LOCAL MATTERS.

J. K. Aldridge,

The Stove and Tin man of our town, has put up an extensive back building to his recently purchased property, for the accommodation of his increasing business. His addition will give him ample room to display his stock of stoves and tin, and will mutually benefit him and his customers.

Mr. Wilbur F. Massey.

Florist, has, we learn, leased the lands of John N. Usilton, Esq., on the outskirts of the town, for fifteen years, at an annual rent of $600 for the first two years and $1000 per annum for the remainder of the time. Mr. Massey proposes to engage extensively in the nursery, small fruit and gardening business in connection with his present arrangements as Florist. He has a natural aptness for, and will doubtless succeed in, his undertaking.

Raspberries.

We have received from Mr. George Stephens two very fine specimens of raspberries of his growing, the "Philadelphia" and the "Brandywine." The Philadelphia are a deep red, resembling the English in color, and are common in our market. The Brandywine is something new to us, of good size, bright color, and pronounced by the lovers of this particular berry of a very fine flavor. We are old-fashioned enough ourselves to like only the black raspberry.

Improvement.

Mr. Montgomery Stewart is building on High street, on the site of his old residence opposite the property of the late Col. Wickes, a large two-story frame building, for two dwellings with back buildings. This building is being constructed somewhat different from anything we have heretofore seen. The studding runs the entire heighth of the building; and in place of the ordinary plate, an inch and-a-half board is let into the studding on which the floor joists rest. The entire frame is constructed without mortices or tenons, and seems quite as substantial as the old style, and is certainly much cheaper.

Kent National Bank.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Kent National Bank has declared a semi-annual Dividend of ten per cent. payable on and after to-day.—This flattering exhibit is doubtless owing to the efficiency of its present officers and the confidence of the community in their capability and integrity.

To Farmers.

We call the attention of the farmers of our and the adjoining counties, to the "Eureka Fanning Mill, advertised in our columns by Hines & Burchinal, Chestertown. From a personal inspection and the opinions of those who are competent to judge from experience we feel warranted in saying that it doubtless possesses great advantages over other Fans which have been presented to the public, and the merits claimed for it.

S. Franklin Smith

Has painted up his Dwelling and Store Houses on High street improving their appearance very materially. The neat fance around the Eccleston properly immediately opposite, has also improved that section of our town.

Workingmen's Library.

This Library, which has been but a short time in progress, is advancing steadily to a position of solidity and permanence. Commencing in the early part of May with only 115 volumes, the number has thus early been increased to 460 volumes, including the following: Harper's Monthly Magazine, complete, 42 volumes; McSherry's History of Maryland, McCauley's History of England, Egypt 3,300 years ago, Bancroft's Washington, Napoleon's Caesar, Gray, Bulwer, Cooper, Dickens, Marion Harland, Irving, Lever, Scott, &c., &c.

The Orphans' Court.

Present, Jas. Beck, of Geo., Thos. Lusby, and William Stevens.

The Court passed a number of accounts against the estates of deceased parties.

F. S. Dunlap, admr. of Francis D. Dunlap, late of Delaware city, returned a list of sperate, also his first and final administration account. Ordered to be recorded.

Chas. H. Baker, executor of Wm. T. Baker, and acting guardian to his minor children, was authorized to remove the barn on the farm occupied by Lemuel Stevens.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Wm. H. Wickes, late of Kent Co., deceased, were granted to Richard Hynson, with William B. Wilmer and Thos. B. Hynson as sureties. Thomas W. Ringgold and Vachel Burgess were appointed to appraise the estate, and the legal notice to creditors ordered.

Color in West Point.

[From St. Louis Christian Advocate]

Cadet Smith has been reinforced by another colored cadet. The government is determined "to fight it out on that line," but the prospect is not cheering. Social life seems to be absolutely impenetrable to Radical ideas. The negro has not advance a step in the church or the parlor since his investment with equal rights. The Northern people are as intractable in this respect as the Southern. Even Boston, where Bro. Haven has his seat, is as far gone in prejudice of caste as less illuminated cities. It is customary to have a ball, or as it is vulgarly called a hop, at West Point once a year. It is the rule that every cadet on that occasion is entitled to have a partner assigned him, but no partner can be found for cadet Smith. So far the Government has not been able to procure one; so cadet Smith is likely to be denied his equal right to hop. It has been suggested to meet the difficulty by inviting a dancing damsel of subdued color, for cadet Smith's special saltatory accommodation, but the Caucasian women refuse to accept invitations if one shall be bestowed upon an agile female of under-the-standard complexion. The faculty sagaciously outflanked the position by decreeing that there should be no hop this year; but the War Department, impelled by passionate concern for the authority of the Government as represented by cadet Smith, insisted that the institution shall hop. So now all parties are "hopping," but nobody will hop. The whole power of this mighty government can not make girls dance! Was there ever such a commentary upon the vanity of man's force apparatus, when it encounters inexplicable fixed ideas!

