Mothers, Talk With Your Children.

What you wish to say to your children, say to them now; death may cut you off in your prime, and they be bereft both of your presence and the remembrance of your advice and counsel. Above all, what you most wish for, pray for now, "praying breath is not spent in vain." And if your life is spared, time is passing, your children are growing, almost imperceptibly, into men and women, full of their own ideas, projects and plans.

Therefore, teach them now, while at your knee, and you will have their ear more than the world; tell them now, instill day by day the sweet gospel lessons of your youth; what your own mother taught you, what experience and observation have taught you, also read to them. These things, in time to come, will be to them as a well of living water, from which they will drink deep and be refreshed, though now it may seem almost like water poured on the ground, they seem so heedless of your advice and admonitions. How can they appear but indifferent? They know not the value of your teachings, they cannot know now, but you know, and you cannot escape guilt if you do not fortify them against coming responsibility and care by words of wisdom that in due time will ripen into golden sheaves whether you live to see it or not.

The evil one is busy sowing tares. Shall not you, the anxious, praying, loving mother, be as busy sowing good seed? "In the morning and in the evening withhold not thy hand."

Be Economical.

Look most to your spending. No matter what comes in, if more goes out, you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little expenses, like mice in a barn, when they are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes in the chamber. A barrel is soon empty if the tap leaks but a drop a minute. When you mean to save, begin with your mouth; many thieves pass down the red lane. The ale jug is a great waste. In all other things keep within compass. Never stretch your legs further than the blankets will reach, or you will soon be cold. In clothes, chose suitable and lasting stuff, and not tawdry fineries. To be warm is the main thing; never mind the looks. A fool may make money, but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board, there is nothing left for the savings bank. Fare hard and work hard while you are young, and you will have a chance to rest when you are old.

Enemies.

They who are very successful in business, who achieve greatness, notoriety in any pursuit, may expect to make enemies. So prone to petty jealousy and sordid envy is poor human nature, that whoever becomes distinguished is sure to be a mark for the malicious spite of those who, not deserving success themselves, are envious of the merited triumph of the more worthy. Moreover, the opposition which originates in such despicable motives is sure to be of the most unscrupulous character; hesitating at no iniquity, descending to the shabbiest littleness. Opposition, if it be honest and manly, is not itself undesirable. The competitor in life's struggles, who is of true metal, deprecates not opposition of an honorable character, but rather rejoices in it. It is only injustice or meanness which he deprecates; and it is this which the successful must meet, proportioned in bitterness; oftentimes to the measure of success which excites it.

Marriage and Death.

Why is it that the marriage announcements are immediately followed by the obituary notices in our papers? Does death follow so closely on the footsteps of marriage? Is grief the page that carries the train of happiness? Does the tomb open with its dark and ponderous jaws beside the nuptial couch? This is the plan of life. The gleeful songs of light and merry hearts to-day, to-morrow will turn to funeral chants, and sobbing and lamentation be heard instead of glad pealing laughter. We read to-day of our friend's marriage, and wish them joy; to-morrow we see their death recorded, and say "peace to their ashes." Our merriest songs are timed by the footfalls of death, and the "silver cord" is as fragile as a spider's thread, and the 'golden bowl' more brittle than glass.

☞ If every man had such a treasure of a wife as a Boston paper tells about there would not be so many difficult figures to master in the problem of living on a moderate income.

This woman's husband was comfortably well off, and gave her an abundance of spending money. Quite a number of years after their marriage she said one day:

"Husband, why don't you buy a house? it is so much nicer than to rent."

"Ah," said the husband, "I can't afford it."

"But," said the wife, "wouldn't you take one if anybody would give you one?"

"Certainly," says he, thinking that it never would come to pass. The wife then presented him with a sheet of paper, which proved to be nothing less than a deed of a nice house in the city, costing nearly $7,000, which amount she had saved out of the money her husband had given her to spend.

☞ "Johnny, where is your pa?"

"Gone fishing, sir."

"He was fishing yesterday, was he not?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did he catch?"

"One cat-fish, the rheumatism, two eels, the toothache, and some little ones. Ma says he will catch fits to-day; just wait till he gets home."

☞ A sagacious boarding-house keeper encourages the practice of drinking bitters before meals. He says that a boarder who indulges in cocktails is very expensive to feed for awhile, but that his eventual loss of appetite is certain and compensating.

