The Chestertown Transcript

Only ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Frame Hotel,

Nearly opposite the "Transcript" office, is in the hands of the carpenters, who are greatly changing the appearance of the front. The work is being done by Mr. R. K. Pippin.

Dr. W. Frank Hines

Has resigned his position of Resident Physician and Surgeon in the Hospital of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore city. The Doctor was selected for that position from a class of forty members, which reflected much upon his capabilities, but declining health has compelled him to return to his home in Chestertown, where he will begin immediately the practice of his profession.

Destructive Hail Storm,

Eastern Neck Island, in the lower part of this county, was visited last Monday evening by a very severe hail st n. We have been unable to get anything like a satisfactory account of the injury done to the fruit and grain crops on the farms in its track—which fortunately was not wide—but from what we have learned, Mr. B. F. Sappington is perhaps the greatest sufferer; in fact, if reports are correct, it is not possible that any one's crops could have sustained greater injury. It is said that his peach orchard and wheat field are so badly damaged that he will not get ten bushels of wheat or a basket of peaches. His fruit and grain gave promise of an abundant yield. It is to be hoped that the injury is much less than reported. But all who witnessed the terrible hail storm which visited this section on the 24th of June, 1854, know that such disasters are hard to exaggerate. We learn that just below Queenstown, on the opposite side of Chester river, great damage was done by the same vein of hail, which had not exhausted its power of destruction.

Whitsuntide Holiday

Last Monday was celebrated by the colored people hereabouts more generally than has been the case for a number of years past. The bright sun, with almost mid-summer heat, had considerable effect in drawing out the crowds which thronged the streets, from the surrounding country. The open space surrounding the Transcript office, seemed to be a favorite resort, and it was crowded almost during the entire day, with all ages and sexes, to whom it was a festive occasion indeed, and enjoyed to the full. In the afternoon, when the whiskey, of which a great number had imbibed quite freely, began to have its usual effect, considerable noise and a fearful amount of profanity characterized the crowd in front of our office; but we believe only one fight took place, which the bailiff's prompt interference soon ended. A great deal of boxing was indulged in, and one man was severely injured from a kick received in a friendly set-to. As a manifestation of affection and regard a kick from a number 11 stogy boot it seems to us would be rather out of place, but we saw them, in a number of instances, given and received with apparent good humor. The proprietor of the flying horses had a big day of it, and must have netted a handsome sum. The presence of so large and noisy an assemblage all around our office was necessarily annoying—we were truly glad when the day was over, and are now enjoying the consoling reflection that Whit-Monday will not occur again for twelve months.

Orphans' Court.

Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

The last Will and Testament of Henrietta E. Willson was admitted to probate.

Letters Testamentary on the estate of Henrietta E. Willson were granted unto James B. Willson, who filed his bond in the penalty of three thousand dollars, Vachel Burgess and J. A. Skirven were appointed to appraise the personal estate of said deceased—and the usual notice to creditors was ordered.

George W. Jacoby, admr. of T. N. Tayman, returned an inventory of the personal estate of said deceased.

An inventory of the real estate of Caroline Frazier was filed.

R. Hynson and D. J. Nowland, administrators of William Welch, returned their second administration account and first dividend.

R. Hynson, admr. of Edwin Smith, returned his second and final administration account and first and final dividend.

N. W. Comegys, admr. C. T. A. of John M. Comegys, returned his second and final administration account and first and final dividend.

Elizabeth Covey, guardian to Mary P. Covey, returned her guardian account for the year 1876.

ROCK HALL, May 19, 1877.

The Fifth District Teachers' Association met in the school room at Rock Hall, and was called to order by the President.

The secretary being absent Glanville Comegys was appointed pro tem.

The first question, "How shall teachers secure the co-operation of parents?" was opened by Mr. Pinkind, followed by Miss Comegys and Mr. Crosby. All considered it highly important that parents and teachers should bear the most friendly relation to each other; that they should become acquainted one with the other.

