The Chestertown Transcript

Only ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

To Advertisers and Correspondents.

Advertisements and Communications should be received at this office by Wednesday's mail. The Transcript is issued on Friday but printed on Thursday, and we go to press before Thursday's mail arrives. Any thing received by Thursday's mail, must, consequently, lie over until the next issue.

LOCAL NEWS.

Orphans' Court.

Present Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Samuel Cacy, admr. of Wm. E. Cacy, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of said deceased.

Wm. Morris, admr. of James W. Riley, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of said deceased.

George Vickers, guardian to John L. Deputy and Nora Deputy, returned his separate guardian accounts for the year 1875.

A. L. Corey, admr. of Wm. H. Jones, dec'd., returned his third administration account and first dividend.

A. L. & S. Vannort, admrs. of E. A. Vannort, dec'd., returned their first administration account.

Sewell Hepbron, admr. C. T. A. of Lemuel Skeggs, dec'd., returned his second and final administration account.

Among the advertising columns will be found the prospectus of the Baltimore Gazette under its new management, new form and new terms. The new management wisely disavows any responsibility for the past, and we congratulate the party in having the promise of an independent Democratic journal in Baltimore opposed to rings. We believe in independent papers and independent people; but there are many modes of independence. One may walk about on the same level with other people and be perfectly independent, or he may be so independent as to get on stilts. In which case he should be perfectly sure of his ability to preserve his footing. We think one of the fancies of the Gazette that was, was to stilt it occasionally, and the consequence was several blunders. We hope the following is not evidence of the same old leaven:

To the Editor:

Please find above the Prospectus for The Gazette in its new form. The publication of it in your journal, with such editorial notice as you may deem proper to make, will entitle you to an exchange with the Daily for the year 1876. If this is satisfactory, advise us at once by Postal Card, addressed to

THE GAZETTE,
106 W Baltimore Street,
Dec. 20, 1875. Baltimore.

The party needs a fearless, able and independent journal in Baltimore, and this cannot be attained unless the party supports it liberally. Every Democrat should take the Gazette and then, if it does not fulfill its promises, the remedy is easy. The paper is under the control of a high-toned gentleman, and that is a long stride. We think, however, the typography of the Philadelphia Times is about as near a likeness to Philadelphia papers as will meet the favor of the people of our State at large.

Election of Officers.

The M. P. Sabbath School Association at its annual meeting last Wednesday night, elected the following officers to serve the present year:

Superintendent—William B. Usilton.
Assistant do.—J. K. Aldridge.
Librarian—Lewin S. Fowler.
Assistant do.—S. Murray Frazier.
Treasurer—John W. Collins.
Secretary—Edward T. Willis.

The Superintendent reported the school in a flourishing condition, and the Treasurer's report showed a healthy financial exhibit.

Tableaux and Plays.

Some of the young ladies and gentlemen of the town got up for last Tuesday evening an entertainment at the Court House, for the benefit of the Episcopal Church. The programme commenced with piano music by Mr. —— of Baltimore city, after which the curtain rose, disclosing a beautiful tableau of "The Hebrew Wedding." The picture was very beautiful, and the audience were scarcely satisfied although the curtain rose three times. This was followed by "The Obstinate Family," consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Harwood, father and mother-in-law to Henry Harford and Jessy his wife; James and Lucy, servants. A dispute arose over an expression of James', who said, "thank goodness the table is set." The servants quarreled, Harford and his wife quarreled, and finally the old couple quarreled over it. The characters were all well sustained. After an intermission of fifteen minutes we had "The Sisters of Bethany," a tableau representing statuary, every way equal to the first; we think a little better. The entertainment concluded with the play, "Turn Him Out," in which Mr. Nicodemus Nobbs was in his true element, and brought down the house. At the conclusion refreshments were served in the grand jury room. The court room was well filled clear up to the judges' bench which was most admirably filled for the occasion. The receipts must have been considerable.

The Late Robbery.

Thursday night of last week, Mr. Josias Ringgold, Jr., was robbed of money and his wife's jewelry. The robbery was effected by prizing open with some sharp instrument a secretary in one of the lower rooms, from which was taken a gold watch and wrought chain, enamel pin, set of Onyx jewelry, twenty to thirty dollars in gold and fifteen or twenty in silver. A colored boy who slept in the kitchen was finally suspected, and Saturday night he was arrested, the jewelry and watch found on his person and part of the money. He admits the theft, and was committed for the action of the grand jury.

For the Transcript.

Mr. Editor:—While sitting at the window looking out and watching the falling rain and snow, particularly the snow, while the wind was blowing it in all directions, I noticed that it did not unite, but each snow flake is kept seperate as it descends to the earth; and I concluded that there must be some simple law of nature which causes this beautiful and useful effect. Will you please give some contemplative and scientific teacher an opportunity to explain to us, in your paper, the nature of this law, which will make the rain and snow more interesting to us. INQUIRER.

ORIGINAL CONUNDRUM.

When does the action of Adams' Express Company represent a young lady?

I hope some of your readers will answer in next Transcript. INQUIRER.

THERE IS NO USE
"Waiting for something to turn up,"

And we have at last decided to turn it up. The protracted warm spell has materially interfered with the CLOTHING BUSINESS of Baltimore. Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars worth, which seasonable weather would have sold, remains on Shelf and Counter. It is usual in most business houses to make reductions after the season of demand is over. We have decided to take time by the forelock and make those reductions NOW. Hence our entire stock has been marked Down, Down, DOWN to an after-holiday basis. We will positively stick at no reasonable sacrifice that will turn our great stock into speedy cash.
