LOCAL NEWS.

ORPHANS' COURT.—Present, Judges Beck, Scott and Hepbron.

The Court passed a number of claims against the estates of deceased parties.

C. H. Baker, executor of the last will and testament of Wm. T. Baker, dec'd., returned his third administration account: passed, and ordered to be recorded.

F. Hyland Taylor, admr. of Sam'l. Riley, (colored) returned his first administration account, which was passed and ordered to be recorded.

James Skeggs, admr. of Wm. H. Bowman, returned his first and final administration account, which was passed and ordered to be recorded.

Samuel H. Blackiston, guardian to Philip A. M. Brooks, returned his guardian account for the year 1872, which was passed and ordered to be recorded.

SCRIBNER'S FOR DECEMBER.—A second profusely illustrated article on Louisian opens SCRIBNER'S for December. Mr. King's first article on this subject created an interest which the present paper cannot fail to deepen. In the same number is a "popular science" paper on "Savage Man," with very striking illustrations; an interesting sketch, with portrait of Proctor, the celebrated young English astronomer now in this ocuntry, by John Fraser; Froude's second paper on an English Abbey, in which the Wat Tyler insurrection is touched upon; a timely and able discussion, by Prof. Atwater, of Princeton, of the Specie Payment question; "Black Rock," a story; a poem by Bret Harte, entitled Luke (in the Colorado Park—1873); an explanation of "Carlism in Spain," by J. W. Preston; and continuations of Miss Trafton's story, "Katherine Earle," and Mrs. Davis's "Earthen Pitchers."

Dr. Holland, in Topics of the Time, discusses "Some Religious Newspapers," "Provision for Wives and Children," "The American Gentleman of Leisure," and "How Much has been Gained" toward Christian Union. In "The Old Cabinet" there is "The House on the Corner," "The Commonplace," "The Invisible Hinge," and "Something Better than Truth." In Home and Society, Culture and Progress, Nature and Science, and Etchings, a great many subjects are briefly treated.

The January number of SCRIBNER'S will have features of special interest.

THE ICE IN THE NORTH.—The signs of winter have been quite decided in this latitude within the past few days, but in the colder region of the North a fiercer season seems to have been suddenly precipitated by the late November storm. The Lachine canal in Canada East, which circumvents the rapids of St. Louis and largely facilitates the commerce of Montreal, has been closed by ice, with a number of freighted vessels caught en route. The Sault Ste. Marie canal in northern Michigan, which serves to connect the great lakes for the uses of commerce, was officially closed Wednesday in anticipation of a lock-up. Rumors were current in New York Tuesday that the Erie canal had been blocked with ice, and served to advance the prices of Western produce, but were not confirmed.

A WILL SUIT INVOLVING A MILLION DOLLARS.—A letter from Marshall, Michigan, says: "A contested will case, in which Bishop Simpson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church is a legatee, is exciting much attention in this county. Nearly a million dollars is involved in the dispute. Thomas Duncan, his brother William, and their father immigrated from Ireland to America in 1849. In Pittsburg the father pursued his calling as a surveyor, and Thomas became a clerk in the Novelty Works. A year or two afterwards Thomas invested three hundred dollars in the oil regions, but it was a bad investment, and as he was about to re-enter the service of the Novelty Works, his brother William gave him three hundred dollars, and urged him again to bore for oil. In 1862 the oil began to flow, and Thomas made money rapidly. He subdivided his farm and sold much of it. The property fell into so many hands that affairs were complicated, and Thomas called his brother to his assistance. William conducted the business, receiving $5,000 a year, and at one time an unset diamond, and at another a pair of gloves; but there were misunderstandings between the brothers, and they progressed slowly. The father died in 1862. Thomas took care of his mother and other members of the family. He became irritable, and was capricious in his favors. The fortune that had been thrust upon him was too much for his general equanimity. In the oil regions he received a serious injury about the head and after that was weak minded and vacillating. He joined the Methodist church and was regarded as an exemplary member. In 1870 he went to Ireland to visit his old friends, and died there in 1871. His remains were brought to this country by his mother and brother. In his last illness it is said he signed three different wills within a few days of each other.

"His last will makes numerous bequests and nominates Bishop Simpson and James Long, of Philadelphia, executors. The brother William decided to contest the will. Counsel of marked ability have been secured on both sides, and Bishop Simpson is daily in attendance. The contestants are trying to thow that the testator had frequent spells of aberration, and that his brain must have been affected. They have arrayed the best medical testimony on their side."

☞The Udderzook trial will not cost less than $5,000.
