Lecture.

Bishop Becker, of Wilmington, will lecture in St. Dennis' Church, near Lambson's, on Sunday afternoon next, at four o'clock. Subject, "Faith and Reason." The reputation of the lecturer will doubtless secure a good audience.

Mr. Parsons,

The Bailiff of the town, arrested two boys on Monday last, for tearing down show pictures. This is an excellent beginning for this sort of vandalism. Parties who go to the expense of having bills printed and put up have a property in them as much entitled to protection as any other property. The destruction of posters is too common a practice in our midst, and this action of the bailiff will have a healthy influence.

Capt. Mitchell again heard from.

The Annapolis correspondent of the Balt. Sun, April 30th, says:

Capt. Lemuel Mitchell made the following arrests this morning for dredging on Swan Point, Kent county: pungy Joseph Billmyer, Capt. John Latman; pungy Two Brothers, Capt. Ed. Scott; schr. Eugene, Capt. W. J. Thomas. Also for dredging in Magothy river: pungy Masonic Hall, Capt. Robert Gibson. Their cases were tried here before Justice R. H. Welch, who committed the first three to jail in default of $1,000 bail each to await the action of the Kent county authorities. The last was committed for a further hearing. The vessels all hail from Baltimore.

The Circus and Menagerie

Which visited our town on Wednesday last was largely attended. The street parade was the most imposing affair, probably, ever witnessed here, a new attraction being three separate bands in large giled chariots, at intervals in the line. The streets were thronged during the procession. The collection of animals was not large, but good. The riding was not a prominent feature of the performance. The trained elephant and dogs gave an interesting performance.

We learn that one of our citizens in his eagerness to make three hundred dollars, lost two hundred dollars; but when the circumstance was reported to Mr. O'Brien he compelled the party to restore the money.

Orphans' Court.

Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

S. J. Wickes, admr. of Jas. W. Pearce, returned a list of sales of the personal estate of said deceased.

D. J. Blackiston, admr. C. T. A. of Clement F. Jones, returned his first and final administration account.

Lewin Usilton, guardian to Peter Taylor, returned his guardian account for the year 1876.

Circuit Court.

The following additional matters have occupied the Court since our last issue:

Motion for judgment on the award in No. 148 Reference Docket, granted, and judgment entered.

C. V. Stanley, surviving admr'x. c. t. a. of Charles Stanley, vs. The Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Kent County. Judgment for plaintiff for $407.27 and interest and costs.

The Court passed sentence upon the following parties, convicted of felonies at the April Term:

James Brown, for stealing, sentenced to penitentiary for 4 years.

John Jourdan, for stealing, sentenced for 4 years.

William H. Toulson, for stealing, sentenced for 2 years.

Robert Waters, for stealing, sentenced for 4 years.

Aaron Comegys, for stealing, sentenced for 1 year. All of them negroes.

The Court having taken testimony as to the moral character of Mr. James M. Vickers, directed his admission to the Bar, and he took and subscribed the necessary oaths. The Court complimented Mr. Vickers on his examination.

D. McCauley vs. J. W. Ireland—Trespass q. c. f. Award filed: motion for judgment on award: reasons against motion. Argument. Continued.

A Time-Honored Specific.—The long and successful career of Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, as contrasted with the speedy collapse of nostrums devoid of efficacy which have from time to time been puffed into a brief notoriety during the twenty odd years that this celebrated medicine has been sold, affords a proof that the American public continues to repose its confidence in deserving articles only. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL has long been recognized as the leading specific for Consumption, Cronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma Diptheria, and all other diseases of the breathing organs. It is, moreover, a certain, speedy, and safe botanic remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Disorders, Scrofulous Affections, Urinary Troubles, Gravel, Dropsy, Debility, Constipation, and Female Complaints. Constantly accumulating evidence of an unimpeachable character establishes the facts that it not only entirely exticates the diseases to which it is adapted, but also that its action is remarkably prompt and thorough. The crucial test of experience has demonstrated its reliability in every particular. Sold by all druggists.

