LOCAL MATTERS.

Homicide.

On Monday evening last, George Henry Walls and Alexander Newton were at a drinking house at Morris' Station, the last in Maryland on the Kent county railroad going towards Delaware. After drinking some time they left and went up the track towards Delaware; and we have the following account of what transpired.

Having proceeded a short distance they met two negro women who they pulled around some, and then continued their walk until they met a negro man named Robert Hacket; with whom Newton commenced a quarrel and finally struck. Hacket closed upon him and Newton drew his Knife. At this juncture Walls interfered, but not until Hacket had been so severely cut that he died the next morning. Newton then made his escape. Walls has been arrested and was committed to Jail by Justice Britton.

The Dedication

Of the new Hall of the Worton Farmers' Club took place on Thursday, and the exercises conducted in accordance with the previously well-arranged programme. There was a full attendance of the membership, and many invited ladies. Mr. E. P. Janvier, the orator of the day, delivered an excellent address. The exercises opened with prayer by Rev. H. C. Cushing, and were interspersed with delightful music. Refreshments in abundance, at the close of the speaking, &c., were partaken of by the guests. A very attractive feature of the occasion was the exhibition, by Dr. Vannort, of choice fruits, flowers and vegetables. The affair was altogether a success and the occurrence of much social enjoyment to those present.

The Orphans' Court

MAY 30.—Present, James Beck, of Geo., Thomas Lusby, and William Stevens.

The Court passed a number of claims against the estates of deceased parties.

John R. Lusby, adm'r. of L. L. Rollison, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of deceased, which was received, and ordered to be recorded.

Letters of administration, C. T. A., on the personal estate in Kent county, Md., of Mary M. Matlack, late of Chester Co., Pa., were granted to Wm. C. Matlack, of Chester Co., Pa., with David M. McFarland of Chester Co., Pa., and Richard Hynson, as sureties. The legal notice to creditors was ordered.

On application, ordered that C. J. Scott, executor of James G. Chrisfield, deceased, sell at public sale two wood lots, and the proceeds thereof to constitute a part of the resi-due of his estate.

County Commissioners:

Present, Wm. Thos. Hepbron, Thomas P. Dixon, Stevenson Constable.

Jacob Sutton received an order for $837.50 for work done on bridge across Perkins' hill branch.

Ordered, that Sewell Hepbron have permission to plant a thorn hedge three feet in the public road running through his farm, and to plant a hedge on the opposite side, three feet inside the fence.

After making transfers the Court adjourned.

Rev. A. Webster, D. D.,

Will preach at St. James' M. P. Church, Worton, to-morrow (Sunday) morning, at 10½ o'clock.

Prof. E. Heginbotham,

Of Baltimore, a well known instructor in and composer of vocal music, is engaged in teaching a class, numbering thirty-two, in the M. P. Church in this town. The course embraces eight lessons, which are given every Saturday and Monday night, the Professor coming over for that purpose every week. We learn the class are very much pleased with the method of instruction, and are making rapid advancement.

The M. P. Chapel,

Recently removed from the corner of Queen and Court streets to Cross street, adjoining the Church building, has been enlarged by the addition of 14 feet, making the size of the room 20 by 44 feet. As soon as the plastering is finished we learn it is designed that the Sabbath School sessions shall be held there instead of in the audience room of the Church as at present.

The Strawberry Crop

In this vicinity has, we are glad to hear, been so far a paying one to the growers of first-class fruit; it bringing such good prices in Baltimore and Philadelphia, that but little except ordinary—and the most of it very ordinary fruit at that—finds its way to our market. It has been selling at from 8 to 15 cts. a quart. Good fruit, sent to the cities, has been netting from 16 to 20 cts. a quart. The vines, in consequence of the very dry weather, are not bearing well, and a few days more without rain will close the season.

Berry Culture.

Farmers are beginning, of late, to turn their attention more to the cultivation of small fruits. Last Spring acres of strawberry, raspberry and blackberry plants were set out in different sections of the county. We believe this is a move in the right direction, Grain growing with us can never be as profitable as heretofore, from the fact that we cannot compete with the virgin soil of the West. By means of the vast railroad connections recently completed, corn can be shipped from Kansas and sold, at a good profit to the grower, in New York city; and Baltimore market is flooded with Western flour. But a new and more profitable industry is opened up for this section, the soil and climate of which is adapted to the early growth, in great perfection, of all kinds of fruits and vegetables. On account of our proximity to the great cities of New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore—being only 7 hours from the first named, and 4 and 3 from the last—but a few years can elapse before their chief supplies will be drawn from this region. Then will farming be profitable indeed: those engaged in it are beginning to see this, and are preparing to "accept the situation."

Wharf Improvement.

The Chester River Steamboat Company have finished their new wharf at the foot of High street. The filling required 50,000 bushels of oyster shells, which were brought in sail vessels from Baltimore. The wharf as completed has a river front of 150 feet, and is of a very substantial character. But they greatly need a comfortable room for the accommodation of passengers. At present, all who do business with the boats are entirely at the mercy of the weather—whether hot or cold, wet or dry. We learn the Comny have in contemplation the erection of a building 20 by 40 feet, in which an apartment will be fitted up for the convenience of persons awaiting the arrival of the boats. It should be done immediately.

The Sunday School Convention—

The Programme of which we published several weeks ago—will be held at the M. E. Church in this town on Tuesday and Wednesday next. Three sessions—morning, afternoon and evening—will be held each day. A similar Convention held about two years ago, at the same place, was very successful in numbers and interest: and we feel sure the friends of the Sabbath School cause in Kent will enter upon the undertaking in such a spirit as will make the coming a still more instructive, interesting and successful Convention than was the last.

