LOCAL NEWS.

Snow and Thunder.

On Monday, the 19th, our section was visited by a snow storm, the snow laying some two inches: on the following Wednesday we had a rain storm accompanied with considerable lightning and thunder. We may expect good weather now.

Another New Church.

The large old brick house on the Voss lot at the upper end of High street, was pulled down a few days ago, preparatory to the erection of a church edifice by the Catholics of this town and neighborhood. The lot is a large one, running from High through to Calvert st. We learn the dimensions of the church will be 45 by 65 feet. On the rear of the lot there has already been erected a commodious stable and carriage house. Rev. G. S. Bradford, of Wilmington, Del.,—a gentleman of very pleasant manners—is the priest.

M. P. Conference.

In the proceedings of the sixth day's session of this body we notice the names of Wm. B. Usilton and Robert S. Griffith of this county, among those of the lay delegates to represent the Maryland Annual Conference in the General Convention for the purpose of uniting the Southern and Western branches of the Church, to meet in Baltimore next May. The next session of the Conference will be held at Easton, on the second Wednesday in March, 1878.

Prayer Meeting Association.

A Young Men's Permanent Prayer Meeting Association was formally organized on Wednesday evening last, and the following officers appointed:

James A. Russell, President;
Wm. T. Sutton, Vice-President;
Wm. A. Wheatley, Secretary;
W. A. Biscoe, Treasurer.

It has not been decided when to hold these meetings which will be held in the chapel of the Meth. Prot. Church on Cross street. The membership is 31. The next meeting will be convened on Wednesday 28th inst., at 7:30 o'clock. P. M.

Orphans' Court.

Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

John P. Nicholson was appointed guardian to Helen M. Crow and others.

J. Frank Wilson was appointed guardian to George H. and Joseph S. Clark.

H. W. Vickers, admr. of Stephen Cox, returned an additional inventory of the personal estate of said deceased.

R. Hynson, executor of R. S. Thomas, returned a list of debts due said deceased, also his first administration account.

D. J. Nowland and R. Hynson, admrs. of Wm. Welch, returned a list of debts due said deceased, and a list of additional sales of his personal estate; also, their acting guardian accounts.

George Vickers, adm'r. of John K. Willis, returned his first administration account.

The release of H. M. Thomas, M. L. Sparks and J. R. Gray to R. Hynson, executor of R. S. Thomas; and of John Medders to R. Hynson and J. R. Lusby, were filed and ordered to be recorded.

D. J. Nowland and R. Hynson, admrs. of Wm. Welch, were authorized to make to S. L. Rawleigh a deed for certain property sold to said Rawleigh by said Wm. Welch in his life time.

☞ A copy of the Bordentown (New Jersey) Register, of Feb. 16, was handed us by Mr. J. R. Gill of this county, from which we copy the following. We also learn from Mr. G. that the farmers of that section kill their hogs during February:

HOGGISH.

Ever since the settlement of West Jersey, the various counties below Trenton have been boasting about their respective merits in raising heavy hogs. From the early part of winter until the approach of spring, the county town journals especially herald to the world each recurring year the achievements in this line by John Smith, Seth Jones or some other champion hog raiser. On the publication of such news, the following conundrum is invariably put: "Where's the county that can beat these figures?" If the conundrum is effectually answered, the man doesn't live who has seen it published in the paper propounding the question. In this particular section of Burlington county, where farmers are noted for their unequalled success in all that pertains to husbandry, little notice has been paid, until late years, of the growing pomposity of less fortunate tillers of the soil. The process of bull-dozing has gone so far, however, that a few farmers living near Recklesstown at last resolved this year to give the veteran hog extollers something to put in their pipes. We print below the weights of three crops of pork which were shipped from the Bordentown station within the past eight days, merely to show what modest farmers can do with the ordinary breed of Jersey swine:

WEIGHT OF PETER BRUER'S CROP—22 HOGS.

466	535	368	555	436
448	515	426	529	453
426	463	506	529	498
528	525	460	610	510
432	436

Average, 491 pounds. Amount received, $864.96.

RICHARD HARRISON'S CROP—28 HOGS.

