PREACHING.—The Rev. Mr. Roberts, of Chestertown, will preach at Still Pond Cross Roads on Monday evening next, at the usual hour.

Orphans' Court.—Tuesday, July 16th. Present, Judges Beck and Scott.

The only business transacted was the passage of a claim against the estate of J. M. Hudson, and passing the account of Martha A. Biscoe, admr'x. of A. A. Biscoe, dec'd.

KENT LODGE, No. 40, Knights of Pythias, have chartered the steamer Law for an afternoon excursion on Thursday next The steamer will leave Chestertown a 4 P. M. A brass band and cotilion music has been engaged. See advertisement.

PROLIFIC WHEAT.—We have received from Mr. Josias Ringgold, Jr., a box of Northumberland wheat, measuring one pint, the product of three grains. The box contains, by Mr. Ringgold's count, 9,280 grains. A bushel of this wheat, yielding in the same proportion, would produce 3,093 bushels.

THE BRANCH, to Chester river, of the Kent County Railroad is being pushed forward with energy, and will be completed some time next week. The track for about one fourth of the distance is already laid, and but little grading on the unfinished portion remains to be done. By means of this extension the large and substantial wharf, built four years ago at a high cost, and which ever since has been only an "elephant" on the Company's hand, will now be a valuable auxiliary in increasing the transportation of produce from up and down the river.

The track runs parallel with Cannon st., from the head of town down to the river, just about far enough, should a street ever be required there, to make fine sized blocks, (by extending the cross streets) between Cannon street and the railroad.

RED MEN.—The Great Council of Maryland, Improved Order of Red Men, kindled their Council fire in Chestertown on Wednesday, July 17, 1872. The Order is in a flourishing and prosperous condition, and has a membership of near 2,800.

During the past six months there have been 261 members added to the Order, and only six deaths. Amount of money received by Tribes, $9,756.51; expended for burying the dead, $245.00; for relief of brothers, $3,413.27; for relief of widows, $496.00; for education of orphans, $127.00; for library purposes, $285.21.

The officers of the Great Council are:

H. K. Maxwell, Great Sachem; Denn's Corkson, Great Senior Sagamore; William Burgess, Great Junior Sagamore; C. D. Irelan, Great Chief of Records; W. G. Gorsuch, Great Keeper of Wampum; William Pane, Great Sannap; James D. Gorsuch, Great Keeper of Wigwam; John Martin, Great Keeper of Forest.

NUISANCES.—It does not seem to be generally understood that the authorities of this town have the power to prevent or abate nuisances. The act of Assembly passed February the eighth, 1866, chapter 125, expressly gives the Commissioners power to prevent and remove all nuisances within said town.

Writers on crim'nal law define nuisances to consist of "all the acts put forth by man which tend directly to create evil to the community at large," and they are indictable at common law.

The asportation of large numbers of people from districts infected with contagious diseases and precipitating them upon populous towns free from the disease, is beyond all question a nuisance injurious to the public health of such community, and as such is indictable at common law. The city of Baltimore is infested with Small Pox, a most loathsome disease; it is admitted to be epidemic there; the number of deaths last week, admitted in the papers was fifty, which of course does not include the cases sent to the Marine Hospital. Under these circumstances the authorities of the town determined to prevent, as a nuisance injurious to our public health, the precipitation of large numbers of the citizens of Baltimore upon us, who only came for pleasure, they accordingly published a prohibition in the Baltimore Sun: this prohibition has been respected by all except the Chester River Steamboat Company. This Company, regardless of the law of the corporation, regardless of the health of our town, regardless of their duty as good citizens, and in defiance of the published prohibition, of which they were fully advised, on Monday last brought to our town and landed a large number of the negro population of Baltimore city. We believe the Chester River Steamboat Company did this with the deliberate purpose of setting at defiance the ordinances of the town in the most offensive manner. The President of this Company is a member of the Legislature, one of the law makers, and should have prevented any infraction of the law. The people on the boat, with a few exceptions, behaved themselves with propriety, and when forbidden to go up into the town, obeyed the authorities.

The conduct of the Steamboat Company in this matter deserves the severest censure. They well knew that the character of the passengers they were thrusting upon us under the circumstances was calculated to produce a serious disturbance of the peace, and if the charterers of the boat had been actuated by no higher sense of propriety and respect for law than the officers of the boat, such must undoubtedly have been the result.

We have been informed that the colored people who chartered the boat were led to believe by the Steamboat Company that no objection would be offered to their excursion.

The Commissioners believe they have the authority to prevent these excursions, and they intend to do so. It is better the Chester River Steamboat Company should lose a few dollars than that our community should be infected with a loathsome disease.

Death of a Methodist Minister.