The next question, "Are Readings and Recitations on Friday afternoons profitable?" was passed over till our next meeting.

A motion to discontinue our District meetings and give our best efforts to the County Association, was laid over.

The Trustees of the school, and some of the parents, were present; also, a number of the pupils of the Principal's room, who rendered good music, reflecting great credit upon teacher and children.

The Association adjourned to meet at Edesville, June 16th.

C. G. COMEGYS,
Secretary pro tem.

Delays are Dangerous.—If this axiom is true respecting the ordinary affairs of life, still more obviously so as regards the exigencies of approaching disease. Unquestionably! Yet how many neglect to practically recognize this plain truth when health is in the balance. Of the many premonitory symptoms of disease a hacking cough is the most prophetic of peril. Arrest it at the outset with Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, and so avoid Consumption. Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, and, indeed, all Affections of the Respiratory Organs are entirely cured by this sovereign remedy, which also eradicates Dyspepsia, Gravel, Piles, Nervous Debility, Torpidity of the Liver, Urinary Difficulties, Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Scrofulous Affections, and the infirmities peculiar to the gentler sex. This Cordial derives its virtues from the vegetable kingdom, and is infinitely to be preferred, both on account of its superior efficacy and freedom from nauseous and injurious properties to the officinal drugs so often administered with no other effect than to offend the palate and disorder the stomach. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL can always be relied on to do what is claimed for it. Sold by all druggists. Principal Depot No. 916 Filbert st., Philadelphia.

☞ Among Russian women there is no happier class than the wives of the priests of the Greek Church. The rule forbidding a second marriage of the priest renders the wife secure of the devotion of her husband, who, in case of his becoming a widower, retires to a monastery, where his only compensation for his loss is the hope of ecclesiastical promotion.

☞ Ex-Governor Hendricks has been interviewed by the Cincinnati Enquirer. He says the "policy adopted by Hayes in regard to the South is identical with that foreshadowed by Tilden. Mr. Hayes saw what the country demanded. He saw that the people were uneasy, and that they were galled by a military yoke, and that they were not likely to submit to this yoke much longer." Mr. Hendricks does not think the Democratic party will be divided.

☞ When a Russian army officer or other person of note is condemned to exile in Siberia, he is first made to kneel on a scaffold before the people, while the epaulets and decorations are torn off, and his sword broken over his head. He is declared legally dead, and his wife, if he is married, can, if she chooses, consider herself a widow. His estates are confiscated to the Crown. If his wife and children follow him they can never return again.

☞ The municipal, social and other statistics of London are always interesting. This metropolis of the world covers 78,080 acres, or 122 square miles, and contains 1,500 miles of streets and 2,000 miles of sewers. There are 417,767 inhabited houses, in which dwelt at the middle of 1876, 3,489,428, among whom there were more females than males by 222,986. The [illegible] of fifteen miles around in[illegible] population 4,226,397. The annual [illegible]stable value of property is over $116 200,000.

DANGER OF HIGH HEELED SHOES.—That stupid fashion among ladies of wearing high-heeled shoes causes almost as many accidents as crinoline. Lately, in London, a lady of rank, after giving a grand dinner a day or two before her daughter's wedding that was to be, accompanied the young lady to her room. After remaining there some time she left to go to her own apartment by a rather steep private staircase, and her heel catching in the stair she was precipitated to the foot, broke her arm and sustained so severe a concussion of the brain that the intended marriage was indefinitely postponed.

CHAMBERLAIN REFUSES OFFICE.

HE WILL NOT RE-ENTER POLITICS UNTIL HE HAS MADE HIS FORTUNE.

