Dolly Varden.

Every now and then a whim seizes the public and takes possession of people's senses, though why or wherefore, it would be hard to say; but when once it has got a fair hold, it has to be humored until it is worn out or supplanted by some other novelty. At the present moment the name which predominates everywhere, which is advertised in the papers, pasted on walls in bills in large block type, stuck up in the windows of dry goods stores, and heard in everybody's mouth, is that of Dolly Varden, the sprightly, coquettish heroine of Dickens' historical novel, "Barnaby Rudge." But the novel was written thirty years ago, and there seems to be no apparent reason why the London blacksmith's pretty daughter should all of a sudden start out into popularity greater than she enjoyed when she was first introduced to the world. She was then made the subject of many a picture, and the celebrated artist, Maclise, at the suggestion and under the guidance of his friend, Dickens, painted what may be called a portrait of her, if there can be such a thing as the portrait of an imaginary character. It was, however, a realization on canvas of the conception of the author, and it has given to her the bodily form and the costume by which she will henceforth be identified. Just as we form but one conception now of Uncle Toby and the Widow Wadman, or of Sir Rodger de Coverley and the Spectator, or of Mr. Pickwick and Sam Weller, in consequence of our familiarity with the celebrated pictures and illustrations in which they are represented, so will our notion of Dolly Varden be limited to that of the artist, combined with the description which Dickens has given of her. In this she appears in a "cherry-colored" hood and cloak and a hat trimmed with cherry-colored ribbons, &c. But, graceful and attractive as she is, there is nothing in common between her and the young ladies of the present day, who have their own peculiar grace and attractiveness. She lived and flourished while our War of Independence was going on, and in which her lover lost an arm. To find any one who would resemble her, we should have to go back to our great-grand-mothers; and herein is a partial mystery of the Dolly Varden furor. Some one—in all probability an enterprising dressmaker—started the notion that one of the most striking novelties in the way of costume for ladies would be a revival of the antiquated flowered-chintz overskirts worn by English ladies in the middle of the last century, and it has been made for some time. Accordingly, the low-bodied dress, with skirts well looped up, sleeves tight to the elbow, and then suddenly assuming the dimensions of sacks, heaving the portion of the arm below the elbow bare, is to be the costume of the season, at home, it is to be hoped, for it would scarcely do for walking or riding in, without some modification. And patterns of every hue and every variety of spring and flower are displayed in the store-windows, to the no little anxiety of paterfamilias, who begins to wonder what sort of appearance his women-folks are going to assume when they step forth out of the hands of the modiste, with their straw hats looped up on one side, a la Dolly, and their flowered skirts looped up on both sides, displaying the scarlet or brown under-garment, in which our great-grandmothers delighted, and which they wore short, so as to display the open clocks of their red stockings, and the shining silver buckles of their high-heeled shoes. And along with Dolly Varden hats and dresses come Dolly Varden jewelry and knick-knacks. It was an ingenious idea to revive all this in the name of Dickens' popular heroine, but it might as well have been done in the name of Clarissa Harlowe, or Sophia Western, or Evaline, Olivia Primrose, or any other heroine of the period, for they all dress in the same costume as Dolly Varden did. So far, indeed, as looped skirts are concerned, they have been in vogue, more or less, for a century and a half, and at this very fashionable in walking dresses. The Dolly Varden overskirt is not so much a novelty in itself; the attraction of it is to be found, one may suppose, in the flowered pattern of the material of which it is made.

Our fashionable bells have scarcely recovered from the "Grecian bend;" and the luxuriance of their present pompadour over-dresses makes the transition to the tight bodice, low bosom, and bare arms of Dolly Varden rather sudden. Very young ladies will doubtless expect to double their attractions—if such a thing be possible—in their Dolly Varden costume. And ladies of more mature age, who retain their youthful appearance, as many do, may also appear to advantage in it—at home.—Philadelphia Ledger.

How to be a True woman.

Do you reader, wish to carry out God's idea of what woman ought to be, to enjoy your highest rights, to fulfil your noble destiny, to win the admiration, not the jealousy, of man, to be approved and accepted of Christ? Then you must live the lovely life of a true woman, overcoming evil by good, seeking not in any selfish way to be great, but proving yourself great by unselfishness, meekness, gentleness, and faithfulness.

Be it yours, by the nobility of your character, to show that you cannot be man's slave; by the diligent culture of your mind to prove that you cannot be meant merely to amuse, by the good use you make of the power God has given, and by lovely submission to those you are bound to obey—to testify that you are not man's inferior, but his equal, ordained to move in different spheres, to manifest distinctive qualities, but one in all that is essential and eternal, and with him reflecting Christ, who is alone a perfect man, embodying in Himself what is brave and great in the man, and gentle and loving in the woman "in whom there is neither male nor female." In Christ alone we worship what in Mary we admire. In Christ alone we can become what in her we love. If we would realize in ordinary life the ideal woman we must clearly see and deeply feel what the Lord Jesus is to woman and, through Him, what our Father is to each. Would we live thoughtfully and lovingly, we must do what Mary did, "sit at the feet of Jesus;" like the Virginia Mother we must reverently submit to His loving rule; as the Syro Phœnician woman have perfect confidence in His Move, even though he seem to hide Himself from us; like the penitent, forgiven woman, for His dear sake, offer our precious gifts; and, as the women who were "last at the cross and first at the grave," we must win for ourselves the noble distinction of suffering with Jesus and watching and waiting for His glorious revelation from heaven.—Living thus, our lives will not be lonely or dreary, vain or useless; we shall possess the Divine power to bless and save. —Thoughts for the Inner Life.

Walking.

