ORPHANS' COURT.—Present Judges Beck, Scott and Hepbron.

The Court passed a number of claims against the estates of deceased parties.

M. D. Cooper, admr'x. of Geo. Cooper, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of deceased.

F. H. Harper and S. J. Roseberry, returned their report of the annual rental value of the real estate of Isaac E., Lewis M., and Eugene Holly, (colored) minors, in the hands of Isaac Holly, guardian to said minors, which was ordered to be recorded.

John T. Skirven, admr. of James W. Skirven, dec'd., returned a list of sales of the personal estate of said deceased.

F. Hyland Taylor, admr. of Samuel P. Benny, returned a list of debts due dec'd.

H. M. Thomas, attorney for Elizabeth A. Coleman, admr'x. of Darius Coleman, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of deceased.

Robt. J. Lusby, executor of the last will and testament of John Lusby, returned an additional list of the sales of the personal estate of deceased, which was ordered to be recorded.

Thomas Gale and John N. Usilton, executors of John Gale, deceased, returned an additional list of sales; filed and ordered to be recorded.

Maria R. and John F. Wilson, returned an inventory of the personal estate of deceased.

James W. Ivens, jr., administrator of James W. Ivens, returned his second administration account: filed and ordered to be recorded.

On the petition of Rebecca T. Flower, guardian of Archibald D. and Joseph J. Flower, it was ordered that the said guardian expend so much of the principal of her wards as to repay her for necessary expenditure, and to expend enough of their principal so as to raise their annual expenditures to the sum of five hundred dollars.

☞ The following, in relation to the barometer, will be found to be interesting and instructive:

Great changes are usually shown by falls of the barometer exceeding half an inch, and by differences of temperature exceeding fifteen degrees. If the fall equals one-tenth of an inch an hour we may look out for a heavy storm. The more sudden the change the greater the danger. But it is too often forgotten that the fall of the mercury is a forewarning of what will occur in a day or two, rather than in a few hours.

A variation of an inch is certain to be followed by a tornado or violent cyclone. In the tropics 'the glass' has been known to show a fall of more than an inch and a half in one hour!

The following guides in predicting weather changes are selected from the "Barometer Manual" of the London Board of Trade, and are suggestive:

1. If the mercury standing at thirty inches rise gradually while the thermometer falls, and dampness becomes less, N. W., N., or N. E. wind; less wind or less snow and rain may be expected.

2. If a fall take place with a rising thermometer and increasing dampness, wind and rain may be expected from S. E., S., or S. W.; a fall in winter with a low thermometer foretells snow.

3. An impending N. wind before which the barometer often rises may be accompanied with rain, hail, or snow, and so forms an exception to the above rules, for the barometer always rises with a north wind.

4. The barometer being at 29½ inches, a rise foretells wind or a change of it northward, or less wet. But if at 29 inches a fast rise precedes strong winds or squalls from N. W., N., or N. E., after which a gradual rise with falling thermometer, a S. or S. W. wind will follow, especially if the rise of the barometer has been sudden.

5. A rapid barometric rise indicates unsettled, and a rapid fall stormy weather with rain or snow; while a steady barometer, with dryness, indicates continued fine weather.

6. The greatest barometric depressions indicate gales from S. E., S., or S. W.; the greatest elevations foretell wind from N. W., N., or N. E., or calm weather.

7. A sudden fall of the barometer, with a westerly wind, is sometimes followed by a violent storm from the N. W., N., or N. E.

8. If the wind veer to the S. during a gale from the E. to S. E., the barometer will continue to fall until the wind is near a marked change, when a lull may occur. The gale may afterward be renewed, perhaps suddenly and violently; and if the wind then veer to the N. W., N., or N. E., the barometer will rise and the thermometer fall.

9. The maximum height of the barometer occurs during a northeast wind, and the minimum during one from the southwest; hence these points may be considered the poles of the wind. The range between these two points depends on the direction of the wind, which causes, on an average, a change of half an inch; on the moisture of the air, which produces in extreme cases a change of half an inch; and on the strength of the wind, which may influence the barometer to the extent of two inches. These causes, separately or conjointly with the temperature, produce either steady or rapid barometric variations, according to their force.

EXCITEMENT AT DRUG STORES.—There has been a general rush the last month at the Drug Stores in Kent County for Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup.

It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and for any person suffering with a severe cough, heavy cold settled on the breast, consumption or any disease of the throat and lungs it has no equal in the world. Our regular size bottles are 75 cents. Two doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles free of charge.

CECIL COUNTY.

