RESURGAM.

The sun sinks in the west;
The stars are shining now, to sink amain;
The moon, that hides beneath a cloudy vest—
But all to rise again.

The flowers in autumn die;
The verdant leaves wither, and droop and fall;
What is most bright this morn, to-night may lie
Beneath Death's sombre pall.

But spring will bring again
The flowers to life from out their winter bed,
And o'er earth's snow-clad, dreary, trackless plain,
Fresh beauty will be shed.

Yon stalwart, sinewy form
Now pulsing proud with manhood's noble trust—
Now thrilled with honor's smile, so rich and warm,
Must low lie in the dust.

Yon beauty, proudly rare,
With cheeks like heart of young rose in the spring,
Whose brow is like the lily-petal fair,
Whose sweet lips gladly sing

The heart's full songs of joy—
As do the birds amid their native trees—
May in another world her voice employ,
Ere comes the spring-tide breeze.

Yon little cherub gay,
With waxen arms that wields a monarch's strength,
Must have the dead leaves o'er its tomb to play,
Must sink to sleep at length.

Yon eye of sapphire blue,
With smile in which a myriad stars are set,
With look of love-light, tender, pure, and true,
Must fold in darkness yet.

Yes, all must sink to sleep,
Must sink to sleep in Death's remorseless gloom,
The hearts that joy, the eyes which, aching, weep,
All, all sleep in the tomb.

But spring's warm breath will call
Dull Nature from its long night of repose;
The ice-bound rivulet again will fall
In showers upon the rose.

The naked, shivering trees
Will smile again in summer's robe of green,
And fling their branches to the laughing breeze,
Bright in their dewy sheen.

And though I lay me down,
And sleep my sleep beneath the murmurous main,
And mermaids weave for a coral crown,
I yet shall rise again.

Wherever I may make
My final bed upon this earthly mould,
There comes a time when I from sleep shall wake,
When Death shall loose its hold.

Why should we quake with fear,
And trembling cling to this poor, suffering clay,
When lying calmly down to rest us here,
Reveals eternal day?

Resurgam, spirit frail,
Say to thy heart when shrinks it sore with pain,
When close the eyes upon life's changing vale,
"'Tis but to live again!"

A QUEER WILL.—The will of John Joy, who died in this county in 1787, and is recorded in the register's office in this county, is rather a peculiar document. He gives the events of his life, which seems to have been one of trouble. It appears that there was a quarrel in the church and that he was the victim of a combination that had conspired against him. He tells of their bringing the militia to rob him, and dragging him through across roads town, then carrying him to the river where the British ships were, in hopes he would go aboard. He made his escape and returned home. After dividing his property among his children, he "leaves the bones of his body to his enemies to make whistles out of." Delawarean.

CONDITION OF THE SOUTH.—We have long heard complaints from various portions of the South of the dishonesty of the negroes, but the following extract from a letter sent by a gentleman who resides in Arkansas, to the Department of Agriculture, shows the enormity of the evil in a particular instance:

"My apples are all stolen by the negroes, so that I never have any to put up for winter. My hogs have long since been stolen. I have cut down my peach orchard. If I plant a garden and have a nice lot of vegetables, they are all stolen. If I put up a nice crib of corn, the lock is forced and my corn is stolen. So I have come down to cotton, and plant just enough corn to make my crop."

TREES AND RAINFALL.—At a scientific discussion in England, a gentleman from Santa Cruz, West Indies, said that twenty years ago that island was a rich and ever blooming garden. Forests adorned the hills, trees were clustered freely over the plains, and rains were never wanting for the abundant production. The island is twenty-five miles long, and the soil is all fertile. Now the hills are bare and the trees of the plain have been mostly cut down. Continuous drouths have desolated one-third of the island, and year by year desolation advances. Soon the whole island is doomed to become a desert. Official papers agree in attributing this scourge to the reckless waste of timber and the neglect to plant the forests.

A CARD

To the Democratic and Conservative Voters of Kent County.

A REPORT having been circulated that I have withdrawn as a candidate for nomination for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court of Kent county, I take this method of positively denying the truth of that report, and to re-announce myself as a candidate subject to a fair and proper nomination. I belong to no ring or clique, and rely upon the people for support. The State seems to have been under "Ring" influence for several years, but it is to be hoped that our county will be free from all such combinations.

As a just and fair way of nominating candidates for the various offices, I would respectfully suggest that committees be run for Clerk; a separate committee for Register, and so on for Sheriff and Legislature in the respective districts; let the committees thus chosen meet in Chestertown on a day to be named, and hold a convention for each officer to be selected.

The justice and fairness of this plan is easily demonstrated: Suppose that Mr. A, a candidate for sheriff in the first district, should be very popular and have many friends; he will elect a committee favorable to his own nomination. That committee may not be favorable to B, who has a majority for clerk in the same district, nor for C, who may have a majority for register of wills, nor for D or or E, who may have a majority for the legislature. It is apparent that a committee elected for a sheriff cannot represent the wishes of the district for all the officers to be nominated; the same thing may occur in other districts—a committee selected to nominate a clerk may control all the other nominations against the wishes of the district.

Another plan is suggested: Let each candidate be voted for by ballot, and the candidates having the majority or plurality shall be supported by the committee from that district, and which shall be pledged to that support.

One of these methods seem to be necessary to preserve harmony in the party, to prevent combinations, to give satisfaction to the voters, and to secure success at the polls. The free will and sense of the people should prevail in reference to each candidate.

With my thanks to those who have tendered me support, and with assurance that if elected I shall perform the duties personally and impartially, not forgetting my friends, my party and the public, I remain,

Respectfully, yours,
WM. A. VICKERS.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing* Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has* PERUVIAN SYRUP *blown in the glass.

Blank Books, all kinds, made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and now he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements, to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention.

It combines Utility, Economy and Practicability!

THE EUREKA MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented. It is the only Mill that will successfully remove from wheat such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of; for nearly one-quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, fallen hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning grey or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even when no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

THE

EUREKA FANNING MILL.

The Greatest Invention OF THE 19th CENTURY!

FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST.

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every othhr Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public. It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and now he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras, EUREKA, signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it."
