The Chestertown Transcript

Saturday Morning, July 23, 1870.

☞ Our friends throughout the county are earnestly requested to furnish us with all items of local interest transpiring in their immediate neighborhoods.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The County Commissioners were in session, but concluded no business of general interest.

Senator Vickers

Has, since his return from Washington, been prostrate with a severe attack of dysentery, brought on, doubtless, by close application to his duties in the Senate. We are glad to announce that he is mending.

Improved Order of Red Men.

At the last regular meeting of Ozenee Tribe, No. 49, the following officers were elected to serve the present term:

W. S.—Washington Hudgins.
S. S.—J. Hamer Russell.
J. S.—Thomas S. Bordley.
V. P.—Charles Hayden.
C. R.—J. Jones Pearce.
K. W.—John K. Willis.

Messrs. George Colton & Son,

Editors and Proprietors of the Annapolis Republican paid us a fraternal visit on Thursday last. The gentlemen are spending the hot season in a leisurely tour of the Eastern Shore counties and making the acquaintance of their editorial brethern. The Messrs. Colton stand at the head of the country press in our State, and their well known interest in their fraternity will insure them a warm welcome wherever they go.

Fatal Accident.

In the early part of the week a young man named Moss, a step son of Mr. Comegys Mann while attempting to adjust some portion of the thrashing machine, fell upon the cylinder and his arm was torn off to the shoulder, he lived but some twelve hours. Some terrible accident of this kind occurs every season, and greater safeguards should be connected with wheat machines.

Fire.

The large frame dwelling of Mr. Jos. W. Edwards, in Worton, was destroyed by fire on Monday last about noon. The fire was first discovered in the roof, and it is supposed originated from a spark from the chimney. The building was entirely consumed, with a portion of Mr. Edwards' furniture. The building was insured in the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company to the amount of $2,500, which Mr. Edwards estimates will not cover his loss by two thousand dollars.

Orphans' Court.

The Secretary of Washington College notified the Court of the vacancy in the place recently vacated by Mr. M. deK. Smith graduated, and the Court ordered an advertisement for applicants, which will be found in our columns.

C. B. Krusen and Geo. P. Roeder, two of the creditors of Daniel W. Turner, late of Kent county, appeared in answer to citation, and referred the adjustment of their accounts to the Court for final settlement, for which purpose the Court will meet on Monday next.

It was ordered that executors, administrators and guardians, who have not returned accounts within twelve months, will be cited to appear after the 16th day of August next.

Amateur Drama.

The performance of the Amateur Dramatic Association on Wednesday and Thursday evenings was very creditable, especially considering the short time the pieces were in progress. "The Spirit of 1876 or, The Coming Woman," was produced both evenings, and the characters, though difficult, were well sustained. The amazement of Tom Carberry on his return from China, and his singular love scrapes, were natural. Joe Wigfall sustained his altered position in life admirably, showing an amount of observation which will make the coming times less shocking to Joe—his spirit of resignation was perfect. Victorine Wigfall, by a young gent, was a very difficult part to play; but there was considerable fitness in the selection made to play this part. A man may play the "coming woman" much easier than in the coming age to play the woman of the past. Wolverine Griffin played her part excellently well: her declaration to Carberry was admirable; and if the young gent is as eloquent in his own character, some things are easier understood. Judge Wigfall fully sustained the dignity of the bench; but we fear that his management of Joe may be practiced upon some other unfortunate Wigfall. Barbara Badger badgered poor Carberry in the true woman's right style, and doubtless taught him a lesson which will make him look sharp for the Barbaras hereafter. Lady Margaret was done up in the truly royal style, and we shall keep a sharp look out for an imitation of her airs and graces on our fashionable promenades. Our space will not let us pursue the subject further. The audiences, owing to the excessive heat and rain, were not so large as they would otherwise have been.
