LOCAL MATTERS.

The Circuit Court.

On Monday Judge Wickes pronounced the sentence of the law upon the following parties convicted at the recent term of the Court:

Negro Jim, convicted of burglary: sent to the Penitentiary for 6 years from October 31st.

Thomas Butler, negro, convicted of stealing a gun from John Bordley: sent to the Penitentiary for 2 years and 6 mos.

Robt. Gentry, negro, convicted of stealing meat and salt from B. H. Gardner: sent to the Penitentiary for 10 months.

James Goosberry, negro, convicted of stealing the meat of C. A. A. Stanley, 3 years and 6 months.

Charles Smith alias Charles Henry Collins, negro, convicted of stealing a watch from Henry Walley: to be confined in the Penitentiary 18 months.

Daniel Smith and Susan Chamberlain, convicted of attempting to poison Mrs. Smith, (the wife of Daniel Smith), Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Rasin, were sentenced each to the Penitentiary 10 years in the case of Mrs. Smith and two years each, in each of the other cases; giving each of them a term of 14 years from the 31st day of October, 1870.

There has been no case of crime for some years, in our county, which has created such a deep feeling in the community—an attempt on the part of the husband and his paramour to make way with the wife by poison.

We propose to give a brief history of the case as developed by the testimony.

On the 26th day of September Mrs. Chamberlain gave to a Mrs. Caleb, (who lived next door) a piece of pie or custard which she gave to her children, and they eat without bad effects. At the same time she gave her also a piece of pie wrapped in a piece of paper and asked her to give it to Mrs. Smith, who was working at the fruit canning factory of Messrs. Ruth & Hines, where Mrs. Caleb also worked. Mrs. Caleb gave the pie to Mrs. Smith, as directed, who shared it with Mrs. Garrett and Rasin and they three eat of it. Soon thereafter they were strangely affected with burning in the face and throat and dimness of vision. In the course of an hour or two they were assisted to walk to their homes and medical aid was summoned. Poison of the character of Belladona was suspected and the proper remedies administered. Mrs. Chamberlain was immediately arrested and carried before a Magistrate, when she denied having put anything deleterious in the pie. It transpired, however, on the examination, that a small son of the accused had applied to a druggist for arsenic, and was refused, but returned and purchased a rat exterminator. A search of Mrs. Chamberlain's premises discovered a bottle of the exterminator partially used, which she denied all knowledge of. Mrs. Chamberlain was confined in jail, and some time thereafter, made a confession, implicating Daniel Smith, the husband of Mrs. Smith. On her sworn statement he was arrested and held to bail. The grand jury found bills of indictment against them both for attempting to poison the three parties. They were both convicted on the statement of Mrs. Chamberlain, which was corroborated in many material points by other testimony. Mrs. Chamberlain testified that for several years, and prior to the death of her husband, Daniel Smith had on various occasions had criminal intercourse with her; that more than once previous to the poisoning he had proposed to her to go off with him; that he finally suggested to her to poison his wife and thus remove all obstacles to their marriage. On Saturday night, the 24th of September, an appointment was made for the following morning to arrange their plans. Smith was to wait for her on a certain road; he was seen there by a witness on that morning, and something later this witness saw a man and woman, answering their description, crossing the field together in the direction described by Mrs. Chamberlain. She then described their walk, and at a certain spot said Smith cut with his knife a Jimson or Jamestown weed, (common stramonium) and directed her to make a decoction of the seed, put it in a pie and give it to his wife; that being accustomed to eat after her she would not be suspected. She gave a minute account of their walk and her subsequent conduct, which was corroborated in all material points. The burr of the weed was boiled and the decoction put in the pie eaten. The use of the rat exterminator was all the time denied.

Smith, in his defence, attempted to show by a colored woman that the Jimson weed which Mrs. Chamberlain brought home, (and which was seen by several witnesses) had a root to it; but the weed was found in her yard, and the stump at the spot indicated; and being put together they were seen to have been one and the same. Smith's infidelity and criminal intercourse with Mrs. Chamberlain was fully proven by several witnesses.

The medical testimony proved that stramonium would produce the symptoms that the poisoned parties gave evidence of.

A portion of the substance discharged from the stomach of Mrs. Smith and Rasin was analyzed by Dr. Aiken of Baltimore. In that of Mrs. Rasin he pronounced the presence of Phosphorous—he could not in the other. Stramonium has no known chemical test, when used in decoction.

Mrs. Chamberlain is of medium height, rather delicate, has black hair and eyes, complexion dark and somewhat sallow; neat and tidy in appearance. She is a widow for the third time; was first married at 14 and is now 28 years old. Her deportment throughout the entire trial, and particularly during the severe cross examination of over an hour on Smith's case, shows her to be a woman of extraordinary nerve and excellent natural sense; but she is destitute of education, being unable even to write her name. She is a native of Cecil county. To a lady who visited her since her conviction, she acknowledged her punishment to be just and her willingness to suffer, but expressed fear lest the man (Smith) who brought it on her should escape. She has four children, one of them an infant, which she took with her to the Penitentiary.

Smith is a native of Chestertown, about 46 years old, and has been married about 5 years to his second wife.

Tin Wedding.

The pleasant method of surprising married folks on the tenth anniversary of their wedding day was most successfully practiced upon Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Corbaley, by some forty of their friends, on the 24th of October last.

The party, bringing with them piles of tin and glassware as presents, refreshments and music, took possession of the premises, and all seemed to enjoy themselves highly. The surprise of the groome and bride of the evening was complete, and the occasion will always be a green spot in the journey of their life. The kindness of their friends can never be effaced.

Allow me to call your attention to my

PREPARATION

OF

Compound Extract Buchu.

The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this, (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever in inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with our approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

Is the great specific for Universal Lassitude, Prostration, &c.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract of Buchu,

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu and Improved Rose Wash

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superceding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.