☞ A curious light is thrown upon the philanthropic pretensions of a delegation of protectionists by a statement in the last report of the Secretary of the National Association of Bar-Iron Manufacturers. He says that the production last year would have been greater by 250,000 tons, had it not been—we disbelieve our eyes—for the strike instigated by the Workingmen's Benevolent Association! This, at about $35 a ton, makes nearly nine million dollars. The total production for the year was 1,850,000 tons. In the fact of this strike there appears something that needs explanation. The employers of these men on strike have, according to their own account, for years made it their business to secure high wages for their workmen. Frequent journeys to Washington, subsidization of newspapers, maintenance of active lobbies, patriotic appeals to the people, have been among the means used. These means were successful in obtaining the laws they demanded for the protection of their laborers; and yet the ingrates seem, after all, to have struck—and not only thus wounded the hearts of their protectors, but inflicted on them a pecuniary loss. Their action prevented their employers from making two hundred and fifty thousand tons of iron, on which they would have received a bounty of $7 a ton, which we forgot to mention these latter had secured from Congress for themselves, "incidentally."—Tax-Payer.

☞ Lord Ellenborough was once about to go on the circuit, when Lady E. said that she would like to accompany him. He replied that he had no objections, provided she did not encumber the carriage with bandboxes, which were his utter abhorrence. They set off. During the first day's journey, Lord Ellenborough, happening to stretch his legs, struck his feet against something below the seat. He discovered that it was a bandbox. His indignation is not to be described. Up went the window, and out went the bandbox. The coachman stopped; and the footmen, thinking that the bandbox had tumbled out of the window by some extraordinary chance, were going to pick it up, when Lord Ellenborough furiously cried out, "Drive on!" The bandbox accordingly was left by a ditch side. Having reached the county town where he was to officiate as Judge, Lord Ellenborough proceeded to array himself for his appearance in the court-house. "Now," said he, "where's my wig.—where is my wig?" "My Lord," replied his attendant, "it was thrown out of the carriage window."

☞ Donn Piatt tells the following touching story of how a life was saved: "A Sunday School superintendent out in Alaska treated his entire charge to a sleigh ride. There were just forty-one of the cherubs, and a six horse sleigh. On the way home they were beset by a pack of ferocious wolves. Cool and collected in that hour of fearful trial, the heroic superintendent saw at a glance that he must soon be overtaken. In an instant his quick mind grasped the only chance of escape. Grasping the child that always sang 'I want to be an angel' two notes too high, he flung it to the rapacious horde. It stayed their onward rush for a moment. Next came the urchin who never brought any pennies for the heathen. And so on swept the pursued and pursuers until the last infant was exhausted. But the brave fellow had economized his material nobly. He was saved.

☞ An inveterate drunkard once asked a Quaker whether he knew of a method whereby he could cure himself of his dominant vice.

"Friend," answered Broadbrm, "it is as easy as keeping thine hand open."

"How can that be?" said the drunkard; "every man can keep his hand open, but as to abstaining from liquor, that's quite a different thing."

"I will tell thee, friend," quoth the Quaker. "When thee has gotten a glass of gin in thine hand, and before thou dost raise the tempting liquor to thy lips, open thine hand—and keep it open. Thee breakest the glass, but thee breakest not the laws of sobriety."

☞ A youngster, who had been detected by his father in the act of stealing some fruit stored for winter consumption, was angrily bidden to go into the next room and prepare himself for a severe flogging. Having finished the work he was at, the parent, armed with a stout gad, went in search of the culprit, whom he found ornamented with an immense hump on his back.

"What on earth have you got on your back?" asked the wondering sire.

"A leather apron," replied John, "three times doubled; you told me to prepare for a severe flogging, and I've done the best I could."

ADVICE TO BOYS.—"You are made to be kind, generous, and magnanimous," says Horace Mann. "If there is a boy in school who has a club-foot, don't let him know you ever saw it. If there is a boy with ragged clothes, don't talk about rags in his hearing. If there is a lame boy, assign him some part in the play which does not require much running. If there is a dull one, help him to get his lesson."—Apples of Gold.

☞ A distinguished acronaut states, as if it were something to wonder at, that a woman's voice may be heard at an altitude of two miles from the earth, while that of a man never reaches above a mile. Surely it isn't necessary to go up in a balloon to find out that women pitch their voices higher than men.

☞ Out west the new synonym for "retiring" is "Colfaxing." Parents no longer admonish their children that it is "the time to go to bed," but tenderly observe, "My darlings, it is time you Colfaxed."

☞ An old farmer in New Hampshire recently killed a pig, and being asked how much it weighed, replied it did not weigh as much as he expected, and he did not expect it would.

THE

EUREKA

FANNING MILL.

The Greatest Invention

OF THE 19th CENTURY!

FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!

THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of; for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,

Chestertown, Md.,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of NOLAND & CO., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee they will be put up in the very best manner.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

PURELY CALIFORNIA

EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists & Gen. Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 34 Commerce St., N.Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia & Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.