Rev. James A Massey, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Joseph S. Robson, near Royal Oak, Talbot county, on Tuesday evening the 9th instant. Mr Massey was well advanced in years, and had been in feeble health and superannuated for several years. Some three years ago he was attacked with paralysis. For the last twelve months he had grown childlike in body and mind. As he had been gradually failing his death was not unexpected. He was for several years Presiding Elder, and esteemed by all who knew him as a sincere Christian. His funeral was preached at the M E. Church in this place on Thursday morning, the 11th inst., by Rev. Mr. Hough, Presiding Elder of the District, and his remains deposited in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery near town.—Easton Star.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT ST. MICHAELS.—St. Michaels, Md., was the scene of a destructive conflagration on the morning of Thursday the 12th inst. It appears that the fiery element was first discovered about one o'clock, in the dwelling of Mrs. Lizzie Campher, from whence it spread to adjoining buildings, thus continuing to take house after house in its course until six dwellings had been reduced to ashes, entailing a loss of from ten to fifteen thousand dollars. It seems that St. Michaels is unfortunate in the matter of fires. It was only a little over two years ago that nearly the whole business portion of that town was destroyed by fire.

SOMEBODY TO VOTE FOR.—A Boston colored man, of Southern birth, writes to the Post:

"At last the blacks of this broad land have a man to vote for whose record as their friend and the friend of labor is unimpeachable. God bless the day when the great Democratic party nominated the man who dared be just and true to all—black and white alike—in spite of opposition. Every man of color who values his manhood will vote for Horace Greeley. At all events the world may bet its life that I will."

OLD JOHN HARPER'S SHARPNESS.—An interesting story is told of Mr. Harper, the owner of Longfellow, and his white rider, before the race at Long Branch. The old man observed something mysterious, but said nothing. He telegraphed to Kentucky for the colored boy who had ridden Longfellow before, to be sent immediately to Long Branch. He arrived, but not a word was said, and the white rider was dressed for the contest with Harry Bassett. Then the old man told him that he thought the colored boy could ride better that day than he. The colored boy was dressed in a moment, mounted upon Longfellow and won the race. And now comes the conclusion: The white boy was seen by Mr. Harper to have a roll of money, showing that he had been tampered with.

GERRITT SMITH, the well known abolitionist, is out for Grant. In a speech at Peterboro, New York, he said:

"The Democratic party is my dread. The Republican party my hope."

How many anxious officeholders echo this sentiment. All the army of Marshals, Deputy Marshals, all the spies and informers, all the carpet baggers, the rogues, white and black, that have been living off the substance of the Southern people heartily endorse it. Casey, Leet, Porter, Dent, and all that multitude of people who have been whitewashed by Congressional committees, earnestly agree with it. The Democratic party expects to show these men, with their friend and steady supporter, General Grant, that it is to be dreaded.—Balt. Gazette.

KEEPING COOL.—The New York Evening Mail has the following timely words:

"The art of keeping cool physically in such weather as we are now experiencing is one which requires mainly the exercise of common sense as to all the details of living. There is no universal recipe for maintaining that condition of the body which is essential to success in this effort. Every man knows what habits of eating and drinking agree with him usually.—Let him adhere to his own style of living, only in moderation and not allowing himself to be frightened out of sufficient nutrition and sleep to keep him strong. If he will then attend to his ordinary business, and divert himself from speculations and anxieties about the weather by doing a fair day's work, and avoid all unnecessary exposure to the sun and adjure all stimulants, his perils from the heat will be almost wholly averted.'

Dangers of Surf-Bathing.

Taking the sea-side records in due consideration, it is curious that so few accidents from drowning are found in the summer news And yet, the precautions necessary to the proper indulgence in seabathing do not seem to have been taken. On the long line of our Atlantic coast there are many resorts which are crowded with the city's summer emigrants, who do the watering-places because it is fashionable, bathing at all hours because it is the way of the hour, and what they presumedly go for. The coast is treacherous at Long Branch, Cape May, and other places, from the heavy under-tow and the strong currents which sweep seaward from a deceptively-placid bathing-place, of which strangers cannot be otherwise than ignorant. It is an old saying, and a true one, that only the good swimmers are drowned—men who find it easy and pleasant work to float away from shore, and not realizing the trouble or the danger of relying upon arms and legs to swim back again. These risks may be taken by the foolhardy when there is a line of boats beyond them to come to their rescue if exhausted, or if seized with cramp while in the water, but there is no excuse in the face of the warnings of the death record of previous seasons, which has not yet fairly commenced with the present one. But the strong men of the cities often choose to do and dare for themselves, scoffing at the advice and trusting to luck to get back again when they are once beyond the breakers. A single thought of the actual danger would make surf-bathing a luxury—but a foolish desire to do something that somebody may admire or wonder at sometimes costs a life, when the fault of its deliberate losing is one of personal responsibility.—*N. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.
Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."