☞ The Cardinals this year are dying in pairs. The death of Cardinal Trevisanato following closely on that of Cardinal Vannicellini-Casoni makes a second vacancy in the Sacred College whose numbers the creation of eleven new Cardinals a little over a month ago brought up to sixty-eight. There were sixty-nine Cardinals in 1860, but fifty-nine in 1864 and only fifty-two in the fall of 1867, so that the hand of Death has been busy removing, and the hand of the Pope in restoring, the members of the College. At present the Italians still have a strong majority in the High Council of Roman Catholicism, possessing some forty Cardinals.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S TRIBUTE TO VIRGINIA.

Mr. Thomas Connolly, of London, who has been writing a series of interesting letters from the South to the London Times, visited Petersbug, Va., a few days ago and was presented with an address by the officers of the British Association of Virginia, in which his letters were declared to be recognized as valuable contributions to the study of economic science in England and America. In reply to the address, which was presented in the presence of a large number of members of the association, Mr. Connolly said he had seen less evidence of pauperism and more general happiness and contentment in Virginia than anywhere else in the Union. Especially had he been gratified to observe the kindly relations which existed between the white and colored people. If the Southern States were in future permitted to manage their own affairs he believed there would be no further trouble. It had been his privilege to largely aid in promoting immigration to Canada, which was a fine country, but altogether inferior to Virginia in respect of climate and consideration of wealth. Mr. Connolly said he should return to England with such a firm belief in the vast material resources of Virginia in agriculture, mining, etc., as would induce him at all times to render what service he could to the good work of the British Association. —Balt. Sun.

☞ It was a very ingenious device by which the Russians carried eight gunboats overland in sections to the Danube and put them together in the river. The superiority of the Turkish fleet in the Black Sea rendered it imposible to send them there by water. This little fleet will give them control of the section of the river where they are to cross. It shows, too, the fullness of Russia's preparation for the fight. That this necessity should have been foreseen and provided against indicates that other needs have been equally met. It has been said that the Danube cannot be crossed by pontoon bridges; but a people that can carry eight gunboats from Moscow to the Danube, and put them in the water in a few days, can build a bridge sufficient for all military purposes.

☞ A New York correspondent says that the Turkish army officers, who arrived in this country a few days ago, are suspected of having other business besides the inspection of arms in the American manufactories. They want men who know how to use the arms as well as the arms themselves, and to that end it is affirmed, at the clubs, that they have made very advantageous offers to several well known military gentlemen who served with distinction in the armies of the Potomac and the James, and that these have been promptly accepted, and in such a way as not to expose either of the parties to the contract to the charge of violating the neutrality laws. Just after the civil war, it will be remembered, a good many ex-Confederates tendered their services to the Khedive of Egypt. Some of them have been in his service ever since, and it is probably at their instance that the present proposals are made.

HOW A BROKER EARNED $50.

Mr. Wm. Barker, a well known broker of New York city, stepped into the office of a down-town soap manufacturer a few days since, and complained of the dullness of business. "I can make it lively for you," said the soap man, "I can put you in the way of making fifty dollars in fifteen minutes; but I know you would back out." "Show me the chance," said the broker, "and if I back out I give you five thousand dollars."—"Well," said the soap man, "I will give you fifty dollars if you will take one of my large advertising signs, put it on your breast, carry it up Wall street, from Pearl street to Broadway, and return."

Mr. Barker picked up the sign, adjusted it, and sallied into the street. Upon the sign were a large picture of a negro woman washing clothing, and the words "Higgins' Soap is the Best." The sight of a well-known broker, of mature years, carrying a soap sign caused great astonishment in Wall street. Mr. Barker had not walked three blocks before a hundred men and boys were at his heels, and when he started on the homestretch the crowd had increased to fully five hundred.—Bootblacks, newsboys and Wall street messengers shouted and cheered; and brokers rushed from their offices to the street to ascertain the cause of the excitement.

In exactly fifteen minutes Mr. Barker reported at the soap man's office and was paid his fifty dollars. As he pocketed the money and wiped his forehead, he exclaimed: "I would not carry that sign again in Wall street for ten thousand."

IMPORTANT SUPREME COURT DECISION.

