Chestertown Transcript.

rday Morning, May 29, 1869.

☞ Our friends throughout the county earnestly requested to furnish us with all s of local interest transpiring in their im- iate neighborhoods.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Town Commissioners.—An election for ven Commissioners of Chestertown, was eld on Monday last, with the following esult: John L. Ringgold, H. M. Stuart, Charles H. Davis, Richard S. Usilton, James H. Thompson, George C. Atkinson, John W. Parsons.

Ice Cream and Strawberries.—Thursday last, the proprietor of the Rising Sun Saloon sent to the Transcript office a quantity of ice cream, strawberries, and cake. These delicious berries are now quite abundant in our market, and those wishing to enjoy them in connection with a good glass of cream, will always find them at the Rising Sun on Bridge street.

Kent Cornet Band.—The Cornet Band of this place took advantage of the beautiful moonlight evening of Monday last to give the town a serenade from the bridge. The Band have been paying considerable attention to their music lately, and have very much improved in their execution. We are glad to note this evidence of vitality on the part of this organization, as their music is not only creditable to the members but a source of pleasure to our people.

Kent Mutual Building Association.—This organization has been in existence but a short time, and it now announces its third loan. Two thousand dollars have already been placed at interest. It proves to be a better investment than was at first understood by the members. The full number of shares have not been taken yet, and persons desiring to subscribe would do well to do so at once, as all persons pay up from the commencement on subscribing, and after the organization has been in operation six months, a bonus is required to place them on an equal footing with original subscribers.

Looking For Money.—Some time since a man somewhat advanced in years, died suddenly in our town, who, it is said, used to say that he "had more confidence in sand banks than in National Banks." Owing to this, and his well known habits of saving money, it is supposed that he had a considerable quantity of coin buried. This impression has disturbed the quiet of more than one in our town, and it is hinted that digging in a quiet, careless way has more than once been prosecuted. Within the last week we learn that a colored gentleman has had a vision, in which the deceased appeared, and conducted him to the spot where the treasure was buried. He followed and marked the spot: the next day he commenced operations, and after working some time came to the strong-box, and just when in the act of taking possession, the departed appeared and carried it below the surface: nothing daunted, he renewed operations, and after digging for some timie, came to the box again; this time he laid hold, and just when putting it upon his shoulder, a huge black dog with a flaming sword severed his grasp and carried it below the surface. Operations were again renewed, and are, we learn, still being prosecuted in one of Senator Vickers' lots, just on the limits of the town.

Queen Anne's County Items.

John T. Hand Esq., editor of the Maryland Citizen, has received the appointment of Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue for Queen Anne's Co.

The Railroad.—The Directors of the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad held a meeting in this town on Thursday last.—In consequence of the great scarceity of money and the probability of some of the stockholders being unable to meet the demands upon them much interest was felt in regard to the probable action of the board on that day. It was feared by some of our people that the work would have to stop in consequence of the Company being unable to raise the money to push it through. These fears, however, we are happy to state were groundless.—Instead of stopping, the Directors ordered the contractor to push track-laying through as speedily as possible, and gave him a positive order to have it done to Sudlersville by the middle of June. The cars will therefore be running on our road in time for the peach crop. They may be down farther than Sudlersville by that time, but the contractor has positive instructions to have the road done to that village by the time mentioned above.—The Delaware Rail Road Company have made a proposition to our Company to place rolling stock on the road during peach season and take off our peaches at the actual cost of transportation, leaving whatever of profit there may be to be reaped by our Road. This will place us in quick communication with the Northern cities without the expense of purchasing rolling stock for our road.—Observer.

Confirmation.—The Right Rev. Henry C. Lay, Bishop of the Diocese of the Eastern Shore, visited St. Paul's Parish, Centreville, on Sunday, and administered the rite of confirmation to twenty-seven candidates.—Ib.

Sale of Hotel Property.—Messrs. Gibson & Feddeman, as agents for Mrs. McLain, sold last week that valuable hotel property known as the "Centreville Hotel," to Richard Merrick, Esq., of Chester county, Pa., for $9,500.—Ib.

A Two-Cent Dog.

The following item illustrates in an amusing manner the serious calamities that may spring from apparently trival causes: Yesterday afternoon, says the New York News of the 1st instant, a two-cent dog sprang from an alley, closely followed by a five-cent brick. Rounding the corner at angles, he came in contact with the feet of a Dutch woman who was carrying a jug molasses in one hand and a basket of eggs in the other. The sudden collision with the dog with her lower extremities threw her from her feet, and she sat down upon the basket of eggs, at the same time breaking the jug of molasses upon the payment. A young gentleman, carpet bag in hand, anxious to catch the train, was running close behind, and stepping upon the fragments of the jug and its contents, fell down on the chest of the Dutch woman, who said "Mine Cot."—The young man said something about mad dog, but in the moment said it backward. In the meantime the dog had run against the feet of a team of horses attached to a load of potatoes, and they taking fright, started for home. The end board being out, they unloaded the potatoes along the street as they went. Crossing the railroad track, the wagon caught in the rails and tore one of them from its place. A freight train coming along afew moments later, was thrown from the track, smashing up a dozen cars, and killing thirty or forty hogs. The horses on reaching home ran through the barn yard and overturned a milk pail, the contents of which another two-cent dog licked up. One of the horses having broken his leg was killed, and the other is crippled for life. It is now a mooted question whether the man who threw the brick at the two-cent dog, or the man who owns it, is responsible for the chapter of accidents which followed.

Reception of a Colored Diplomat in New York.—The colored people of New York gave a grand reception on Tuesday night to Ebeneser D. Bassett, the colored consul general to Hayti. The affair took place in Zion Church, and there was a very large audience of the best colored people of New York. Bassett, in the course of a speech, said diplomacy was a new field to the colored race in this country. How they would succeed remained yet to be seen. But one thing he knew, he brought to the work an honest heart, a generous purpose, an unflagging industry and an elevated patriotism.
