' Satin Gloss Starch.
