LOCAL MATTERS.

Fatal and Melancholy Accident.

Monday last, Mr. L. M. Rollison, who was carrying on the Urieville Mills, in company with other gentlemen had spent the greater part of the day fox-hunting, and towards night when within about a mile of his home, while riding rapidly his horse shied, and falling, his head was brought violently against a tree, mashing his temple and killing him instantly.

Land Sale next Monday.

Henry W. Archer, Esq., as Trustee, will sell in front of the Court House, at 3 o'clock, P. M., on Monday next, the property situated on Chester river and known as the "Travilla Farm." See advertisement in another column.

Serious Accident.

Thursday morning last a young man named Edward Riggin, acting for the time as brakesman on the gravel train on the Kent County Railroad, fell from the car near Kennedyville, and was badly injured, the rear truck running over him, tearing his right arm dreadfully and shattering the bone above the elbow. The flesh from his right hip down to the ankle was also badly torn and bruised. The flesh was entirely torn from the left ankle and the bone protruded. Drs. Melvin and Harris attended him, and hope to save his arm. Mr. Riggin is a very estimable young man, and a member of the Reed Rifle corps of Chestertown.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Judging from the letters and telegrams received here from New York to-day, there is considerable sensitiveness felt in financial quarters over the reopening and possible decision of the question of the constitutionality of the legal tender act, which was to come up in the Supreme Court for argument, in the cases of Knox vs. Lee et al., and Parker against Davis. The order made by the court on Monday was that Hon. Clarkson N. Potter, of New York, should open the argument, and be replied to by the Attorney General, and then Mr. Potter allowed the closing speech, the argument, by the same order, to be confined to the following points: First—Is the act of Congress known as the legal tender act constitutional as to contracts made before the war? Second—Is it applicable to transactions since its passage? Justice Neisen was not ready to-day, and so the cases were not proceeded with, and it is somewhat doubtful if they are now argued at this term. Even if argued, no decision is expected till next term Justice Swayne read a paper of some length, setting forth the number of times the cases had been postponed during the present term, they having several times been set for argument, although the fact had not been publicly announced by the court.—At the time the argument was fixed for to-day, it was supposed that the day agreed upon would suit the convenience of Mr. Justice Nelson. Is was unjust to the parties to the cases that there should be such delay, and the great importance of the questions involved demanded their early consideration.

THE MARCH SESSION.

There was a spirited debate in the House this afternoon among the republican members on the question of concurring in a Senate amendment to the deficiency bill providing for the repeal of the law for the meeting of Congress in March. Mr. Dawes and others took the position that the country did not desire these continuous sessions, and declared that in a party view the present one had thus far done no good. Those of the same party faith who opposed the repeal thought that the safety of the government demanded that Congress should always be organized. The contingency was suggested that if Congress did not meet in March, an organization of the House might be prevented in an instance where an electorial vote for President was to be counted, if parties were balanced as in 1855 and 1859, when some two months were occupied in electing a Speaker. As the second and not the first session, however, counts an electoral vote, the argument did not seem to have much force. The question of repeal seems to be in doubt.

A Game of Base Ball.

MR. EDITOR—Never was vain ostentation more arrogantly displayed than by the Rustic Nine, or rather the quintessence of Kent county. Their Captain's braggadocia was certainly unparalleled in the annals of presumption: for a week they were continually vaunting of their superior playing, especially the Captain, until the time rolled around for a practical illustration. Arriving on the College ground, the game commenced. The Rustic countenances wore a most beaming aspect until the third inning, when lo! what an amazing transmutation—how quick their merry laughter and happy exchange of congratulation changed to gloomy and dejected mutterings. When we—the Chester—went to the bat the last inning, their Captain walked to the Pitcher's stand, and uttered this terrible mandate to his ambitious Pitcher, "Go to the third base, sir!" He went with some reluctance, for 'twas a great fall of his feathers and aspirations. There stood their crest-fallen Captain, silently witnessing the downfall of what he once thought mighty.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.—The right of women to vote under the constitution of the United States is soon to be tested in South Carolina. At the election in last October in that State five colored women were allowed to vote at a certain place. The managers of the election were arrested, tried and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $200 each. The managers have carried the case to the United States Circuit Court, which meets in Charleston this month, the basis of appeal being that the constitution authorizes females to vote.