We care little about "the hop". There is something vulgar and degrading in the name. We would not hop ourselves. We would be ashamed to be seen hopping like a toad, even if we could hop as well as a toad, which we can not; but we will, nevertheless, make a suggestion. Why not let the cadets hop by themselves? What is the use of female partners? It is all for exercise, we know. Why can not the cadets be exercised without girls exercising, too? Let the cadets hop with one another. There are two colored ones now, for hopper and counter-hopper. By all means let them hop together, and "let us have peace."

But where is the progress we hear so much about? Where is the circle of Republican advance at West Point? Where are the wives and daughters of Republican officials that a partner can not be found to hop or counter-hop with cadet Smith? In Boston, right under the eyes of Bro. Haven, we are pained to learn that white congregations, though professing in theory entire sanctification from prejudice of color, can not be brought to tolerate the ministry of Bro. Mars. Practically, the negro has not gained an inch upon the social exclusiveness of Boston. The exuberant professions of fraternity, in practice, prove words and nothing more. Even on the day set apart for the decoration of the graves of Union soldiers the spirit of caste asserted itself with decided vigor. Companies of white and black soldiers (even in Massachusetts they do not mix in military organizations) united in the ceremony. The white soldiers had provided conveyances for themselves. The blacks presumed to share them, where-upon there was leveling of bayonets and threats of instant war. It will not do. It is a sheer and hopeless failure.

THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL.—Issued on the Occasion of his Jubilee.—Another encyclical letter has been issued by the Pope, dated at Rome, June 4th, upon the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his accession to the chair. In this letter he alludes to some of the more notable spiritual and temporal events of his pontificate. He is thankful that he has been able to proclaim in the course of this pontificate, according to our desire and that of the Catholic world, the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mother of God, and to render honors to several heroes of our religion. We doubt not that their assistance, chiefly that of the Holy Mother, will not fail the Catholic Church in these tempestuous times." The ecumenical Council is dismissed in a line of mention, and then, after lamenting the evils which have overtaken the temporal power, the Pope alludes, apparently, to the Dollinger and Hyacinthe affairs, as follows:

"We have, my venerable brethren, still another cause, and a greater one, for grief, when we see that so many rebellious sons, bound to us by so many ties of allegiance, persist in disregarding our paternal voice and their own salvation, throwing away the time which God yet offers them for repentance, and preferring to incur the anger of Divine retribution rather than to avail themselves in time of the fruits of mercy."

Finally, after conferring authority upon the bishops, etc., "to give the Papal blessing, with absolution, in the ordinary form of the Catholic Church, and with our apostolic authority, on the 16th and 21st of this month, or any other day at your choice," the letter concludes:

"Desiring to watch over the spiritual welfare of the faithful, we grant, in the Lord, by these presents, that all Christmas of both sexes, in whatever diocese they may be, who have made confession, entered into the holy communion, and have addressed to God pious prayers for the concord of Christian prince, the extirpation of here[illegible] and the exaltation of our holy mother [illegible], should obtain absolution of all their

THE ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH IN [illegible].—The New York Tribune of the 21st [illegible] has a communication giving an extract from Arthur Young's Travels, which is probably new to many of our readers, and will be read now with interest. It is taken from the Dublin Edition of 1793, vol. 1, p. 135. Mr Young writes from Paris, Oct. 16, 1787:

"In the evening to Mons, Lomond, a very ingenious and inventive mechanic, [illegible] In electricity he has made a remarkable discovery; you write two or three words on a paper; he takes it with him into a room, and turns a machine inclosed in a cylindrical case, on the top of which in an electrometer, a small, fine pith ball; a wire connects with a similar cylinder and electrometer in a distant apartment, and his wife, by remarking the corresponding motions of the ball, writes down the words they indicate, from which it appears that he has formed an alphabet of motions. As the length of the wire makes no difference in the effect, a correspondence might be carried on at any distance, within and without a besieged town, for instance, or for a purpose much more worthy and a thousand times more harmless, between two lovers prohibited or prevented from any better connection. Whatever the use may be, the invention is beautiful."

Doubtless M. Lomond was overwhelmed by the revolution then impending. A man of genius and industry, his only record is in the few words of a curious Englishman, Contrasted with the late ovation to Prof. Morse, and cannot but feel the incident pathetic.