Rev. A. Webster, D. D.,

Of Baltimore city, preached in the M. P. Church of this town, Sunday last, morning and night. The text used in the morning's discourse was from Revelations, chap. xxii, 17th verse: at night from Philippians, chap. iv, 11th, 12th and 13th verses. The congregations were large, and embraced numbers from other Churches. Dr. Webster, it is scarcely necessary to say, fully maintained his high character as a thoroughly practical, zealous and eloquent preacher of the Gospel.

Rev. S. G. Valiant,

The junior preacher on Kent circuit, is still absent, endeavoring by change of air and rest to recruit his health, which had become so delicate as to unfit him for the work of the ministry. The latest advices did not afford ground for the hope that he will soon again be engaged in his work, for which he has great zeal; and in which, if health is afforded, he will no doubt be most able and useful.

A Camp Meeting

Under the auspices of the M. E. Church of this town, will be held on the old ground belonging to the Church, in Baker's Woods. The meeting will commence Friday the 28th of July next.

Enlarging their Borders.

Chapman & Lambert, the well known, energetic, skillful and deservedly successful blacksmiths and machinists, last Tuesday in order to enlarge their premises, purchased the lot of ground adjoining them, on the corner of Cross and Cannon streets. The price paid was $600. The two small tenements occupying a portion of the ground, they intend to remove: the prosecution of their business on the enlarged scale contemplated will require the use of the entire premises.

Repaving and Improving.

Mr. T. S. Wickes last week had the old pavement in front of his store removed, and in its place a new one laid, of first-class brick; the grade has also been changed, bringing it up to a proper height. We are glad to notice that the good example thus set has an imitator this week in Mr. S. Frank. Smith who is re-laying, widening and grading the side-walk in front of his store and residence and in front of Mr. Reiche's furniture establishment. We hope the good work will not cease until the neighbors of the gentlemen above named likewise "mend their ways."

An Old Settler

In the shape of a wide-front one-story brick house, the property of Mr. Montgomery Stewart, on High street, adjoining Dr. Twilley's residence, has been razed to the ground. The site is a very pretty one, and we learn Mr. Stewart intends erecting thereon a handsome double two-story frame dwelling, with mansard roof.

The Old Eccleston Property

Now in the occupancy of Dr. Urie, is undergoing considerable and long-needed improvement. For some years the fencing has been destroyed, and the garden and yard in consequence, have been a public grazing ground for the town cows. A very substantial and neat paling fence now encloses the entire premises, the road-way properly graded, and will be finished by paving with cobble-stone, and the side of the front yard running parallel with the pavement, brought to a grade that very much improves its appearance. After the completion of the work in hand, doubtless the dwelling will receive such attention as will render it in keeping with the nice appearance of the premises surrounding.

Desperate Street Fight at Harrison, Mississippi.

From the Memphis Avalanche, May 27.

From a gentleman who arrived in the city yesterday morning, and Avalanche reporter learned the following particulars of a shooting affray that occurred Thursday evening at Harrison, a small station on the Mississippi and Tennesee railroad, in Tallahatchie county, Mississippi, between a young gentleman named Fred. Craig and a man named Coggeshall, representative elect from that county to the Legislature. The parties had had a personal difficulty during the day, but had been separated before any blows passed, although some pretty rough language was used by both parties. About 5 o'clock in the evening Mr. Craig walked up to where Coggeshall was standing in front of one of the stores and asked for an explanation concerning some language which he had used. Coggeshall was standing at this time with both hands in his pockets, and when young Craig asked him for an explanation he proceeded to give it by pulling a couple of Derringer pistols—cocked, and one in each hand—which he pointed directly at Craig's head, who was standing in three feet of him. That would have been explanation enough for most men. But Craig, instead of saying that was all he wanted, struck Coggeshall a violent blow in the face, turning him about half way around. Wheeling back, Coggeshall pulled the trigger of his right-hand pistol, but which, fortunately for young Craig, did not explode the cap, and by the time he could use his left-hand pistol, Craig had drawn his revolver, and both men, who by this time had got ten or fifteen paces apart, fired at the same time. Coggeshall's ball passing over Craig's head, while the latter shot hit him in the left breast, the ball glancing around the bone, and producing a serious flesh wound. As soon as he was shot, Coggeshall started to run, and had got off about thirty paces distant when Craig again fired, this time striking him in the calf of his left leg.—Turning, Coggeshall fired his remaining shot from the pistol which would not go the first time, and missing Craig, who was standing still, he again started off in a run. He got away about fifty yards before Craig fired third and last shot, which struck him in the lower portion of his back. This shot brought him to the ground, seeing which Craig put up his revolver and walked off, while a number of Coggeshall's friends went to his assistance and removed him to a neighboring drug store where his wounds were dressed.

CALL FOR KNIGHTS!

THE young gentlemen throughout the county having concluded to hold a

TOURNAMENT

CHESTERTOWN, DEC. 27TH, 1870.

The subscriber most respectfully informs the Public that after the first day of January next he will take possession of the Mill and will conduct it, he hopes, more to the satisfaction of the Public than for some time past. He is in treaty for a very superior Miller, and soon as the Spring opens will make some improvements which must render her equal to any Mill on the Eastern Shore.

He hopes whenever there is any cause of complaint to be at once notified of the same. By strict attention or supervision, and competent workmen, he hopes soon to be able to re-establish her former reputation.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
