

The Farmers' Column.

A Stock Company.

J. S. Galloway, M. D., of Clermont Co., Ohio, contributes to the Germantown Telegraph the following plan, adopted by the farmers of that section for improving their stock. A similar plan has been suggested by The Whig to the farmers of this county. The plan has worked to the profit of the Clermont county farmers, and would prove as advantageous to those of Cecil, if they would adopt it:

"It is a question of some importance how farmers living upon small farms and keeping few animals can avoid the necessity of breeding from inferior males, however good the dams may be. One who keeps only three or four cows, or one or two sows, cannot afford to keep a fine bull or boar to serve them. Few persons comparatively are willing to share a reasonable part of the expense by paying a liberal fee for the use of such animals.—Hence the habit of depending upon inferior specimens becomes fixed, and in many places people honestly think they possess advantages, especially to small farmers, over the best of the improved breeds.—But after all there are not many persons who do not feel well-pleased to get a calf, a lamb or a litter of pigs from an improved stock. The prejudice is not so much against the expense of producing it.—"Sour grapes." But to my theme.

"A few of us met last spring and talked over these matters for a few moments. This waked up a new idea, or rather was the means of putting one that was not quite new in working shape. We called a meeting, and half-a-dozen farmers attended it.

A committee was appointed to draw up a plan of organization, and another to ascertain what steps were necessary to secure a legal corporate existence. These things accomplished, a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, with a board of managers, were selected, a few shares of capital stock paid in—five dollars constituting a share—and a committee appointed to make purchases for the company. As a beginning this committee procured a fined Short-Horn bull, eighteen months old, and the best boar they met with in a tour of some days among the breeders of Hamilton and Butler counties. This was in May last. We have more recently procured a superior sheep—cross-bred Leicester and Cotswold—and another pig, a pure Essex. The objects of the company are so highly appreciated that another bull is about being obtained, and in various directions the questions of extending our enterprise is being agitated.

"Not only thus are the benefits being diffused, but inferior females of all classes of animals included in the range of our company's sphere, are being disposed of, and better ones purchased to supply their places. The original idea was to supply the demands of a single neighborhood.—Less than a year has seen it spread beyond this, and a large district will soon be supplied through our agency. Horses were not included in the original idea; but a first-class horse is wanted, and means are being devised for obtaining one. Whether it can done this year is not yet certain. But the final accomplishment of it is presumed to be only a question of time.

"If judiciously managed there is every prospect of this enterprise being so extended as to supply the demand for all classes of animals over a widely-extended district, and a few years will show a very great improvement in the farm-stock as far as it is made available.

"It may be well to add that all animals belonging to the company are entrusted to safe and judicious members for keeping, and the board of managers allow them a fair compensation for the care of them.—A fee is charged for the use animals, not so large as to induce patrons to go elsewhere, but sufficient to pay all expenses and a reasonable profit. This fee, in our company, is the same to stockholders and others. Most farmers who are able take, are expected to take, one or more shares of stock. Persons who cannot do this ought not be required to pay a large fee. The property of the company and all profits belonging to members, and this compensates them for any apparent injustice in this arrangement."

Cow's Urine.—Upon the subject of the value of cow's urine, Dana, who has more experience in the premises than almost any other analytical chemist, says:

The quantity of liquid manure produced by a cow annually is equal to fertilizing 1½ acres of ground, producing effects as durable as the other evacuation. A cord of loam (103 bushels,) saturated with urine, is equal to a cord of the best rotted dung, and the fresh urine of the cow is valued in Flanders at $10 per annum. If the liquid and the solid evacuations including the latter, are kept seperate, and the liquid is soaked up by loam, it has been found they will manure land, in proportion by bulk of 7 liquid to 6 solid, while their actual value is 2 to 1.

100 pounds of cattle urine afford 8 pounds of the most powerful salts which have ever been used by farmers. The simple statement then, in figures, of difference in value of the solid and liquid evacuations of cattle, should impress upon all the importance of saving the last in preference to the first. Let both be saved. If the liquids contained naturally, geine, they might be applied alone, it is the want of that guiding principle which teaches, that salts and geine (mould) should go hand in hand which has sometimes led to results in the application of the liquid, which have given this substance a bad name.

☞ There is a negro debating society in Bainbridge, Georgia, whose last meeting was devoted to the question whether education or money is most beneficial to a community. The advocates of education won the prize—$20 in gold—and then followed a row, the unsuccessful competitors demanding "what de debbil dem chaps dat thought money was no count wanted wid de gold."

THE BEGGAR OF BAGDAD.

BY B. M'GIBBON.

A story is told of a Brahmin of old,
Who went about begging for rice;
And all that he got, he put in a pot,
To keep it away from the mice.

"A famine of bread," so the old Brahmin said,
"Would make a great outcry for food;"
His rice would be sold, for its value in gold,—
A fact that he wished understood.

Two goats he'd then buy, which he had in his eye,
A number which soon would be more;
So, with their increase, and their milk, and their fleece,
He'd soon have a very great store.

He then would buy cows, which would quietly brouse
On herbs, and the grass of his field;
And he would grow rich, on the revenues which
His great droves of cattle would yield.

He'd sell off again, and buy buffaloes then,
To plow and to harrow his land;
And then all the gain, from the sales of his grain,
Would make him quite rich, understand.

Then, mares he would buy,—for their value was high,—
Whose foals he would train for the chase;
And they should be sold, for a value untold,—
And Khaliff, he'd be in the place.

And then a great king, his fair daughter would bring,
Whose heart he would win, and her hand;
A dower, likewise, which he would not despise—
A million rupees, at command.

