OUR LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

ORPHANS' COURT.—Present Judges Beck and Hepbron.

The Court passed a number of claims against the estates of deceased parties.

The release of John Brown, Ann M. Hawkins, (formerly Ann M. Brown,) and Henry Brown, (colored) to Jas. H. Baker, admr of Harriett Gordon, (colored) was filed and ordered to be recorded.

Sewell Hepbron, admr. C. T. A. of Lemuel Skeggs, returned a list of sales of personal property, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

James W. Stoops, admr. of John W. Stoops, returned his first administration account, which was passed and ordered to be recorded.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Joseph Merritt, dec'd., were granted and committed unto Rachel Merritt, who executed her bond with Jacob Sutton and Benjamin M. Crawford, as sureties, in the penalty of five thousand dollars. Isaac Perkins and David Biddle were appointed to appraise said estate, and the usual notice to creditors ordered.

REV. MR. ROBERTS will preach at Still Pond on Tuesday next.

THE WEATHER.—The cold weather of Monday night last closed Chester river for the fourth time this season. The river steamers have not been able to make over one or two consecutive trips since Christmas. The ground is very hard frozen again, and agricultural operations will necessarily be much retarded.

IDLE BOYS.—The number of boys in our town who do not go school, and have no other occupation than to perambulate the streets and trespass upon the adjoining farms, is surprising. In many cases they are the children of parents who seek charity from the public.

Aside from the fact, that continuous idleness is a prolific source of vice, all such children are growing up to be an incubus on the community. We are not fully prepared to advocate compulsory education, but it seems rational that if the State requires one class of its citizens to sustain elaborate and expensive systems of public schools, some means should be resorted to to secure the benefits thereof. If the State requires one class of its citizens to supply the schools, justice would seem to require that the pupils be supplied. Taxes are levied for the support of schools on the theory that it is a benefit to the state as well as to the children that they should be educated, and when the State performs her part, it is not unreasonable to require the citizen to do his duty. The boy who neither goes to school or is brought up to some useful employment is just as surely preparing to live by the sweat of some one else's brow as that he does live, and the world would be better off without him—the State unquestionably. No parent deserves assistance from the public, who does not require his child to go to school or be employed in some useful occupation a reasonable portion of his time. No parent, be his circumstances what they may, has a moral right to neglect the same requisites.

The question of temperance seems to be agitating some of our citizens; we think this question lies nearer to the root of the evil.

CONFERENCE.—The Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church will assemble at the Broadway Church in Baltimore city on Wednesday next. Mr. Wm. B. Usilton is the delegate from Chestertown, and Mr. Isaac Parsons represents the Worton Congregation.

The Protracted meeting at the M. P. Church, now in its fifth week, has proved to be one of the largest revivals for a long time. The altar has been crowded with penitents every night this week, and many conversions have taken place. The congregations have been so large as to fill all the seats and a great part of the standing room, in the house. We presume the meeting will be continued.

WILMINGTON CONFERENCE M. E. CHURCH.—The Wilmington Commercial has the following by telegraph from Easton:

March 5—The fifth session of the Wilmington Conference met this morning.

The devotional services were conducted by Bishopp Scott, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Urie and Quigg.

Bishopp Scott is presiding.

The following Conference Secretaries were elected: Rev's Messrs. Martindale, Rigg, Ridgely, and Nelson.

Rev. Mr. Matlack, of New Orleans; Rev. Mr. Edwards, of Indiana; and Rev. B. F. Benson and J. Earle Maloy, of the M. P. Conference were introduced.

The vacancies in the Board of Stewards were filled by Rev. Mr. England for the Dover district; Rev. Mr. Walton for the Easton District, and Rev. Mr. Brown, for the Snow Hill district.

The call of the Conference stewards will be made, to-morrow.

A resolution was introduced touching a union with the neighboring Conferences in July next in the Centennial Anniversary of the American Methodist Conferences.

The reports of the Wesleyan Conference were accordingly read and adopted.

The Bishop made a feeling address, rehearsing the changes that have occurred since he joined the Philadelphia Conference, in this town, forty-seven years ago.

PENINSULA ITEMS.

CECIL COUNTY.

On Tuesday of last week Hasson Lynch, jr., and John T. Abrams, were killed on the railroad between North East and Elkton. They were confused by a train coming each way, and while attempting to get out of the way were struck by the express train.

