Decision under the Registration Act.

It perhaps known that Judge Magruder of the Seventh Sudicial Circuit, decided that negroes who had been in the Penitentiary previous to their enfranchisement, were not disqualified from Registration under the present law. We are informed that a case of this character has been decided by a full bench of our circuit in Talbot county, and that their dscision is adverse to Judge Magruder's. The Registers throughout this Judicial Circuit, will therefore be governed accordingly, and not admit negroes or whites who have been in the Penitentiary to registration.

Undeniable Facts.

To whom are we indebted for the destruction of the habeas corpus? To the Radical party, whose leaders are growing rich on the people's money.

Who has driven our shipping from the seas? The Radical party, the most corrupt party of all ages.

Who inaugurated high tariffs? The Radical party which has kept itself in power in the South by the aid of the bayonet, and the corrupt use of the ballot-box.

Who has burdened us with taxes? The Republican party, the party of grand moral ideas.

Who has placed us under military rule? The leaders of the party that professed undying love for the Constitution but who have violated every article of it.

What party has abolished free elections, fostered monopolies, and has given away millions of acres of public lands? The Radical party, who are responsible for the late "unpleasantness."

What party has elected scape-graces, jail-birds and carpet-baggers to office, destroyed State rights, and paid within the last year, over TWENTY-FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS as premium to bond holders? The Radical party who placed Grant in his present position, and the party who by fraud forced negro suffrage upon the country.

Freemen and countrymen, all you who love and hold dear the constitution, handed down to us by our honored progenitors, and who long for a return of the prosperous and propitious days of yore, bear in rememberance the above undeniable truths, and when the time comes for you to vote, vote for the nominee of the Democratic party, the party whose leaders wherever in office, administer the laws fearlessly, equitably and impartially.

The Southern Adventurer.—Ex-Governor Hamilton, of Texas, draws the following picture of the Southern adventurer of the period:

"When we see a poor miserable cuss, who never had $150 in his life, come to Austin, borrow money and pay his expenses, and presently find him losing a thousand dollars a night at faro, driving around in a fancy team, making liquor bills, wine bills, and all sort of bills, and buying a buggy and fine horses to go home in, we know he is a thief as well as if we had seen him steal."

A Kentucky Judge and Divorce.

The impressive ceremonies attending the inauguration of Gov. Leslie, of Kentucky, when the aged and infirm Chief Justice Robertson, after administering the oath of office, tendered his own resignation, have revived reminiscences of the earlier part of the aged jurist's career. Among other anecdotes of him the Louisville Courier-Journal tells the following, the moral tone of which is invigorating in these days of free love and other social abominations:

"In a divorce case which went to him on appeal from this city, Logan vs. Logan, his definition of marriage is not considered purely from a dry, hard, technical standpoint. The parties in the case had married late in life, and were seeking a separation, which Judge Robertson was not willing to grant. He concludes his opinion as follows: 'And, though it was not the lot of these venerable parties to climb the hill of life together, yet, having united their destinies on its declining steep, there can be no good reason why they may not totter down it hand in hand, and sleep together at its base.' This opinion, though delivered thirty years ago, is still referred to by the bar throughout the State as 'the John Anderson, my Joe, case.'"

Mrs. Fair Prefers Hanging to Imprisonment.

A correspondent of a Chicago paper, who visited Mrs. Laura D. Fair, now in jail in San Francisco under sentence of death for the murder of A. P. Crittenden, Esq., reports the following dialogue:

"Let me ask you a somewhat singular question, will you?"

"Certainly."

"Suppose that the Supreme Court refuses to allow you a new trial, would you accept a commutation of your sentence?"

"How do you mean?"

"Well, it is hard to say to a woman in your position just what I mean. It is to this effect: Suppose a petition were gotten up to commute your present sentence to imprisonment, would you accept it?"

"Never!" she answered, with a flush creeping across her cheek.

"What! You prefer the capital sentence?"

"Most certainly!"

"Why, may I ask? Is not life sweet to you?"

"Yes, it is; but I have a daughter who is now growing up, and, should I remain in prison, she would have to stay here and visit me. She is young, she would grow up without protection, and then would always rest on her the stain of my prison life. But if I die, she would go away somewhere else, and in time the stain would be forgotten."

As she spoke of her daughter, a mist struggled for a moment with the magnetic currents in her eyes, but almost instantly disappeared as if dried up by the heat of the surface upon which it appeared.

Heavy Postoffice Defalcation in New York.—The New York Sun of Wednesday announces the discovery of a great "postoffice fraud" in that city, in which he is said to have sunk in the usual way in Wall street stock gambling.—Norton is described as being the owner of valuable property in Jersey, where he resides. Among other things he has sported a $10,000 race horse. He was arrested at his home, and his property, including the horse, seized, but The Sun adds that he compounded with the government, however, and resigned his position. A dispatch received from New York last night refers to the case, and says that the money was drawn from the treasury ostensibly for the use of the Postoffice Department, from time to time during the last two yearr, and that the whole "defalcation" will reach $115,000. The dispatch adds that "to make restitution Norton surrendered his whole property to the authorities, including a fine estate at Plainfield, N. J., several valuable houses and a large farm. As the value of the real estate alone is more than sufficient to cover the defalcation, no process was issued against him, and it is not likely he will be prosecuted. Another officer in the postoffice, named Moon, for 25 years a clerk, has been arrested and held to bail in $10,000 for purloining money from letters."

