The last will and testament of William J. Griffith, late of Kent county, dec'd., was admitted to probate, and letters testamentary on the personal estate granted to Walter J. Griffith: E. E. On application, J. N. Usilton, guardian to Wm. P. Howard, was authorized to pay to said ward fifty dollars of the principal and interest out of the money of said ward.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.—The rapid and increasing growth of these institutions in our country is a satisfactory argument in favor of their usefulness. The large cities have such organizations by hundreds, we might, perhaps, say thousands. In the small towns they are yet comparatively unknown; and even in towns where one exists, their advantages and manner of working appear to be a mystery to all except the members thereof.

Some of their advantages are as follows. They enable persons of small means, who wish to lay by something from their weekly earnings to make a profitable investment of small weekly sums. The expenses of conducting these societies are very small. The profits are not reduced by the payment of large salaries to officers, nor for expensive buildings in which to transact business. In fact the profits, though not large, enure to the benefit of the stockholders, and are mutual. The money arising from the investments is kept at home, and thrown back into home circulation as fast as received. A stockholder can always draw what he has actually paid in, should he be unable to continue his payments. In the last three points they are decided improvements over life insurance investments. If the money which is annually sent from our county to swell the coffers of foreign life insurance corporations, had been invested in building associations, it would have all been retained at home, and we believe would have greatly tended to alleviate the present pecuniary embarrassment.

An effort is now making to organize the second association of this character in our midst, and we recommend it to the attention of our citizens. Let them examine the working of such an organization—not in a cursory manner, for it cannot be so understood—but carefully, and we do not hesitate to say it will be pronounced good.

THE following is a summary of the Report of the Secretary of the Kent Mutual Building Association, for the three years ending April 31, 1872:

MR. WILLIAM SKINNER STAM is now canvassing our county for a book called "Every Horse Owner's Cyclopedia," treating of the following subjects: The anatomy and physiology of the horse, general characteristics, the points of the horse, with directions how to use him, the principles of breeding, raising and breaking the colt, stables and stable management, diseases and how to cure them, the American trotting horse and suggestions on the breeding and training of trotters, the Percheron horse, &c. This book would be a useful addition to every farmer's stock.

Also, the Southern Magazine, which is well known to many of our readers.

RUNAWAY AND SMASHUP.—Last Thursday morning, as Messrs. Jas. H. Hurtt, Jr., and William S. Merritt, of Millington, were about entering Chestertown—having almost reached the hill at the spring on the College road—the horse which they were driving, from some unknown cause suddenly started to run and kick furiously. Every effort by the use of the reins was ineffectually made to check him, when at the brow of the hill one of the wheels gave way, throwing both of the gentlemen out into the road, the horse rushing down the hill and almost totally demolishing the carriage. Mr. Hurtt was somewhat injured in the face and one of his legs, but Mr. Merritt did not escape so lightly, his injuries being of a severe and probably serious nature.

MAIL CONTRACTS.—We find the following among the Spring lettings of mail contracts:

Massey's X Roads to Sassafras, Fagan Earnest, $300.

Lambson's Station to Crumpton, Levi S. Chew, $425, six times a week.

Black's Station to Locust Grove, Ezekiel Anderson, $240, six times a week.

Kennedyville to Rock Hall, James A. Casey, $550.

Chestertown to Greensboro', Jones and Rodrock, $1,295, six times a week.

PROF. ST. LENO, Ventriloquist and sleight of hand performer, of Montgomery, Alabama, is now visiting the small towns in our county, giving exhibitions. To those who are curious to see and hear such things, we say—Go and see, and if you are not satisfied, pay no attention to any recommendation of ours hereafter. We have seen this performance—not through the enchantment of a complimentary ticket, either—and pronounce it good. Prof. St. Leno is cool, and gentlemanly in his performance, and shows the disposition to have his audience behave with the utmost propriety.

ACCIDENT.—Willie, son of William W. Stephens, about 12 years of age, caught his right thumb in the cogs of a hay cutter, Thursday of last week, badly mutilating the end of the member. Dr. Vannort amputated the injured extremity, and the little fellow is doing well.