The Democrat speaks discouragingly of the peach prospect in Cecil county.

Wilson Marshall, of this county has a ewe which recently gave birth to three lambs of different colors—one white, one a reddish brown and the other a jet black. The mother sheep is white. This singular family are all living and thriving very finely.

Slandered Chickens.—MR. EDITOR—The reporter in last week's Democrat, who declared that chickens of Elk Neck take to the woods whenever a Methodist preacher makes his appearance, grossly slandered the chickens of that region. It is true that the people of that section generally treat their minister as a minister should be treated, the exception of this rule composing a very small minority; but the chickens, albeit recognizing the clerical arrival a forerunner of their execution, are too much imbued with christian fortitude to desert their post in the hour of danger. On the contrary, they recognize the axe as the "sword of the Lord and of Gideon," and falling like true soldiers, they die at their post.

ELK NECK.

QUEEN ANNE'S COUNTY.

The Protracted Meetings at the M. P. Church have been continued during the past week, with some success. A number of conversions have taken place—about twenty-five.

Rev. Mr. Gildaudet Rector of St. Paul's Church, Centreville, has tendered his resignation, to take effect April 1st, which has been accepted by the vestry. Mr. G. has accepted a call to Altoona, Pa.

TALBOT COUNTY.

The Easton Town Hall Company was organized on Friday by adopting a constitution and by laws, and electing Dr. H. T. Goldsborough, President; M. M. Higgins, Secretary; R. B. Dixon, Treasurer, and John Mason, M. M. Dawson and J. Frank Turner, Directors. The affairs of the company have been heretofore managed by a committee composed of Messrs. Goldsborough, Dixon and Hughlett. The debts of the company have all been paid and a dividend of three per cent declared.

Capt. Timmons, commodore of the oyster fleet, arrested two boats dredging in Eastern Bay last week, and brought them into St. Michaels, where their officers were fined for violation of the oyster laws.

A Pleasant Visit.—The congregation of Rev. B. F. Benson, pastor of the M. P. Church, Easton, paid him a visit last night week, and took with them a good supply of groceries, provisions, clothing, &c.

DORCHESTER COUNTY.

The Cambridge Democrat and the Easton Journal are discussing the merits of the State's attorney in their respective counties in connection with the Plater trial.

RACING PROGRAMME AT THE VIENNA EXHIBITION.

The Austrian authorities seem determined to leave no stone unturned that will help to make their grand exhibition a success. As before announced and among other attractions that the exhibition is going to wind up with are a series of international horse races, the first day of which is fixed for Sunday, September 21st, and as that is ten days after the Doncaster St. Leger race in England it is not unlikely but that a number of English cracks will participate. The following are the events and conditions for each:

First Day.—1. Danube prize of 3,000 florins. Handicap, for horses of all countries, subscription 200 florins, distance one and a quarter (Austrian) miles. The second horse is to get half the stakes. 2. Exhibition prize of 15,000 florins and a present of the value of 1,000 florins, for horses of all countries three years old and upwards, stakes 300 florins, distance one and three-quarters (Austrian) miles. The second horse to get a third of the stakes. 3. Prize for horses of pure Eastern breed, 2,500 florins, stakes 100 florins, distance two (Austrian) miles; the second horse to get half the stakes. The following is the programme for the second day of the races, Tuesday, the 23d of September: 1. Manufacturers' prize, 4,500 florins, with a present of the value of 500 florins. Handicap for horses of all countries three years old and upwards, stakes 100 florins, distance two (Austrian) miles; the second horse to get 400 florins out of the stakes. 2. Trial stakes, 2,000 florins, for two and three year olds of all countries, distance about three-quarters of an (Austrien) mile, stakes 100 florins; the second horse gets 200 florins. 3. Frendenau prize of 3,700 florins, with a present of the value of 300 florins, for horses of all countries, three years old and upwards, stakes 200 florins, distance one and a quarter (Austrian) miles; the second horse to get a third of the stakes. 4. Pleasure-house steeplechase, prize 1,800 florins, with a present of the value of 200 florins, for horses of all countries four years old and upwards, stakes 150 florins, distance about three (Austrian) miles. 6. International countrymen's race, on horses without saddles, prize 1,000 florins; the first horse to get 450 florins and a present of the value of 50 florins; the second 200 florins and a present of 25 florins; the third 150 florins, and the fourth 100 florins. distance one (Austrian) mile, stakes 5 florins. Professionals are to excluded from this race.

