MANY MANSIONS.

Her silver lamp half-filled with oil,
Night came to still the day's turmoil,
And bring a respite from its toil.

Near where I slowly chanced to stray,
A youth and old man, worn and gray,
Down through the silence took their way.

And the night brought within my reach,
As each made answer unto each,
Some portion of their earnest speech.

The patriarch said: "Of all we know,
Or all that we can dream below,
Of that far land to which we go;

This one assurance hath expressed
To me its blessedness the best—
"He giveth his beloved rest."

And the youth answered: "If it be
A place of inactivity,
It cannot be a heaven to me.

Surely its joy must be to lack
These kindnesses that keep us back
From rising on a shining track;

Where each shall find his own true height
Though in our place and in our light
We differ as the stars of night."

I listened till they ceased to speak;
And my hsart answered faint and weak,
Their heaven is not the heaven I seek!

A mother once had said to me
Over her dead: "My heaven will be
An undivided family."

One sick with mortal doubts and fears,
With looking blindly through her tears,
The way that she had looked for years,

Told me: "That world could have no pain
Since there we should not wait in vain
For feet that will not come again."

Men, bending to their hopeless doom,
Toiling as in a living tomb
Down shafts of everlasting gloom,

Out of the dark had answered me:
Where there is light for us to see
Each other's faces, heaven must be."

An aged man who bowed his head
With reverence o'er the page and read
The words that ancient prophets said,

Talked of a glory never dim
Of the veiled face of cherubim,
And harp and everlasting hymn;

Saw golden streets and glittering towers—
Saw peaceful valleys white with flowers,
Kept never ending Sabbath hours.

One who the cruel sea had crossed
And seen through billows madly tossed,
Great shipwrecks where brave souls were lost,

Thus of the final voyage spake:
"Coming to heaven must be to make Safe port and no more journeys take."

And now their words of various kind
Came back to my bewildered mind
And my faith staggered faint and blind,

One moment; then this truth seemed plain;
These have not trusted God in vain,
To ask of Him must be to gain.

Souls in your quest of bliss grown weak—
Souls whose great wo no words can speak,
Not always shall ye vainly seek!

Men whose whole lives have been a night;
Shall come from darkness to the light;
Wanderers shall hail the land in sight.

And the pale mourner with bowed head,
Who for the living lost or dead,
Here weeps, shall there be gently led

To feel, in that celestial place,
The tears wiped softly from her face
And know love's comforting embrace.

So shall we all who groan in this,
Find in that new life's perfectness,
Our own peculiar heaven of bliss.

Therefore, will I wait patiently,
Trusting where all God's mansions be,
There hath been one prepared for me.

ONE OF THE BEAUTIES OF THE LACK OF USURY LAWS.—A peculiarly English case has just been decided in "The Earl of Aylesford vs. Morris." It reads like a leaf out of one of those interesting novels in which figure the needy heir and the extortionate money-lender. Have we not all read of them, the modern Shylock and the impecunious but hopeful Antonio, whose ship has not yet entered port, and generally bears for its freight the life of some rich and gouty old father! Such was the position of the Earl of Aylesford. He was the eldest son of a large landowner and "tenant in tail in remainder immediately expectant on the death of his father." His income was only twenty-five hundred dollars, so he naturally went to the money-lenders and they just as naturally plucked their goose. He first borrowed twenty thousand dollars of one Graham on right easy terms; a "facilis descensus" into the trap. When his note became due he of course could not pay.—He was then introduced to Morris, who "shaved" him in forty thousand dollars upon bills payable in three months at sixty per cent. interest, seven hundred dollars being retained as discount. At the end of three months no pay, of course, and a tighter squeeze. Other notes for fifty-five thousand were given, at sixty per cent., and discount again, so that of the fifty-five thousand, all expenses being taken off, the noble Earl received but thirty-five thousand. In fact the Earl found that as often as his bills arrived at maturity, he must either permit himself to be made bankrupt, or take up money in the market elsewhere, which was only shifting the burden from one shoulder to another; or he must renew with his original creditor, in which case the accumulation of the debt would be equally rapid and enormous. In the present instance this was actually done, and would, if repeated, have doubled the debt in the course of every year. The court granted him relief, and taught the money lenders a lesson which will induce them—immediately to raise their rates and cover the risk.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists, and Dealers in Medicines.

Buckingham's Dye.
FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation; which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

EUREKA
FANNING MILL.
The Greatest Invention
OF THE 19th CENTURY!
FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every othhr Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and now he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!

THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of; for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Md.,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of NOLAND & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee they will be put up in the very best manner.
