HANDENBURGH & CO.'S MENAGERIES AND CIRCUSES are announced to exhibit in our town Thursday next. We have no knowledge of the merits of this affair, but have been furnished with the following complimentary notice thereof:

[From the London Times, 1870.]

Handenburgh & Co.'s Mammoth Menageries and Circuses made their entree yesterday and created a sensation. We can, unequivocally, say that a more tasteful and extensive street parade we have never before witnessed. The chariots, berlins, elephants, camels cages, draught horses, trained steeds and petite ponies, really made "a line of solid wealth nearly a mile long." It at once convinced the public that Messrs. Handenburgh & Co.'s agents had not misrepresented facts, and that the liberal promises made were to be fully verified. As a menagerie it has no equal in the country: in fact, none of such ample proportions has ever been organized. The animals are all splendid specimens, and a great number are of the species never before exhibited either here or in America, particularly the pet elephant Lattee. The exhibition of the animals and the circus performances drew large audiences both afternoon and night, and will, undoubtedly, draw crowds to-day and this evening, which will be the last opportunities our citizens will have for witnessing this truly great Show.

The Kent County Railroad.

Monday last we took the cars at Worton station on the Kent County road, and punctually to the minute the iron horse moved off with the passenger train, carrying a committee of the directors, the gentlemanly superintendent, and a number of passengers. It was our first trip over the recently completed section from Worton to Kennedyville, and by invitation of the superintendent we took the rear platform to examine the road, and see the country. From Worton to Kennedyville the road passes through a section which cannot be excelled for beauty or as an agricultural region. The land is fertile, improved to a considerable extent and just sufficiently undulating for farming purposes. This portion of our county is destined to become one vast peach orchard. A number of bearing orchards already border on the road, and many young orchards have been planted out since the road was commenced. The work on this section of our road has been performed in a manner which makes the track equal to any road in the country. Every thing bears the marks of durability. We arrived at Kennedyville in railroad time, and upon the landing as usual found the "Jakes" and other celebrities of the vicinity—the smiling and obliging expressman, Charlie, was also around. From Kennedyville to Massey's we pick up an occasional passenger, and passed into the village just as the locomotive with the Queen Anne's train came snorting and blowing up the Kent and Queen Anne's road, with a delegation of the directors of that road. The representatives of the two Boards were on their way to Philadelphia to re-lease the Townsend branch. A contract for three years, we learn, was concluded on a very satisfactory basis by both roads conjointly, our roads paying three per cent. on the cost of the Townsend branch—about $6,000—and keeping up repairs. The road will shortly be completed to our town and then, we hear, arrangements will be made for an afternoon train, giving two trains per day each to the Kent and Queen Anne's roads.

MILLING.

CHESTERTOWN, DEC. 27TH, 1870.

The subscriber most respectfully informs the Public that after the first day of January next he will take possession of the Mill and will conduct it, he hopes, more to the satisfaction of the Public than for some time past. He is in treaty for a very superior Miller, and soon as the Spring opens will make some improvements which must render her equal to any Mill on the Eastern Shore.

He hopes whenever there is any cause of complaint to be at once notified of the same. By strict attention or supervision, and competent workmen, he hopes soon to be able to re-establish her former reputation.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

Sold by J. L. Stam, Chestertown; J. P. Ireland, Galena, and all druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere. [Nov. 19, 1870.