The Democrat says:

On Saturday night last, a crowd of colored citizens were amusing themselves in a little negro house on the road leading from Warwick to Bohemia Mills, with the innocent sport of card-playing. In the midst of the fun, a thunder storm passed over, and in that neighborhood was terrific. Its violence finally frightened Ben Dare, the tenant of the place, and he went up stairs and got in bed with his children, leaving the party below unterrified by the rage of the elements. In a short time, came a crash more fearful still—the house was struck and set on fire, and everybody in it fearfully stunned. As soon as they were able, all rushed out and stampeded except one, who thoughtfully went up stairs to see what had become of Ben and the children. He found the former on the floor, dead, with his clothing almost burned off, but the children were in the bed unhurt. He carried all down stairs, and got them out before the timbers fell. The stampeders ran to Armstrong's store, at Bunker Hill about half a mile distant, and took refuge there, but the destroyer was there as soon as they, and as they rushed in the door, the lightning struck the store, put out the light, fused the tinware, and did other slight damage, but did not set the building on fire. The negroes were terrified and no threats or entreaties of Mr. Armstrong could induce one of them to leave till the storm was over. We learn that all of them have forsworn card-playing for the future, particularly when the hour so nearly encroaches upon Sunday, and a thunder storm is approaching.

QUEEN ANNE'S COUNTY

J. B. Brown as trustee, sold on Tuesday last, a lot at the lower end of Centreville, to the vestry of St. Paul's church for $371.

Capt. James Tilghman, formerly Capt. of the Chester River steamboat, Hugh Jenkins, died of paralysis on Tuesday of last week. He was serving as a juror previous to the attack.

A little child of Mr. George Cole, aged about two years, residing with her parents near Hall's X Roads, was burned to death one day last week.

CAROLINE COUNTY.

The Union says: The wheat crop is looking very well in our county on good sound land, where it was not completely saturated by water during the winter.—It may probably meet up to the average crop.

The fruit crop promises to be abundant; the largest we have had for years past.—If we are to judge from the peach, apple, whortleberry, strawberry, and other fruit blossoms which meet the eye at every turn, the crop will be immense, and if fully matured, much of it must perish for want of a market.

A base ball club has been organized in Denton, with Mr. James B. Steel as President, known as the Choptank Base Ball club.

DORCHESTER COUNTY.

The corn crop is coming up very poorly. Many of the farmers are re-crossing their fields. This will make these crops very latter.

The wheat prospects have greatly improved in the last thirty days, and more than an average crop is expected.

Grass crops of every variety have made a very rapid growth and hay will doubtless be cheaper next season.

The strawberries are promising an abundant yield, and in ten days or two weeks will be for sale in our market.

Irish potatoes have generally rotted in the ground and the crop will be short.

Every variety of fruit promises an abundant yield this season in Dorchester; and if the reports of injured fruit in other sections be true the crop will be a very profitable one to our farmers.

SCRIBNER FOR JUNE.—Among the striking features of Scribner's for June are N. P. Langford's entertaining and splendidly-illustrated account of "The Ascent of Mt. Hayden;" a new picture and biography of Bret Harte; illustrated papers on Cornell University and "Our Postal-Car Service;" a curious and important paper by General Walker, superintendent of the late Census, on the relative increase, by births, of the "American Irish and American Germans;" "A Seance with Foster the Spiritualist;" and an article by Prof. Wise, the well-known æronaut, in opposition to the received theory of the tides. An interesting account of a visit to the Pope is given and there are two capital short stories, "Capt. Luce's Enemy," by James T. McKay.

The "Great South" series will be commenced in the July number of SCRIBNER'S.

☞ Judge Davis has ordered George Francis Train to be sent to the State Lunatic Asylum. By the telegraph we are told that the Court took the extraordinary course of directing the jury to render a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of insanity, and then, in spite of the protest of Train's counsel, proceeded to make out an order for the committal of the prisoner to an asylum. Train's excited remarks have more reason in them than his usual utterances. For once he has a right to consider himself wronged. So this irrepressible nuisance is before the public again, in the attitude of a martyr.

THE MECKLENBURG DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.—Last Tuesday, the anniversary of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, was celebrated at Raleigh, North Carolina.

BROUGHT BACK.—James Riley, colored, who broke out of jail in this town last December, was arrested in Baltimore on Monday, and Sheriff Wheatley notified of the fact. Officer Greenwood went on and identified him, and on Thursday he was brought back and now occupies his old quarters.

A MILITARY ROOSTER.—The twenty-third regiment of artillery in the French army has a white Cochin-China rooster upon which a great value is placed on account of his meritorious services in the field of battle. This cock passed through the whole of the campaign of the Rhine, and was carried to Augsburg as a prisoner of war. At Metz during the siege the soldiers, although obliged to eat their horses, held the life of this truly Gallic cock as sacred. At the battle of Gravelotte he was perched on the shoulders of his master, who was in the fourth battery and was so used to the cannon's roar that he did not pay the slightest attention to it. After his master was killed another artillerist adopted him, and he still remains in the military service.

SENATOR BAYARD.—Senator Bayard, of Delaware, has been invited and has accepted the invitation to deliver the annual address before the literary societies of the University of Virginia, on July 2.