577	599	611	663	594
569	628	580	574	573
662	703	622	573	647
495	596	575	576	726
598	594	702	634	669
574	572	740

Average, 613 pounds. Besides the above, Mr. Harrison brought in 36 pigs which averaged 237 pounds. For this whole crop he received the handsome sum of $2,060.56.

JOSEPH CARTER'S CROP—20 HOGS.

878	841	717	684	676
688	696	660	646	544
645	681	581	552	753
602	582	546	570	640

Average weight, 659 pounds. Mr. Carter also brought in 22 pigs which averaged 280 pounds. He received for both lots, $1,547.36.

It will be seen by comparing the above figures that Joseph Carter carries off the palm for raising the largest hogs in "Milky Hollow," if not in the world. Mr. Folwell has had his share of pork lately, but he found a market for all, the hogs going to Taylor, Trenton, and the pigs to New York.

A Time-Honored Specific.—The long and successful career of Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, as contrasted with the speedy collapse of nostrums devoid of efficacy which have from time to time been puffed into a brief notoriety during the twenty odd years that this celebrated medicine has been sold, affords a proof that the American public continues to repose its confidence in deserving articles only. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL has long been recognized as the leading specific for Consumption, Cronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma Diptheria, and all other diseases of the breathing organs. It is, moreover, a certain, speedy, and safe botanic remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Disorders, Scrofulous Affections, Urinary Troubles, Gravel, Dropsy, Debility, Constipation, and Female Complaints. Constantly accumulating evidence of an unimpeachable character establishes the facts that it not only entirely exticates the diseases to which it is adapted, but also that its action is remarkably prompt and thorough. The crucial test of experience has demonstrated its reliability in every particular. Sold by all druggists.

Principal Depot, No. 916 Filbert St. Philadelphia.

SECRGTARY EVARTS' DAUGHTERS.

The Misses Evarts—there are five or six who can lay claim to this title—are all blondes, and have in them the fame vein of sepulchrel humor, so to speak, which characterizes their father. They are not pretty, but thoroughly intellectual and refined, much more after the Boston type than the metropolitan. In conversation, if you can succeed in drawing them into it, they show a keen sense of the humorous and careful training in books and otherwise—a training which is due to Mrs. Evarts. In dress the young ladies are demure. They commonly wear their hair in the most prim of knots, and display no ornaments unless it be an antique gem, or something valuable for its age of history. But their silks are the heaviest, and they do not eschew sealskin sacques. Mr. Evarts has a son in his law office and another travelling, I am told, in China. His eldest daughter is Mrs. C. C. Beeman who resides here. The town house is at the corner of Fourteenth street and Second avenue, one of the old-fashioned double mansions, and is beautifully furnished. With hospitality and taste for good cooking, and with a family of such size, Mr. Evarts has occasion to keep up his business income, which is said to be over $100,000, and probably does not despise the revenue from his farm, which can hardly equal the summer expenses.—N. Y. Letter to Chicago Tribune.

PHYSICAL DEGENERACY IN AMERICA.

A notion was for some time in vogue that the race had degenerated here. It was a mere notion, having its origin in a prejudiced perversion of isolated facts; in the desire of book-writing travellers to find something strange, and also derogatory, with which to spice their pages: and in a craving, which amounts to a mild insanity, among European people, and particularly among all classes of the British nation, to lay hold of some distinctive "American" quality, whether physiological, literary, political, or other and label it, and file it away, and pigeon hole it for reference by way of differencing "Americans" from themselves.

The notion, I venture to say, was essentially absurd. That a race of men should materially change its physical traits in the course of two centuries, under whatever conditions of climate or other external influence, is inconsistent with all that we know upon that subject. The very pyramids protest against it by their pictured records. According to the history of mankind, as it is thus far known to us, such a change could not take place within such a period, unless to external influences of great modifying power there were added such an intermingling of races as has not yet taken place here more than in England itself, although plainly it is to come in future generations. Up to thirty years ago the intermarriage of Yankees—by which name, for lack of another, I designate people of English blood born in this country—with Irish and Germans was so rare as practically, in regard to this question, not to exist: and at that period there was not in England itself a more purely English people than that of New England.—The Galaxy for April.

