LOCAL NEWS.

Orphans' Court.

Present Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

W. N. E. Wickes, admr. of Wm. Janvier, returned a report of the annual rental value of the real estate of said deceased.

R. J. Lusby, admr. of John M. Lusby, returned a report of the sale of a certain mortgage held by said deceased.

Wm. J. Wilson, executor of Alexander Wilson, returned his second administration account.

Dennis J. Nowland and Richard Hynson, acting guardians to the children of Wm. Welch, dec'd., returned their guardian accounts for the seventeen months ending July 1, 1876.

B. F. H. Caulk, executor of R. A. Frazier, received an order for the sale of a portion of the personal property of said deceased.

Walter J. Griffith and David Stewart were appointed to appraise the annual value of the real estate of R. A. Frazier.

Sewell Hepbron, guardian to P. A. M. Brooks, received an order authorizing him to rent the real estate of said minor on the usual share rent.

R. V. and F. M. Gooding, admrs. of Aaron L. Gooding, were authorized to distribute the personal estate of said deceased.

An Outrage.

A daughter of Mr. Enoch Moffett, residing near Masseys in the first election district, was outraged on Thursday of last week, by a negro. The young girl, aged about fifteen, had been to Mr. Geo. Ireland's store in Masseys, and on her return was assaulted and the outrage effected. The party is supposed to be a negro who worked in the vicinity last summer, and is known. Two arrests have been made. In the last instance the party was carried to Millington, but when confronted with the girl, she pronounced him not the guilty party.

A private reward has been offered for the villain, and it is to be hoped that he may be apprehended and receive the extreme penalty of the law.

LETTER FROM LOCUST GROVE.

MR. EDITOR:—Your paper has numerous correspondents, the majority of them being citizens of and residing within the confines of our own beautiful, fertile and productive county; who, by their contributions render very valuable services to the reading public, and make your paper more interesting and acceptable to your numerous patrons, who always scrutinize it very closely in anticipation of finding therein all local news and matters of importance which may have transpired one or two weeks prior. Letters from local correspondents sometimes contain very important information, and are generally instructive and acceptable to most persons. Why some one in this highly favored locality has not felt sufficient interest in its general welfare to contribute a few lines through the columns of your paper, thereby promoting its interest, remains as yet unexplained. It has not been neglected on account of the incapacity of many residents of this locality, nor for want of material or the proper means of obtaining information relative to its wealth and prosperous condition, but it is simply a neglect or unwillingness on the part of many who are better qualified for the work than your humble correspondent.

Our little village, situated on the principal road leading from Chestertown to Middletown, Del., with its neat and well arranged dwellings, stores and workshops, as well as its accommodating merchants and mechanics, has long ago commanded the confidence and respect of the surrounding country as well as the traveling public, and its success is no longer a matter for solution but has become a well established fact. We have three stores, farmers' work-shops, house carpenters, drug store, post-office, an undertaker, and a place where something potable can be had, kept by a gentleman possessing the qualifications requisite to insure good order. We have a comfortable schoolhouse and a teacher who is competent to instruct our children in conformity with the school laws as well as to advance their social and spiritual interests. May success crown her efforts in the future as in the past, and may the trustees and patrons of her school discharge their duties in the future also, by assisting her to discharge her duties.

We have religious worship at our school house, with preaching occasionally, and a well organized Sabbath school in a very prosperous condition, presided over by by Messrs. Anderson and Kelley, who discharge their duties with much credit,

Although our village is yet in its infancy, by taking a glance at the industries enumerated in this letter it will readily be seen that we are prepared to supply the ordinary wants of all classes. But while our village and its inhabitants have been so highly favored and prospered in their undertakings they do not claim for themselves all the credit by which such an effect has been produced, but accord to the people generally who have contributed so generously by their patronage equally as much credit; being surrounded by a beautiful, fertile and productive country, which is inhabited by an intelligent and industrious people.

The wheat crop has been harvested, a good many have threshed their crops, and the result generally is a fair yield, but at the present prices the profits of the wheat crop will not be very remunerative.

