Exhibition of the Worton Agricultural Club.

Thursday last, as previously announced, the Agricultural Club of Worton held the first of their Annual Exhibitions. Coming so soon after the election we were unable to be present, like many others, but we learn that the attendance was large and the exhibition, though gotten up hastily, was exceedingly creditable and interesting. The entries of stock were not large, but were good, embracing fine colts, sheep and hogs. The specimens of fowls are reported as equal to anything ever seen. There was also some fine specimens of fruits, vegetables, butter, &c.

Mr. John R. Gray delivered the address, but the gentleman from whom we gather our facts being unable—together with a large number of others—to get into the hall, we cannot give any report of it.

The Worton Agricultural Club is bearing fruit, and we hope its example will stimulate the formation of other organizations of like character in other parts of the county. The Clubs will do more for the farmer than the State Fairs.

Orphans' Court.

Present, James Beck, of George, Thomas Lusby and William Stevens.

On application, V. Burgess and R. Bennett Willson were appointed to appraise the rental value of the Real Estate of the minor children of J. P. Wickes.

On application, letters of Administration were granted to Wm. K. Copper, on the personal estate of John S. Parsons, with Edw. Rummer and George W. Watts as sureties. Lewin Usilton and George R. Stephens, were appointed to appraise the personal estate, and the legal notice to creditors ordered.

Thomas P. Dixon, Administrator of Mary F. Sappington, returned an inventory of personal estate of deceased: ordered to be recorded.

On application, Samuel Davis was appointed guardian to Hyland Tylden Jones, who gave bond with Thomas Rasin and John Willson as sureties.

Charles Clark, Admr. of John Clark, returned his first administration account: ordered to be recorded

In his recent speech at Louisville, Senator Davis of Kentucky made the following remarks about President Grant:

"I would desire to give a true analysis of President Grant, 'naught to extenuate, nor to set down aught in malice.' Endowed by nature with a narrow and sterile mind, slenderly educated because of indisposition and incapacity to learn, a very small amount of reading and a shallow understanding of what he did read, and consequently no general knowledge or information; a stranger to every just, magnanimous or kind sentiment, callous, selfish and malicious; brave because of the absence of intellect and sensibility; his persistence was obstinacy, for he had no power of inductive reasoning to free himself from a false position or conclusion. He pleged his word and his honor to President Johnson when he accepted the position of Secretary of War ad interim, as he admitted in the presence of the Cabinet, and having violated the pledge, to escape the consequent shame and dishonor, he publicly and falsely dented having made it.

"While holding a military position subordinate to President Johnson as Commander-in-Chief he entered into the foul conspiracy to have him removed by impeachment, and used his influence with the Court to procure its judgment of conviction. He is the only President of the United States who has ever accepted the scandal of allowing himself to be subsidized, and he gave the offices and trusts of the people to his subsidizers and their friends as quid pro quo.—He was a pauper when he entered the public service during the war, and his wealth now amounts to hundreds of thousands.—The means by which he has accumulated it has prepared the public to believe the charge made against him of belonging to a ring for gigantic plunder, connected with the acquisition of Dominica, to be true. He has appointed more of his kindred and connections to office than all this predecessors together, with a general unfitness of his appointees. He has been more absent from Washington city, and has given far less attention to the duties of his office, than any former President, this resulting in part from his greater ignorance of them. During the vacations of Congress, he is rollicking about at the watering places large cities, and other points, in quest of fast men and fast horses, boon companions and sensual life; and there is no prudent man, we'd acquainted with him, who would confide to him any important private business. He has no proper comprehension of the great principles of our Government; no appreciation of its true dignity and value; no knowledge of or taste for the details of its administration; nor fitness for his office, or interest in it, except for the adulation and subsidies and revelry, and opportunities to enrich himself, his relations and flatterers, which it brings to him.

A STRIKING CONTRAST.—Under the head of "A Contrast" the New Orleans Picayune draws instructive and timely parallel between the present material condition of New Jersey, which yesterday elected its State government, and Louisiana, which patiently and manfully awaits to be allowed to elect one. The State government of New Jersey costs each resident sixty-four cents a year. In The State of Louisiana, with a population of 726,000—or 180,000 less than New Jersey—the expenditures for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1870, amounted to more than seven millions of dollars, or $9 69 for every man, woman and child in the State, or more than fifteen times the rate in New Jersey. New Jersey's legislative department cost $26,980 for one year. For the same year the compensation and contingent expenses of the Louisiana Legislature amounted to $995,776, or twelve times as much. For the same year the State printing of New Jersey cost $43,949, while that of Louisiana cost $318,446—or nearly six times as much.

A man named David R. Spencer, with his family, consisting of a wife and three children, arrived in the northeast part of Putnam county, Ohio, recently, who had moved all his earthly goods and family from East Tennessee, a distance of five hundred miles, in a wheelbarrow. He was just twenty-five days on the way.

Ellis M. Leeds, of Bridgeton, N. J., while out gunning, accidentally shot and killed himself.

BOTH AMUSING AND DISGUSTING.—It is in one sense, a very amusing thing to hear the Radical leaders and the satelites who echo their voices, talk about economy, taxes, etc., etc. Where, in the whole country, where they have had sway since the conclusion of the late war, have they not run the States which they controlled, into debt, and increased the taxes, and enlarged expenses, and filled the land with all the evils of bad and corrupt legislation? We say, in one sense, their prating is amusing. In another, it is disgusting. Having obtained power, they have rioted in the profits of office, made themselves rich at the expense of the taxpayers, burthened the people with their exactions—and now coolly turn around and expatiate on reform, retrenchment, economy, and light taxes! The force of political impudence can no farther go, than is exhibited in their present position in reference to these subjects.

THE EUREKA FANNING MILL.
The Greatest Invention OF THE 19th CENTURY!
FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!
THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of, for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Md.,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of NOLAND & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee they will be put up in the very best manner.