THE COURTS AGAIN SUSTAIN HAMPTON.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 20.—Judge Reed, in the Circuit Court to-day rendered his decision in the Flynn habeas corpus case, and releasing Flynn on the ground that Chamberlain has no lawful authority as governor. The decision concludes as follows:

I am of opinion, therefore, that Wade Hampton was made governor in and over the state of South Carolina through the ballot-box, in accordance with the constitution, at the election held on the 7th of November last; that he qualified, if not following the letter, in the spirit and intent of the constitution, on the 14th of December last; that he has been since that time, and is now, the lawful governor of South Carolina, and should be obeyed and respected accordingly. It follows from these views that D. H. Chamberlain was not governor on January 3, 1877, the date of the commission of W. F. Dover as a Trial Justice for the city of Charleston, and that his appointment and commission were without lawful authority and void.

PUBLIC OPINION.

No event since the surrender of Appomattox has been fraught with more blessings to the country than will attend the stroke of the pen that shall recall the soldiers of the Union from the work of partisans and lift the bowed heads of our oft-erring but too sorely punished sister commonwealths, South Carolina and Louisiana.—Philadelphia Times.

The promptness with which democrats so decided as Senators Garland, Morgan, Jones and Hill responded to the confirmation of Fred. Douglass, furnishes another proof of the disposition of the ablest southern partisans to abandon old prejudices and recognize the claims of a common citizenship.—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Hayes may be concealing an iron hand behind a velvet glove. We like not altogether his treatment of South Carolina and Louisiana. The suspense is terrible to those States, and every day adds to the accumulated misery.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

The Siamese twins made a mistake in dying when they did. If they had lived till now Mr. Hayes might have secured them for the Postoffice Department, Chang to take charge of the Northern appointments and Eng of the Southern ones.—New York World.

At the South he [Hayes] is endeavoring to do away with bayonet campaigns and false counting; at the North he purposes to dispense with the labors of postoffices and gaugers in organizing victory.—New York Tribune.

Mr. Hayes is wisely attempting to secure influence with both races in the South by gaining the confidence of their natural leaders.—New York Herald.

Blaine and the administration shook hands and called it square a little too quick for the average southerner.—Richmond Enquirer.

☞ As the Senate neglected to choose a President pro tem prior to its adjournment, and there can be, of course, no speaker of the House until that body organizes, the death of Hayes and Wheeler would leave the government absolutely without a head. That contingency is, fortunately, unlikely to occur, and the Republicans preferred to take that risk rather than the still more disagreeable one of seeing the Democrats combining to elect Senator Conkling or some other candidate equally obnoxious to the caucus leaders.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A distressing accident, resulting in the death of a young man accurred at Collins' Mill, near Edward C. Coppage's, on the Delaware line, on Tuesday last. Mr. Peter Bedwell, aged 18 years, was in the mill, and the saw was running at a rapid rate. Bedwell tripped and fell across the carriage and before he could recover was carried into the teeth of the saw (a five feet circular) and one of his legs was cut entirely off, excepting the skin. Drs. Cooper and Temple were summoned and attended the unfortunate man, but he died the next day after suffering great agony.—Centreville Observer.

OPPOSING CAMP MEETINGS.—During the Conference at Milford, Rev. Charles Hill, in making his report as Presiding Elder of Easton District, said: "Campmeetings, though much good has been done at them, he was inclined to condemn as on the whole injurious. They almost broke up church services, Sabbath schools, and the regular means of grace during the period at which they are held, and he was almost ready to say that it would be better to dispense with them for the future."

FLORIDA'S GOVERNMENT.

The new democratic administration in Florida, according to all accounts, has made a most successful beginning. The Legislature has adjourned after a session in which the colored population could complain of, and their representatives confessed in the closing speaking that there had not been a time since the war when the relations between the two races were as good as now. Under a conservative government the State seems to have started on a new road to prosperity, as every Southern State has done which has been left to manage its own affairs.

☞ Two new towns have been projected in Talbot county. One of them is to be an Irish settlement and the other is expected to grow up like a Western city.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