Walking briskly, with an exciting object of pleasant interest ahead, is the most healthful of all forms of exercise except that of encouragingly renumerative, steady labor in the open air; and yet multitudes in the city, whose health urgently requires exercise, seldom walk when they can ride if the distance is a mile or more. It is worse in the country, especially with the well to-do; a horse or carriage must be brought to the door even if less distances have to be passed. Under the conditions first named, walking is a bliss; it gives animation to the mind, it vivifies the circulation, it paints the cheek and sparkles the eye, and wakes up the whole being, phisical, mental and moral.

We knew a family in this city who, from the age of seven, had to walk nearly two miles to school, winter and summer; whether sleet, or storm, or rain, or burning sun, they made it an ambition never to stay away from school on account of the weather, and never to be "late;" and one of them was heard to boast that in seven years it had never been necessary to give an "Excuse" for being one minute behind the time, even although in winter it was necessary to dress by gaslight. They did not average two days' sickness in a year, and later they thought nothing of walking twelve miles at a time in the Swiss mountains. Sometimes they would be caught in drenching rains, and wet to the skin; on such occasions they made it a point to do one thing—let it rain,—and trudged on more vigorously until every thread was dry before they reached home.

There is no unmedical remedy known to men of more value in the prevention of constipation than a few miles joyous walking; let one follow it up a week—a walk of two or three miles in the forenoon, and as much in the afternoon—and, except in rare cases, when a longer continuance may be made, the result will be triumphant; and yet nine persons out of ten would rather give a dollar a bottle for some nauseous drops or poisonous pills than take the trouble to put in practice the natural remedy of walking. Nor is there an anodye among all the drugs in the world which is the hundredth part so efficacious, in securing refreshing, healthful, delicious, glorious sleep, as a judicious walk.—Hall's Journal of Health.

The Government of Children.

The government of children, says a writer, has been a source of dissension in the household since the world began, and will be, presumably, till the "new heaven and the new earth" are produced. Children ought to be an element of harmony in the family, and to bring to the parents united counsels and co-operative love. In many cases this is the happy result. Where it does not produce this effect, it may be from any of a variety of causes.

The mother, sometimes, has an intense and excitable affection for her children, which, when roused up by anything that to her seems like injury, takes on the form of a fierce instinct, such as we see in the lower animal kingdom.

At other times the mother feels, in an intense degree, her especial and peculiar ownership in the child. And truly the mother has a right that the father has not. She travailed; she bore it; she suffered. Chiefly upon her fell the weariness, the watching, the anxiety, the task of early training and instruction. Her life is like a fountain poured out for the child, and whenever she sees or fears that her long labor of pain and patience is liable to be perverted by the intrusion of one who, though father, and in law made even superior to her in the control of children, it rouses resistance which springs from the very roots of moral sensibility. A woman may often press this right unduly. But no just and thoughtful man will fail to recognize a reason of justice in a woman's claim to have much of the management of the children, provided she is really seeking their advantage.

Since men do not as yet produce angels, but only little unripe men over again, children must always be a source of more or less trouble, inconvenience and annoyance in the house. Both parents must take their share of the patience inevitably required. Among other things, children's noise must be borne with. They must not be too sharply curbed; and yet, for their own good and for the welfare of the family, they must not be lawless nor boisterous within doors. Out of doors, and in play-rooms remote from hearing, let them shout. It is a good practice for the lungs. But in, or near, the common sitting-room, they should be trained to quietness. It is best that they should early feel the responsibility of contributing to the common good.

The household is a little commonwealth. The child is a new citizen. He must early be taught the duties of citizenship. It is an evil influence which permits the child to sacrifice every person's comfort in the house for the selfish sake of its own enjoyment. It may be pleasant to the child for the moment, but it sacrifices a higher good. A child cannot learn too early order, subordination, obedience, and a willing contribution of its own pleasure for the good of others. If restraint, or even discipline be needed to secure these results, it is best that the child be subject to them. Health and freedom may be secured without allowing children to make nuisances of themselves. For another reason it is cruel for parents to leave their children untrained and boisterous; such children are invariably objects of dislike to all about them. They are the neighborhood talk. No parent by neglect of discipline has a right to subject his child to so much odium. We take sides with the parent who desires an orderly family; where children are not vexatious despots; where a man may feel reasonably safe from an irruption of bears and buffaloes in human form; and where the sharp irritable selfishness of over-indulged children shall not be his daily portion.

THE
FANNING MILL.
The Greatest Invention
OF THE 19th CENTURY!
FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!

THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of; for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Md.,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of NOLAND & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee they will be put up in the very best manner.

VINEGAR BITTERS
VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL
PURELY CALIFORNIA
D. WALKER'S
EUREKA
VINEGAR BITTERS
J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists & Gen. Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 34 Commerce St., N.Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

RHEUMATISM
NEURALGIA
$5000 WILL BE PAID.

To any person producing any Medicine showing half as many living, permanent cures as DR. FITLER'S VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC REMEDY. Used inwardly only. A pleasant Medicine, free from injurious drugs. Warranted, under oath, to have permanently cured 95 in every 100 patients treated in the past ten years. (See testimony.) It is the scientific prescription of Professor Jos. P. Fitler, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, A. D. 1833,—now one of Philadelphia's oldest regular physicians, and Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology,—who has made Neuralgia, Chronic and Inflammatory Rheumatism the specialty of his entire professional life—a fact vouched for by the signatures accompanying each bottle, and other testimonials of many prominent renowned physicians and clergymen. To protect sufferers from poisonous quack nostrums and useless expenditure of money, a legal signed guarantee, stating exact number of bottles warranted to cure, will be forwarded gratis to any sufferer sending by letter a full description of affliction. In case of failure to cure, amount paid positively refunded. Medicine sent anywhere by express, collect on delivery.