A mansion of stone, with this wealth, now his own,
He then would build up in Bagdad;
And when it was done, he would then have a son,—
A frolicsome, bright little lad,—

Who never would cry, nor yet fib with a lie,
As did all the bad little boys—
Unwashed little elves, who were left to themselves,
And never had teaching, or toys.

Now, this little child would be just a bit wild,
As children when full of their glee;
And off on a run, he would start, in his fun,
A something or other to see;

While just at the door, there would stand on all four,
A vicious and kicking old mare;
The father would scream, as if waked from a dream,
"Take baby! take baby!—Oh, hear!

"My boy will be killed, and his blood will be spilled,
By that ugly brute at the door!—
As Allah's been kind, now why don't you mind,
I'll throw down the babe on the floor!"

'Twas not kicking mares, but on her household cares
His wife would then be all engaged;
Not thinking the beast, for the moment, at least,
Would be at a trifle enraged.

The Brahmin would get himself then in a fit,
Of thoughtless and dangerous ire;
And, rising up quick, at his wife he would kick,
And upset his rice in the fire.

In Persia, this day, it is common to say,
When any one's plans are unwise,—
Or when it is plain, they are foolish and vain,
"He'll surely kick over his rice."

MORAL.

Be sure you can fly, ere you venture too high—
Let knowledge and actions be matched;
Your chickens don't sell, till they're out of the shell—
"Don't count them before they are hatched."

Cure for Dropsy.—Luther Cross Esq., of Montpelier, Vermont, furnishes the Argus, if that place, the following receipt for the cure of dropsey: "Take cinder from a blacksmith's shop, and beat it fine, sift it to take out the coarse particles, mix the fine cinder in a pint of honey until it is stiff enough to lie on the point of a case knife, not hard like pills; give the patient as much as will lie on the point of a case knife, three times a day—morning, noon and night. This mixture is very purgative, and will cause the patient to discharge great quantities of water both purgatively and by urine. The portion may be given according to the operation; if the portion named above appears to be too severe, give less, if it is not enough give more, and continue until the swelling is gone. The patient may eat any diet but milk, of which not a drop should be taken. No other kind of medicine should be taken while using the above." Mr. Cross says: "I have known several persons who were cured of that dreadful disease by using the above mixture, some of whom were so bad that the water oozed out of their tracks as they walked the floor."

☞ A story is told at the expense of a legal gentleman who was formerly well known in Norwich, Conn., who now lives at Oshkosh, Wis. One Smith had failed in business and sold out, and having two or three tough little bills, had given them to his lawyer for collection. Smith went to the office to receive the proceeds. The amount collected was about $50. "I'm sorry you've been so unfortunate Smith, for I take a great interest in you. I sha'nt charge you as much as I should if I didn't feel so much interest in you." Here he handed Smith $15 and kept the ballance. "You see, Smith, I knew you when a boy, and I knew your father before you, and I take a great deal of interest in you. Good morning. Come and see me again!" Smith, moving slowly out of the door, and ruefully contemplating the avails, was heard to mutter: "Thank God he did not know my grandfather."

Harness Blacking.—Take three sticks of black sealing wax, and dissolve them in half a pint of alcohol, and apply with a sponge. This varnish has luster and will not injure the leather.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S
COMPOUND FLUID
Extract Catawba
GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely Vegetable, containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious Drugs.

H

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and 'cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. The Catawba Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. 50 cents per box.

E

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Will radically exterminate from the system scrofula, syphilis, fever sores, ulcers, sore eyes, sore legs, sore mouth, sore head, bronchitis, skin diseases, salt rheum, cankers, runnings from the ear, white swellings, tumors, cancerous affections, nodes, rickets, glandular swellings, night sweats, rash, tetter, humors of all kinds, chronic rheumatism, dyspepsia, and all disases that have been established in the system for years.

L

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood-purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complexion a clear and healthy color and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of pains and swelling of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimples on the face, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin, and beautifying the complexion.

M

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S
Concentrated Fluid Extract Buchu,
THE GREAT DIURETIC,

has cured every case of diabetes in which it has been given, irritation of the neck of the bladder and inflammation of the kidneys, ulceration of the kidneys and bladder, retention of urine, diseases of the prostrate gland, stone in the bladder, culculus, gravel, brick-dust deposit, and mucous or milky discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: indisposition to exertion, loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, weak nerves, trembling, horror of disease, wakefulness, dimness of vision, pain in the back, hot hands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, eruption on the face, universal lassitude of the nervous system, etc.

Used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55 or in the decline or change of life; after confinement or labor pains; bed-wetting in children.

B

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is diuretic and blood-purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, and excesses and imprudences of life, impurities of the blood, &c., superseding Copaiva in affections for which it is used, and syphilitic affections—in these diseases used in connection with Helmbold's Rose Wash.

Ladies.—In many affections peculiar to ladies the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy—as in chlorosis or retention, irregularity, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, ulcerated or schirrus state of the uterus, leuchorrea or whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or habits of dissipation. It is prescribed extensively by the most eminent physicians and midwifes for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes and all ages, attended with any of the above diseases or symptoms.

O

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU Cures Diseases, arising from imprudences, habits of dissipation, etc., in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change of diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all poisonous matter.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the Poison has, by the use of powerful astringents, been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. $1.50 per bottle.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Cannot be surpassed as a Face Wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It speedily eradicates pimples, spots, scorbutic dryness, indurations of the cutaneous membrane, &c., dispels redness and incipient inflammation, hives, rash, moth patches, dryness of scalp or skin, frost bites, and all purposes for which salves or ointments are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principal claim to unbounded patronage by possessing qualities which render it a toilet appendage of the most superlative and congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, safety and efficacy—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a preservative and refresher of the complexion.
