MR. EDITOR—We are pleased to notice that the present Board of Town Commissioners are expending some of the public money upon the streets. The system of making gutters on the side of the streets is the only sensible mode of drainage. The old canal in front of the Methodist Protestant Church and the Public School House, which has offended the eyes for ages, has disappeared; and the trough or tunnel just at the foot of our main street is also, we are glad to see, disappearing. These changes, we learn, are displeasing to some of the old fogies in the town, simply because these old landmarks have so long offended the public eye; and strange to say, the greater opposition comes from those who are radical reformers in politics. We hope the good work may go on, and that the streets may be put in a condition of some permanence. W.

TRAPPE CORNER, KENT CO.,
Sept. 18th, 1872.

Mr. Editor of the Transcript:

Living down here in this rural district, you will no doubt be glad to hear from us, now that kind Neptune has visited us with plentiful showers of rain, cheering the heart of the agriculturist, the occupation of the most of us. But, upon the whole, we shall be well rewarded for our labor, notwithstanding the long-continued drought and the exceedingly hot summer. The farm crops, with the peaches and other fruits, make us in some measure to be thankful and rejoice

We have no post office here, but through your polite and accommodating P. M., Mr. Collins, we receive our mail matter very regularly.

Now you must not think because we are so remote from town that we have not heard of the Louisville Convention. We hope yet to hear that O'Conor has accepted; then we will go to work as in days of yore, for down in this old Democratic Fifth it is pretty hard to swallow the wool that sticks to that Greeley pill; but we intend to do the best we can to save the country.

Everything about here looks quite promising. Farm buildings and yard fences are well painted or whitewashed, making every place look cheerful and pleasant except the District School House, which stands in a field near a large old cherry tree nearly decayed, without paint or whitewash. The teacher was compelled to dismiss his school several times last winter rather than freeze. Now, Mr. Editor, if you or any other stranger should travel this way, you would not think that delapidated hut was a school house, unless you saw the scholars, and then you would say, it was a shame and disgrace to any community, especially where there is such appearance of so great wealth. H.

COL. A. K. MCCLURE, the chairman of the Liberal Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania, addressed a large and and enthusiastic Liberal meeting at Reading, in that State, on Wednesday evening, in which he thus discoursed of the prospects in the Old Keystone:

"In concluding, he spoke of the prospects in Pennsylvania, saying that reports from all sections were most cheering, and adding:—In Philadelphia we will make fraud hide in terror before election day, and the boasted majority of 12,000 to 15,000 will vanish. [Cheers.] So far, in every State that has voted, the Grant loss, compared with previous equally full votes, has been most significant of disaster to them. They jollify over North Carolina because they have manufactured a nominal majority by fraud, where, four years ago, they had 18,000. They boast of West Virginia because a Greeley man was defeated for Governor; but they forget to tell that a Greeley man was elected. [Laughter and cheers.] They claim a victory where they did not venture to run a Grant candidate, although four years ago they elected their Governor by 4,700. They shout themselves hoarse over Vermont, where they have lost 5,000 on any previous vote with so large a poll. They are wild with joy over Maine, where they have lost 25 per cent. of the Grant majority, and where the percentage of Republican loss, if applied to Pennsylvania, would beat them 50,000." [Applause.]

The Impracticables.

