OUR LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THANKS.—We return thanks to Philip of Galena, and hope he will write whenever inclined, and that his inclination will be weekly.

WE REGRET to have received no report from "Farmer," our Worton correspondent, whose reports of the proceedings of the Worton Club are interesting to many of our readers.

NO ADDITIONAL CASES of Small Pox have occurred in our town. Two weeks have now elapsed since the case brought here from Baltimore terminated fatally, and without additional importations we may expect to escape further infliction from this terrible disease.

THE STEAMER CHESTER resumed her trips on Saturday last, going up the river to Crumpton. On Monday the water was so low she was unable to get down the river in time to make her trip, and laid over at our wharf until Wednesday, her regular day, for Baltimore.

POSTPONED SALE.—In consequence of the rain storm last Wednesday, the sale of the personal property of Elias S. Watson, dec'd., J. A. Pearce, Esq., adm'r., did not take place as advertised. On Monday the 17th, however, those who desire to attend this large sale of valuable stock, &c., can do so with the positive assurance that it will take place without regard to weather. Read the advertisement.

THE WEATHER continues very changeable and anything but agreeable. According to the old weather-rule, the ground-hog or wood-chuck, comes out of his burrow on the ninth day of February, and if he sees his shadow, returns, to remain six weeks longer. By this rule we are to have six weeks more of bad weather from last Sunday, which being a bright sunny day, enabled the ground-hog to see his shadow.

OUR GALENA BUNDLE OF PAPERS, from some cause, was returned to the Chestertown Post Office on Monday last, minus the wrapper and direction, which explains its non-arrival in proper time. There is some little irregularity in some of our county offices somewhere; our Fairlee and Edesville papers have several times failed to arrive at the proper time, although mailed at the Chestertown office earlier than usual.

DRAUGHTS OR CHECKERS.—The interest in this scientific old game seems to have broken out in a most virulent form and is spreading like an epidemic in our town. The learned counselor deserts his office, the merchant forgets his wares, the artisan forsakes his tools, the mechanic his shop, the farmer forgets his stores of grain, the member of Church neglects its special services, the gentleman of leisure brightens up with increased energy, as they handle or watch, with intense interest, the checkered ways of kings.

The same deep thought and patient practice consumed in this exciting game, would, doubtless, if properly directed, lead to many valuable discoveries and much useful information to mankind.

ORPHANS' COURT.—Present, Judges Beck and Scott.

The Court passed a number of claims against the estates of deceased parties.

Hanson Crew, new admr. of Martin L. Newsome, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of deceased, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Ordered, in answer to the petition of Geo. W. Sutton, filed on the 21st day of January, that Jos. P. Ireland and Geo. W. Crisfield be and they are hereby appointed to appraise the real estate of Orlando F. Sutton, dec'd., and that the Register issue citation for Mary E. Brice, wife of R. A. Brice, George W. Sutton, and David S. Sutton and James W. Sutton, minors, to appear before the Orphans' Court to answer the material allegations of said petition.

Lewin Usilton, guardian to Peter Taylor, returned his guardian account for the year 1872, which was passed and ordered to be recorded.

RATIFICATION NOTICE.

M. BANNON vs, DAVID BIDDLE.
In Equity. January 29, 1873.

ORDERED, that the sale made and reported by M. Bannon, Trustee and Mortgagee of the real estate in the proceedings mentioned, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary thereof be shown on or before the thirty-first day of March; provided a copy of this order be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of three successive weeks, before the 28th day of February, 1873.

The Report states the amount of sales to be $18,640.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

TAX PAYERS of the Third Election District, are notified that their Taxes for 1872 are due, and demanded. The Collector will shortly begin to serve parties with their accounts and the legal notice to pay. In all cases where the legal notice is given, he will proceed, at the expiration thereof, to collect by law.—The last Act of Assembly renders this course necessary.

The Collector will be found every SATURDAY AFTERNOON at William V. Lucas' Store, Smithville, from 2 to 6 o'clock P. M. WILLIAM HEPBRON,
Collector of Taxes for Third District.

PENINSULA ITEMS.

CECIL COUNTY.

It is feared that the peaches in this county have been destroyed by the low temperature.

The Democrat says: J. E. Wilson, Esq., showed us a day or two ago, a volume containing the Old and New Testament and Psalms in metre, published in 1646. Can Cecil county produce an older specimen? It is curious to note that in this book, printed more than two hundred years ago, the typography is equal to the best of the present day.

Pigeon shooting seems to be one of the civilized sports of the Ceciltonians.

The dwelling of F. A. Ellis was entered last week, rooms and drawers turned topsy-turvy, but only one silver spoon taken, although other silver ware was within reach.

QUEEN ANNE'S COUNTY.

C. E. Skinner, Esq., a prominent citizen of this county, died at his residence on Kent Island on Wednesday of last week, after a brief illness, at an advanced age. Mr. Skinner had represented his county in the Legislature, and had otherwise been prominent in the affairs of the county.

CAROLINE COUNTY.

Mr. John Whittaker, a teacher near Denton fell on the ice last week and broke his arm.

Capt. E. C. Carter, residing near Whiteleysburgh, on the same day, while attempting to pull a sleigh, fell, breaking both bones of his right leg above the ankle.