Bonner and Goldsmith Maid.—The fleet-footed racer, Goldsmith Maid, bids fair to become the celebrated equine that has ever received the word "go." The latest intelligence respecting this wonderful animal is that Mr. Bonner is said to have made a proposition to this effect:—Dexter, with a road wagon and driver, weighing together 319 pounds, behind him, made a mile in 2:21¾ about a year ago. Mr. Bonner will give $100,000 for any horse that will fairly beat that time, and under the same circumstances. If the owner of the horse is not willing to sell him, Mr. Bonner will give $10,000 for the pleasure of seeing the thing done. Mr. Doble, part owner of the maid, is out in a card in the New York papers, saying that he will bet $5000 to $10,000 that the Maid can repat her time of 2:17, and that he is ready to make his wager good at any time with a desposit of $1,000.

Theodore Tilton and Mrs. Woodhull.—A "Life of Mrs. Victoria Woodhull," by Mr. Theodore Tilton, has appeared in New York and creates a day's "sensation." It appears that Mrs. Woodhull is guided by spirits, and to some purpose, if the statement be true that they directed stock operations which netted her $700,000. First, however, they provided her an "affinity" in a second marriage while she has a living husband.—Here are some of the things she can do:

"She can ride a horse like an Indian, and climb a tree like an athlete; she can swim, row a boat, play billiards and dance; moreover, as the crown of her physical virtues, she can walk all day like an English woman."

Mrs. Woodhull never goes to any church whatever. She manufactures her own religion.

Bismarck.—On the hotel register at Gastein the gentleman whom we are accustomed to call shortly "Bismarck" registered himself in a style, being translated, reads: His Serene Highness (or literally, his Transparency) Otto, Prince of Bismarck-Schonhausen, Imperial Governor and Royal Prussian Chancellor, with his suite, from Berlin.

Further Trouble between the United States Authorities and the Mormons.—About six months ago an indictment was found by a Mormon grand jury, in the United States District Court of Utah, against John J. Baum, H. L. Davis and another man, for the murder of Henry Brown, of Provo City, who was shot down in the streets of Salt Lake City. A special to the New York Herald, dated Salt Lake City, september 12, says:

"It is stated that a woman was at the bottom of the affair. Brown was engaged to a young lady whom a Mormon bishop desired to marry. Brown was removed by the assassins' shots. Yesterday United States Marshal Patrick attempted to arrest Baum at Provo. He was represented by three of his deputies, and five soldiers from Camp Douglas under a sergeant, who surrounded his house at midnight. Baum escaped, his wife assisting. Shots were fired at Baum, and it is said he was wounded. He does not seem to have been caught afterwards. The posse visited Davis's place. Mrs. Baum was before them, and Davis had fled. All these indicted criminals have been skulking for months, protected by the church authorities. To-night the News, the Mormon organ, is out in a fierce editoiral against the outrage of sending United States troops against Utah citizens. The laws of the United States will be enforced. Murderers will be arrested, tried and executed in spite of the popular wish to protect them. A grand jury will meet on Monday next to investigate a series of crimes committed of late years in Utah. The third district court commenced its fall session here to day. Colonel Wickzer not having signified his acceptance of the office of United States Attorney, Chief Justice McKean appointed R B. Baskin United States Attorney ad interim.

The Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows.—The Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows of the United States assembles in chicago on Monday next. The delegates from Maryland are Hon. Joshua Vansant, grand treasurer Gen. Jas. L. Ridgely, grand secretary; Judge Geary, Alex. L. Spear, E. Gover Cox and Chas. H. Rollins. The delegates leave for Chicago to day, most of them taking ladies with them. The Grand Sire of the Grand Lodge of the United States, Fred. Stewart, Esq., of Washington, accompanies the Maryland delegates.

"What the South Needs."—Under this caption the New York Tribune lately suggested a subdvision by exact surveys of landed properties, and associated plans for advertising eligible parcels of ground and for inviting purchasers and emigrants from Europe. But the New Orleans Commercial Bulletin thinks some other conditions must be had to render such expedients finally effective, and nearly all those supplemental conditions, it says, are comprehended in good government. Political abuses, and above all, oppressive taxation, may drive labor away after it comes. Secure good government, and the South, says the Bulletin, "will certainly at length obtain what she needs in the way of more people, more skill, more diversity of industry, more enterprise and thrift, more furnaces and all the money demanded for the movement of her varied products will flow in upon her."

Valuable Grist Mill

at Centreville, Queen Anne's County, Md.

This property is one of the most valuable of the kind on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, being a first-class stand for business, of which it has a large patronage, and being now in good order and condition. It is situated near the terminus of the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad at Centreville, and within one mile of a Public Landing on Chester River.

There is attached to the property a few acres of fine Meadow land and Garden ground.

A DWELLING HOUSE is attached to and is part of the Mill house, and is of sufficient size for any ordinary family.

To a man of enterprise the property offers a first-rate business. The terms will be made easy and accommodating.

For information inquire of Wm. P. Sewall, on the premises; S. W. DeCoursey, Beverly, New Jersey; J. K. Hines, Chestertown; Lloyd Tilghman, Centreville, or the subscriber.