If a ship, water-logged, all pumps going, dismantled by storms, filled with passengers, who had eaten up all their provisions, and were chewing strips of salted hide daily to keep the breath of life in them till succor came, was sighted off Sandy Hook, slowly coming toward port, what would a practical man do? At once despatch a medical force, water, hard-tack, salt beef and a steam-tug to bring them to port at the earliest possible moment. What would the impracticable man do? Send word not to accept hard-tack and salt beef, but keep on chewing strips of worm-eaten hides or old boot-tops, till he could see Delmonico and contract for plenty of roast beef, plum-pudding, choice wines, and a tip-top desert, to finish off. To be sure, it would take time to do all this, and it was quite true that hard-tack and salt beef are a vast improvement on 'old boot tops' a as nutriment, but they had better keep on with the said boot-tops and vermin covered salt hide, as a dish, till he could arrange for a tang-up repast; in the meantime, he would procure them a 'bill of fare,' of the most tantalizing character, upon which they could feast their eyes while chewing the old hide. Now, this is just what the great class represented by the men who went to Louisville are doing; they are not able to give the straight-out political aid to the South or the North, the East or the West, and rather than move to offer the hard-tack and salt beef of Greeleyism to the politically starving millions, they prefer to offer a splendid bill of fare in the shape of an "essay" on pure Democracy, with no Democratic viands at all on hand to deal out; in the meantime, telling the suffering country to grin and bear it four years longer, till the Delmonico repast is cooked for them.—"Better chew old boot tops and bad hides, and wait an indefinite time for good old Democratic fare, than take Greeley hard-tack and salt beef to-day." That is their talk. We do not hanker after the Greeley repast; the South would not hanker after it if the diet they now have were not so damnable. As it is, they do: and when any change would improve their system, and this is all the relief they can get to-day, in the name of humanity is it not better to give it than insult them by long rigmaroles of rhetoric on the nutritive proprieties of the porter-house steaks of Democracy and no porter-house steak to offer? It is the political food, the political relief the South needs, not illustrations of the nutritious properties of certain political doctrines, when you have no embodiment of those doctrines to present. Do reflect a little. Democratic voters If you cannot give the country the political repast it ought to have, do the next best, and give it something to stop the starvation pangs of the Southern people.—N. Y. Day Book.

DISTRESSING.—Last Saturday several children were playing in the yard of the Seventh Street Congregational Church, in Cincinnati, and one of them, a little five or six year old son of the sexton, was induced to descend to the bottom of a dry cistern After he got to the bottom his little playfellows called to him that "now he was shut down forever," and closed the cap over him for two or three minutes. When he was taken out it was discovered that he had lost his reason from freight The distressed mother, it is said, is crazed in consequence.

The Nathan Murder Investigation.

NEW YORK, September 18.—At an examination in the case of the Forrester, the alleged murderer of Nathan, to-day, Mrs. Ann Keenan, a music teacher, testified that about 8 o'clock on the the night of the murder she saw a man, whom she identifies as the prisoner, prowling about Mr. Nathan's premises. He had something concealed up the sleeve of his coat. She saw him go into the basement of the house He seemed very excited.

STATE SCHOLARS
TO
ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

A COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION, for filling of vacant scholarships in St. John's College, will be held at the School Room in Chestertown, on Tuesday, September 24th, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The Act recently passed by the General Assembly, provides that six students from each Senatorial District in the State, shall be educated free of charge for tuition, room rent, and use of text-books; and that three students shall pay $200 each for board, fuel, lights and washing.

The Act furnishes board, fuel, lights and washing, to two of the number of students, who are to be appointed by the Board of School Commissioners, after a competitive examination of the candidates; the appointments being subject to the approval or disapproval of the State Senator.

Special attention is called to the fact that the Act requires that these students be prepared for the Collegiate course, and that they will not be received free of charge into the Preparatory Department of the College.

That they will be required to pursue the regular Academic course as specified in the Catalogue of the College, and will be examined for entrance into the Freshman Class upon the following studies: "English Grammar, U. S. History, Ancient and Modern Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra to Quadratic Equation, Geometry, first book; Hadley's or Kuhner's Greek Grammar, Greek Reader, Xenophon's Analysis, Harkness' or Allen's Latin Grammar, Cæsar's Commentaries, or some equivalent; Sallust, Virgil, Latin and Greek Composition."

That they must give bond to the amount of $750. This bond must be executed by the successful candidate, with at least two sureties, (one of whom is to be the parent or guardian, if any,) and is to the effect that he will teach school within this State for not less than two years after leaving College, and should any student neglect or refuse to teach the length of time required by this section, his bond shall be liable.

That he will present himself at College for examination, on Monday, September 30th, and Tuesday, October 1st.

CHAS. G. RICAUD,