Killed by Lightning.—Mrs. Nathan Smith, living in the neighborhood of Burrsville, in this county, was killed by lightning on Tuesday night last during the thunder storm that prevailed in this section at that time. She had started to walk across the floor of her house with a plate in her hand, and when about halfway was instantly killed.

TALBOT COUNTY.

There is a family of one brother and three sisters living in the town of Trappe, Talbot county, the oldest being 78 years and the youngest 70. They have lived in or near Trappe all their lives. They are all in good health and promise to live many years yet. Capt. Seymour, the brother, who is 72 years old, is able to do the work of a hand, and expects to engage in fishing when the next run of shad comes on the Choptank river. Long may they live.

Destructive Fire.—On Sunday, 9th inst., a fire broke out in the dwelling on the farm formerly belonging to James L. Chamberlaine, in Island Creek Neck, and at present owned by Dr. J. E. M. Chamberlaine, and occupied by a Mr. Cannon, which was entirely consumed. The wearing apparel of the family was almost entirely consumed. There is an insurance in the Montgomery Company of $1,200. The doctor sustains a clear loss of about $1,000.

WICOMICO COUNTY.

Property Sales.—Lemuel Malone. Esq., has sold his farm at the Upper Trappe, containing 100 acres, to Mrs. Sallie Malone, for the sum of $1,800. Also, one-half of the "Marshfield" farm, situated on the Wicomico river, about four miles from Salisbury to Captain Thomas W. H. White, for $1,700. This farm contains 124 acres, and has valuable fisheries attached. Also his property situated at the Five Points, in this town, to Captain T. W. H. White, for $3,500.

MR. COLFAX AND THE CREDIT MOBILIER.

EXPRESSIONS OF THE PRESS ON THE VICE-PRESIDENT'S DEFENSE.

[From the New York Herald.]

The Vice President has at last brought forward his alibi on the twelve hundred dollar matter, which Hoax Ames has charged him withal. It is a curious alibi. A Mr. George F. Nesbitt, who is conveniently dead, is a thousand dollars worth thereof, and a Mr. Mathews, the step-father of Mr. Colfax, who is alive, is only two hundred dollars' worth. Indeed in a certain way, Mr. Matthews is part of the whole amount, for he saw the thousand dollar bill come out of the letter the bright morning he paid Mr. Colfax for a piano to the amount of two hundred dollars. Wonderful coincidence! Handy old chap, this Matthews, to have in the house. The alibi was to come from three persons in different States a week ago, and now it comes to a thousand dollars on a piano. Old Hoax has not produced any receipt, but his clerk is industriously searching and Hoax will not swear that he does not possess it. Is old Iago meditating another great surprise!

[From the New York Tribune.]

We fear that there will be a very general feeling of disappointment at the result of Mr. Colfax's defense before the Credit Mobiller committee. Much was promised and expected: very little has come to pass. The Vice-President, by his counsel, attempts to break down the principal witness—Ames. Rebuked by the committee, the defense put in as follows: Mr. Colfax says he received $200 from his father-in-law and $1,000 from a New York merchant, (since dead,) about the time Oakes Ames is alleged to have paid him $1,200 as a Credit Mobiller dividend. These sums, deposited in the First National Bank, Washington, are said to be the amount which stands to his credit in the account produced. There is no attempt to establish this line of defense on any sworn evidence except that of Mr. Colfax and some of the members of his family. Against this is the sworn evidence of Oakes Ames, fortified by his memorandum book, the check for $1,200 and his own bank account. If Mr. Colfax be innocent, he is the victim of a conspiracy stretching over many years, arranged with consumate art, and having no motive which an impartial observer can discover.

[From the New York World.]

The defense of Colfax sinks beneath pity, beneath contempt. Oakes Ames's $1,200 deposited by Colfax June 22, 1868, he pretends to have received, or rather $1,000 of it, a single greenback, as a present from George F Nesbitt, of New York now dead, in a letter now destroyed which the writer said he wrote without the knowledge of any other person! The defense is a palpable lie, of contemptible ingenuity. He fortifies it by the recollection of his sister and stepfather, whose evidence if true, shows that even then Colfax knew the measure of his guilt, and within his own family circle was a hypocrite. These be thy gods, O Republicans!

[From the New York Times.]

Mr. Colfax's defense in regard to the deposit of $1,200, which suspiciously coincided in date with the check alleged to have been paid to him by Oakes Ames, is briefly this: He received toward the end of May, 1868, a payment of $200 on account of a debt due to him by his step-father, Mr. Matthews, and about the middle of June he received from the late George F. Nesbitt, of this city, a national bank note for $1,000, as a contribution toward the heavy expenses of the campaign on which he was about to enter as the vice-presidential nominee of the republican party. The rest of Mr. Colfax's personal statement was hardly needed to clear him from the imputation of being governed in his rulings as Speaker of the House of Reprosentatives by considerations affecting the profit of the Union Pacific railroad. Nobody, for whose opinion he need care a jot, ever suspected him of that degree of want of fidelity to his legislative trust.

[From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.]

It will be remembered that public opinion was "suspended" some time ago at the request of Brothers Pomeroy and Colfax. Information reaches us that within the last two or three days it has been cut down and found to be in exactly the same condition as when it was hung up.