THE VIRGINIA OYSTER LAWS.

Washington, April 30.—The Supreme Court rendered the following decision today:

McCready vs. State of Virginia, error to the Court of Appeals of Virginia and one other case. In this case it is decided that the State of Virginia can prohibit the citizens of other States from planting oysters in the beds of tide waters within her jurisdiction, while permitting her own people to do so. For the purpose of the ownership of the tide waters and their beds it is said the State represents the people, and the ownership is that of the people in their united sovereignty. The title thus held is subject to the paramount right of navigation, the regulation of which, in respect to foreign and interstate commerce, has been granted to the United States. There has been, however, no such grant of powor over the fisheries. These remain under the exclusive control of the State, which has, consequently, the right, in its discretion, to appropriate its tide-waters and their beds to be used by its people as a common for taking fish, so far as it may be done without obstructing navigation. Such an appropriation is in effect nothing more than a regulation of the use by the people of their common property. This right of the people of the State comes not from their citizenship alone, but from their citizenship and property combined. It is in fact a property right, and not a mere privilege or immunity of citizenship. The chief justice delivered the opinion.

A GOAT STORY.

The New York World thinks that Mr. Hayes may recollect how Henry Clay, when he was in Washington, once had some fun with a goat. The story as told by the World is as follows:

"Mr. Clay observed a knot of street arabs on pleasurable thoughts intent gathering round a goat that was dozing in the sun and rolling an old boot like a sweet morsel under his tongue.

"What's up, boys?" he said affably.

"We're agoing to have some fun with the goat," replied the urchins.

The great whig statesman looked up and down the street; no one was in sight. He loved fun, but had never enjoyed it in connection with a goat.

"Boys," said he, "I believe I will have a little fun with that goat, too; how do you get it out of him?"

"Grab him by the horns," explained a boy; and with the divine confidence of Robinson Crusoe or a Mason of the thirty-third degree Mr. Clay seized the goat. It was a powerful goat with an abiding love of liberty, and it was pretty doubtful for a while whether the goat's horns would come off or Mr. Clay's arms be torn out of their sockets. "Boys," panted Mr. Clay, "boys—what—do—I—do—next?"

"Do next?" replied the boys, taking refuge behind lamp-posts, as barrels and similar fortresses, "why let go of them horns and run like blazes!"

Mr. Haye's dilemma has got two horns like the goat. He had better let go of them both and "run like blazes."

Instructions to Road Supervisors

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
Chestertown, April 24, 1877

Each Supervisor shall work under the general directions of the County Commissioners, and under the special instructions of the Commissioner from whom he shall obtain his road.

Each Supervisor with his team and hands, shall begin work at six o'clock in the morning, and stop at six in the evening, allowing one hour at dinner—working 11 hours per day.

The Commissioner in charge will notify the Supervisor how much money to expend upon his road. Where the road will admit of it scoops MUST be used for removing dirt.

Supervisors will not be allowed for work done on the roads after the First of August, unless it be to mend an unsafe bridge or dangerous wash in the road, without a special permit from a Commissioner, setting forth the work to be done and the time required to do it in.

Supervisors who supervise their hands in person, will be allowed twenty-five cents a day for each hand worked: not to include the Supervisor himself.

Each first-class hand will be allowed one dollar.

For a cart and horse one dollar and thirty-five cents, and for oxen and cart one dollar and fifty cents per day will be allowed.

Two dollars a day will be allowed for two horses, whether worked to scoop or plow.

Each Supervisor will be required to report to the Commissioner under whom he is working any encroachment upon the roads, by setting out fences, by leaving thorn clippings upon the road an unreasonable length of time, or by removing sand or dirt from the public roads for private purposes, first notifying the offending party.

Each Supervisor will be required to notify the Commissioner in charge about the time and place he intends to do his general work.

Each Supervisor, at the time of adjusting his account with the County Commissioners will be required upon oath to say that he has followed the above instructions to the best of his ability, making such exceptions as he may set forth, when the Commissioners will judge of the abatement to be made on his account.

In force from May 1st, 1877.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN SYRUP (AN IRON TONIC)

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION
which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