MILLIONS FOR FENCES.—We lately gave some figures of the cost of fencing in Illinois. The fence is an American institution and habit, and a costly one it is. Illinois is said to have ten times the fencing of Germany, and Dutchess county, New York, more than all France. A narrow path serves to divide farms in France, Germany and Holland. In South Carolina the improved land is estimated to be worth $20,000,000, and the fences have cost $16,000,000. The annual repair is a tenth of this. A recent calculation places the cost of fences in the United States at $1,300,000,000. Nicholas Biddle, thirty years ago, said the Pennsylvania fences had cost $100,000,000. In Ohio they are put at $115,000,000, and in New York at $141,000,000. Some of these days, under the careful tillage of the old world, fences will disappear and land boundaries will be marked with fruit and shade trees, or neat hedge rows, and the country will present a much improved appearance.

THE CONCLUSION OF THE LANAHAN TRIAL is briefly this: He has been convicted by the Book Committee of "official misconduct" on the following specifications:

"1 Disregard and contempt of the authority of the Book Committee and of the agent of the Book Concern. 2. Causing to be copied large portions of the books of account of the concern, and carrying the said copies away from the establishment. 3. Causing extracts from said copies and pretended results of examination thereof by accountants to be printed secretly, without the knowledge of the agent or conference with him. 5. He has threatened further legal proceedings if his demands are not complied with."

And the committee recommend that Dr. Lanahan be removed from his position as assistant agent of the Book Concern. In this finding of fact and judgment of law, the committee fails to secure the approval of the requisite majority of the bishops. The whole proceedings, therefore, go for nought as far as Dr. Lanahan is concerned. He retains his office, and is therefore, probably in position to compel through the courts the production of the books and vouchers of the concern, an order for which was lately refused him on the ground that his official connection with that institution had terminated.

LOCAL SCRAPS FROM EASTERN SHORE EXCHANGES.

CECIL COUNTY.

The June term of court met on Thursday of last week, and adjourned on Friday after attending to chancery business.—The Presbyterians have been holding a meeting under a large tent where the propose to build a Church.

The Barn of George W. Oldham, near Zion, was consumed by fire on Thursday morning, 15th inst. Loss from $3000 to $4000. Partially insured in the Chester county Company.

The friends of Postmaster General Creswell have presented Mrs. Creswell with a handsome pleasure boat called "Nellie Grant."

DECISION OF A CECIL COUNTY CASE IN THE COURT OF APPEALS.—The case of Solomon Weaver, late of Perryville, against the P., W. & B. Railroad Company, for the price of three firkins of butter, was decided in the Circuit Court for this county in favor of the plaintiff, and the case was taken to the Court of Appeals by the Company, which Court confirmed, at its April term, 1871, the decision of the County Court. J. T. McCullough, Esq., was counsel for Weaver, and Hiram McCullough, Esq., for the Company.

Judge Brent states the case as follows, in the opening of the decision of the Court of Appeals:

"This suit is brought to recover the value of three firkins of butter, alleged to have been purchased by Richardson for the use of a boarding-house of the Railroad Company."

CAROLINE COUNTY.

CALLED.—Rev. E. J. Stearns, of Elkton has been called to the rectorship of St. Mary's White Chapel Parish. The reverened gentleman has accepted the call, and is now located in our midst. He preached in a very acceptable manner to his congregation on Sunday morning last.

TALBOT COUNTY.

A PRETTY GOOD SELL.—On Thursday afternoon, Capt. Miller and Capt. Roberts, commanders of the two military companies of Easton, received large official letters, and in a very short time, a rumor was rife that both companies, with the militia from other sections of the State, had been ordered to some point, to suppress riots at a coal mine. Of course this was unexpected news and considerable excitement and stir among the military ensued. All sorts of questions were asked, and quite a number found it convenient to leave home, and we learn from five to ten dollars were offered for substitutes. It was stated that the order compelled them to leave for Baltimore, last night, and the drummers and fifers went on the suberbs of the town to practice a little before making their appearance upon the streets of the monumental city, in presence of the far famous 5th Regiment. Take it altogether it was a rich sell. The 5th Regiment has gone on a pleasure excursion to Frederick, the Military of Easton have settled down in the even tenor of their way and no one hurt.

THE EUREKA FANNING MILL.
The Greatest Invention
OF THE 19th CENTURY!

FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!

THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c. Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of; for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Md.,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of NOLAND & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee they will be put up in the very best manner.

MILLING.

CHESTERTOWN, DEC. 27TH, 1870.

The subscriber most respectfully informs the Public that after the first day of January next he will take possession of the Mill and will conduct it, he hopes, more to the satisfaction of the Public than for some time past. He is in treaty for a very superior Miller, and soon as the Spring opens will make some improvements which must render her equal to any Mill on the Eastern Shore.

He hopes whenever there is any cause of complaint to be at once notified of the same. By strict attention or supervision, and competent workmen, he hopes soon to be able, to re-establish her former reputation.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

Sold by J. L. Stam, Chestertown; J. P. Ireland, Galena, and all druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere. [Nov. 19, 1870.