The peach crop in this immediate section is generally conceded to be a small one, about one third of a crop on an average, but the prices obtained thus far have been good, although the fruit generally has been indifferent. Farmers generally expect to get good paying prices for all good fruit this season; and it is to be hoped that their expectations may be realized to their full extent. They will certainly be able to procure the labor to pick and handle their fruit, at a fair price, judging from the large number of strangers now in our midst seeking employment. It is really distressing to see so many men in such a sad plight, entirely destitute of almost every necessary and comfort of life, and the larger portion of them will not be able to obtain employment, although so eagerly sought, but will have to retrace their steps they know not where, and with but very little prospect of improving their present condition Who can tell how much longer this state of things will exist, and what will be the final result?

We have been blessed with a delightful rain, much needed for corn, which is already far advanced and looks well, with prospects of good crops. This, the Centennial year, seems to be a year of plenty.

ADVOCATE.

ACQUITTAL OF BELKNAP.

The Senate of the United States, sitting as a court of impeachment, Tuesday, acquitted Gen. Belknap, late Secretary of War, of the charges preferred against him by the House in connection with the corrupt receipt of money for appointments to post traderships. On the first article 35 Senators voted guilty and 22 were democrats, and 13 republicans. Of course voting not guilty all but one—Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut—were republicans, and 23 of the latter declared that they did so on the sole ground that the Senate had no jurisdiction. The number of Senators absent or not voting was 11. On the second article the vote was 36 guilty, not guilty 25. On the third and fourth articles the vote stood the same. On the fifth and final article Mr. Morton, who had been absent, voted guilty, and the vote was—guilty 37, not guilty 25. In voting on the articles as they came up separately the same reasons were assigned by the Senators (with two exceptions,) who voted not guilty, their general ground being that they did so without reference to the evidence in the case, but because Belknap had resigned his office and the President had accepted his resignation before the articles of impeachment were adopted, he was thenceforth a private citizen, and that being a private citizen they did not think that the Senate had jurisdiction in the case. The two exceptions were Messrs. Wright and Conover, who declared that they did not think the charges sustained by the evidence. Mr. Morton, notwithstanding his personal conviction of a want of jurisdiction, acted contrarily to the others holding that view, because of the Senate having settled that point for itself. As from sixty to sixty-two Senators voted on the several articles, and as the two-thirds (40 to 41) necessary to conviction were not cast for guilty on any of the votes taken, the presiding officer directed the secretary of the Senate to enter a vote of acquittal.

THE CAMPAIGN.—A dispatch from Saratoga states that as soon as Governors Tilden and Hendricks issue their letters of acceptance the campaign will begin in earnest, and it is the intention of the Democratic leaders to make it the most vigorous and determined campaign that has been carried on for twenty years. Gov. Tilden will give his personal attention to its general management, and the men who will have more immediate charge of the details have great experience in political affairs, and will see that every available element is utilized to make the fight a lively one.

☞ SAMUEL J. TILDEN undertook the work of reform in the government of the city of New York, as a private citizen, and broke down the Tweed Ring; he then undertook the work of reform in the government of the State of New York, as its Governor, and broke down the Canal Ring while reducing the taxation; he is next to undertake the work of reform in the government at Washington, and break down Grantism.—New York Sun.

BELKNAP was acquitted Tuesday by the votes of twenty-five senators, who did not think they had jurisdiction. They were all Republicans, except Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut. The acquittal is purely technical, and if the administration can get any comfort out of it, it is entirely welcome to it. Belknap can now take the stump for Hayes.—Balto. Gazette.

MARYLAND'S HARBORS.—A dispatch from Washington, of the 1st inst., to the Baltimore Gazette, says: The amended river and harbor bill as reported to the Senate retains $75,000 for the improvement of Baltimore harbor: strikes out $5,000 for the improvement of Elk river; gives Chester river at Kent island $5,900; strikes out Wicomico and all the surveys proposed in the first bill.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.
Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.
