Held a public meeting last Thursday evening, at the M. P. Church in this town. P. G. Jas. W. Thompson of St Tammany Lodge, Centreville, presided; and addresses were delivered by P. G. M. Harrison, of Baltimore, Mr. Giffin of New Jersey, and Dr. C. Newnam, of Queen Anne's. The Lodge here, though young, is said to number about forty, with a good prospect of a large membership.

Orphans' Court.

Tuesday, Sept'r. 27, 1870.—Present, James Beck, of George, Thomas Lusby.

The release of Z. Gemmill and A. M. Gemmill, of Wilmington, Del., to Wm. S. Walker, adm'r. of C. C. Ricaud, was received and ordered for record.

Sam'l. Clark, adm'r. of James Brown of James, returned his first and final administration account: passed, and ordered for record.

Robt. J. Lusby made application to the Court to be appointed administrator of John M. Hudson, late of Kent Co., dec'd.

On application of J. Lewin Crew the Court directed the Register to notify Dan'l. Hurley and Rachael W. Hurley, admr's. of Samuel H. Hurley, late of Middlesex county, Va., to give counter security.

Ordered, that the Register issue citation to Maria Woodland, admr'x. of John W. Boyer, to return her first adm'r. account.

Also, citation to Mary M. Hodges, admr'x. of Richard Hodges, late of Kent county, dec'd., to return her first administration account.

Also, citation to Elijah Bond, adm'r. of Jacob Pearce, to settle the estate of dec'd.

Ordered, that citation issue to Eliza Blake, admr'x. of Philip Blake, and R. A. Slater, admr'x. of C. H. Slater to return their first administration accounts.

Alleged Attempt to Kill by Poison.

On Monday evening last, a Mrs. Chambers, residing in this town, was arrested and carried before Justice Russell, on the charge of poisoning a Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Garrett and a Mrs. Rasin: after a partial hearing she was committed to jail for the action of the Grand Jury.

The facts are as far as we have been able to learn them, that during Monday afternoon Mrs. Chambers sent by a Mrs. Caleb, a piece of pie or pudding to Mrs. Smith, who was working at the canning establishment of Ruth & Hines. Mrs. Smith gave a portion of it to Mrs. Garrett and Rasin, and all three were, immediately after eating, affected with symptoms of poisoning. Mrs. Rasin discharged the most she eat from her stomach, and was less affected than the other two.

It appears that Mrs. Chambers attempted some time since to purchase arsenic of a druggist in our town and was refused, that she subsequently purchased through her son a rat exterminator, which she denied all knowledge of when arrested. The bottle, however, was found locked up in her premises and partially used. The pie or pudding sent was taken from a cupboard where it was carefully wrapped up.

All the circumstances connected with this matter seem to point to a case of premeditated poisoning by some one.

Teachers' Institute.

Professor Newal of the State Normal School, James W. Thompson, Examiner of Queen Anne's county, Howard Meeks Examiner of Kent county, and the Public School Teachers of the two counties, have been holding a Teachers' Institute during the week in our town. We have been unable to attend the sessions regularly, to our exceeding regret, and can give no general report of the proceedings. The best evidence of their interest, however, is the fact that the audience daily increased in numbers.

On Wednesday evening the question, "What is the best method of securing parental co-operation," was discussed; and it was very clearly shown one way at least, was the teacher to do his whole duty as an honest, active, sober, live and intelligent instructor, to mind his own business and let politics alone.

Those who attended must have been struck with the peculiar fitness of Prof. Newal for the position he holds as Principal of the State Normal School. His mode of imparting instruction is simple, practical, admirable, and carries with it the conviction of his thorough and perfect familiarity with his subject. These Institutes are a most valuable part of our present Public School system, and cannot fail to do much towards increasing the efficiency of our teachers. It would be better if they could be held in each county, at least twice during the year. There seemed to be considerable interest manifested by our citizens outside of the body of teachers. The teachers themselves entered into the exercises with a seriousness commensurate with the occasion, and evinced an earnest desire, generally, to derive all the profit they could.

Those who heard Prof. N.'s explosion of the old theory of pausing in reading at every stop, whether the sense required it or not, will certainly never forget it; and it seemed to be a new theory to a considerable portion of the teachers.