PAYING THEMSELVES.—Whatever they may have done or left undone for the people, members of Congress, in the last moments of the session, were not unminful of themselves. For fear, perhaps, that they might not receive from their constituents the reward of "good and faithful servants," they resolved to reward themselves. It must be confessed that they have done so handsomly. They have voted the increase of their own salaries with no niggard hand. Under the disinterested lead of General Butler, whose motive in the matter may certainly be conceded to be "above suspicion," the House amended the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, as it came back from the Senate, so as to give the President $50,000, Vice-President and Speaker $10,000, Judges of the Supreme Court $10,000, Senators and Representatives $6,500. In this shape the bill went to a conference committee of the two houses, and was reported back making the salary of Senators and Representatives $7,500, instead of $6,500. In this form it passed, with a proviso that as to the salaries of Congressmen, it should take effect from March 4th, 1871. Thus Congress have voted themselves an addition of $5,000 back pay for the last two years. The point of order that members could not vote upon a bill in which they were personally interested was simply laughed down, and by the votes of men whose terms expired on the 4th of March, 1873, and who scrupled not to make this last "raid upon the treasury," the bill was passed. All of the Maryland delegation who were present voted against the increase. While the vote was being put the Speaker (Mr. Blaine) had the tact, upon his own motion, to amend the bill so as to make the increase of the Speaker's salary to begin "hereafter," instead of from March 4th, 1871, thereby taking himself out of the "ring."

SHALL we never have done with Colfax? He has been floundering in the mire of Credit Mobilier, and every frantic step he has taken to extricate himself has plunged him deeper in the slough. It is discovered that he interested himself in procuring a continuation of the Nesbitt contract for stamped envelopes, after it had been suspended for illegality. The contract was continued at his urgent request and now he has got Mr. Secretary Chorpenning Cresswell to say that although he acceded to the request of Colfax he thought nothing of it, and was not influenced in his action by the fact that Mr. Colfax had "urged" him to it. The point of the matter is just this: Mr. Nesbitt—that "unknown friend"—was in the habit of sending Mr. Colfax thousand-dollar bills and checks, and Mr. Colfax in return, procured a continuation of Nesbitt's contract. Would he have troubled himself about the Nesbitt contract if he had not been the recipient of Nesbitt's money?—Gazette.

THE New York Evening Post, an administration paper, has the manliness to say that "Democratic newspapers do not spare Mr. Brooks because he is a Democrat. This is only one of the encouraging signs that partisanship must give place to propriety in public life."

Now this we believe is strictly true, for we do not know of a single Democratic paper that has ever essayed to defend Brooks, the only Democratic member of Congress implicated in the Credit Mobilier swindle. Still, we cannot, nor do we pretend to claim any special credit for the Democratic press on account of the position it has taken in this matter, for it has simply performed its duty. But how is it with the very many papers of that party which claims to represent all the morality and piety of the country, and which have most earnestly and persistently defended, and in some instances attempted to justify the course of Colfax, Wilson, Kelley, Dawes and the other Radical rascals who belonged to the Congressional Credit Mobilier ring. Let the people judge between them, and say which is worthy of their confidence.—Jeffersonian.

THE reprieve of Foster, in New York, puts an end to the peril in which both he and Stokes stood. It is very safe to predict that neither will now be executed. While public opinion would have sustained the authorities in a speedy trial and almost immediate carrying out of the sentence, it never countenanced, and will not countenance now, the playing with the lives of these men as a cat plays with a mouse—sending them from a hopeful despondency to the elation of assured safety, and alternately backward and forward. These men will not be hanged; but the next murderer—friendless and a beggar—who is carried from the Tombs to the dock, will be carried from the dock to the gallows, to make up for past leniency.—Baltimore Gazette.

☞ John, did you leave Mr. Jones's umbrella at his house?"

"No, ma," said John.

"And why did you not my son? Didn't I tell you to?"

"Yes ma," said John; "but didn't you tell me a little while ago, to keep something for a rainy day? and what better thing can I keep than an umbrella?"

A political orator, speaking of a certain General whom he admired, said he was always, on the field of battle, where the bullets were thickest. "Where was that?" "In the ammunition wagon,"