Looking at the Silver Side.

A New York radical journal says: "But, to say the simple truth, the Democratic leaders throughout the country—save, perhaps, some eccentric exceptions like J. Q. Adams, have for eight years been a set of political hypocondriacs. They have persistently looked on the dark side—always at the cloud, never at the silver lining."

This last, we admit, can not be said of the radicals. Catch them not looking at the "silver lining!" Anything lined in that way is in their line exactly. Everything in the sky above, or the earth beneath, is looked at by them with chief reference to its silver or golden lining.

The Democrats, quoth the journal, "have for eight years been a set of political hypocondriacs." What a low-spirited and dyspeptic set, who could refuse to be jolly over the events of the last eight years! A man or a party must be hard to please indeed, which couldn't fiddle and dance besides, while our modern Rome has been burning. The sight of a once happy and powerful republic rent in twain; a million of men killed or disabled; almost every household in the land clothed in mourning; our commerce swept from the sea; enormous debts and taxation; military despotism and negro rule in once free States, furnish a spectacle which must throw every loyal soul into spasms of delight, and which none but copper-heads and rebels can fail to regard as cheering and mirth-moving in the highest degree. There has been a "cloud," it is true, but though it deluged the land in blood and tears, it wasn't much of a shower after all. At the worst, it had its "silver lining"—its fat contracts, building up rich shoddy aristocracies on dead men's bones; its plunder, patronage and place; its innumerable rings, bright with all the hues of the rainbow, and absorbing the gold and silver coloring of the central sun. No wonder these "silver lining" fellows are gay and festive in the midst of general tribulation, and find it as difficult as any other ticks, mosquitoes and blood-suckers to understand why a process which is so agreeable to themselves can be at all dispiriting to those who are the victims. Perhaps the day may come, however, when the rogues will have to disgorge their "silver linings," and we shall see whose turn it will be to look on the dark side then. —Episcopal Methodist.

BLACKSMITHING AND WHEELWRIGHTING.

WE, the undersigned, take this method of informing our friends and the public that we have connected Wheelwrighting with our former business, believing it will be better for ourselves and our customers too, as we will be able to work much lower where there is to be but one profit. We have in our employ. We intend to have the wood work done as we have had our Blacksmithing—that is to say, in the very best manner; and we are willing for the public to be the judges. Our experience is that "the best is the cheapest."

Good Seasoned Stock,
And Good Workmen

We will have Plows, Cultivators & Harrows for sale. We shall also put up new Carts,

Wagons, Dearborns, Express Wagons,

&c., in good style.

ALL KINDS OF REPAIRING DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Our work will be done as low as at any other establishment here or elsewhere, in the State or outside of it. We are determined to leave no excuse in the way of those who have heretofore been sending their money out of our own community—where it is so sadly needed—to build up manufacturers at a distance. We challenge a comparison of our work with that done any where else, as to price, material, workmanship, style, finish, or any other essential.

MILLING.

CHESTERTOWN, DEC. 27TH, 1870.

The subscriber most respectfully informs the Public that after the first day of January next he will take possession of the Mill and will conduct it, he hopes, more to the satisfaction of the Public than for some time past. He is in treaty for a very superior Miller, and soon as the Spring opens will make some improvements which must render her equal to any Mill on the Eastern Shore.

He hopes whenever there is any cause of complaint to be at once notified of the same. By strict attention or supervision, and competent workmen, he hopes soon to be able to re-establish her former reputation.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipent consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers* find great protection from it.

Asthma* is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis* is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

Sold by J. L. Stam, Chestertown; J. P. Ireland, Galena, and all druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere. [Nov. 19, 1870.