Special Dispatch to the Balto. Gazette.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The administration has been trying to conciliate Ex-Governor Chamberlain. Not many days ago Senator-elect Corbin, of South Carolina, received notice from Secretary Sherman that the President wished Mr. Chamberlain to be tendered the office of solicitor of the treasury, and requesting him to communicate this intelligence quietly to the ex-governor. Corbin replied that Chamberlain had just started for Washington and could be conferred with here. When Chamberlain arrived he was quietly waited upon and tendered the post, with the explanation that the President particularly desired him to accept. The offer was promptly and emphatically declined Mr. Chamberlain gave as his reason that he had been guaranteed by a law firm in New York twice as much per annum as he could make out of the solicitorship, and that he did not intend to re-enter politics till he had made his fortune. The matter has been kept remarkably quiet. He talks but little on politics. He simply says that there is no Republican party in South Carolina, and that there will not be any. An indication of the failure of Mr. Hayes' policy was visible in the recent election in Chester. The Democrats carried the place by 700 majority, the same that the Republicans used to poll. The Republican party is dead in the State, because its organization has been destroyed. In the next State election there may be two parties, but if so, they will result from a division of the Democracy. As for Governor Wade Hampton, Mr. Chamberlain regards him as in advance of his party.

TURKISH BARBARITIES.—The recommencement of the barbarities of the Turks in Bulgaria is enough to send a shudder of horror through all civilized countries. The scenes of rapine and desolation perpetrated in the frontier towns along the Danube are said to rival the darkest days of the middle ages. Families have been slaughtered at their own hearthstones, and the younger women seized and outraged. The shrieks of the victims at one of the towns thus abused could be heard across the river. It would seem that England ought to have sufficient influence with her Turkish dependent to prevent such outrages upon humanity, especially as she has been at pains to set herself up as a champion of philanthropy against imagined wrongs and injustice in this hemisphere.—Balt. Sun.

☞ Hobart Pasha apparently has some good reasons for not proceeding to the destruction of Odessa, as promised, for a Pera correspondent of the New York World says: "The Russians have paid particular attention to Odessa, for that is their principal port in the Black Sea. Batteries have been planted all round the bay, and seventy guns are ready to greet an invader. The bay itself has been thickly sown with hundreds of torpedoes, and a battery of light guns placed on the outer mole to protect the inner line of the submarine missiles. It is the general belief that both at Odessa and in the mouth of the Bug river, as well as at Kertch, the Russians are prepared to operate against blockading vessels with small, swift torpedo boats, and will keep a blockading squadron on the constant look-out for danger.

CRIME BROUGHT TO LIGHT.—During the year 1862 Chain Stallings, a citizen of Franklin county, N. C., was found dead in his field, leaning up against a tree. There were no signs of violence on his person, and no suspicion of foul play, so that it was generally believed that he died from natural causes. Disclosures have been made within the last few days which are conclusive that Stallings was murdered by his own negroes and that he was robbed. A feud between the guilty parties brings the following particulars to light: Matilda and her two sons and another negro named Gray committed the murder. In order to avoid detection Stallings was smothered to death and his body was carried to the field and placed leaning against the tree. He had in his pocket $500, which the negroes divided. The parties are all living and will be tried for murder in August.

GEN. GRANT IN COSTUME.—It is said by friends of Gen. Grant that it is his purpose during his stay in Europe to wear upon all occasions of ceremony his uniform as general of the army, which is a very elaborate and handsome dress. The two magnificent swords belonging to Gen. Grant, and which he withdrew from safe-keeping in the Treasury Department to take to Europe with him, will also be brought into service on ceremonial occasions. As Gen. Grant will receive a great deal of official attention in Europe, where so much stress is laid upon form in dress, his selection of his army dress does seem quite proper. Gen. Schenck, while minister to England, always wore his major general's uniform on state occasions, but as Minister Pierrepont has nothing of that kind to fall back upon he has to go the regulation court dress.

UNDER THE BLACK FLAG.—Last week an ingenious widow on Orleans street gave out that her sister was dead. The shutters of the house were closed and three yards of heavy crape were hung from the door knob. Several days elapsed, during which a death like silence reigned in the house, but there were no signs of the funeral. The neighbors believed the desolate sister was overwhelmed with woe, and the sympathizing landlord went to offer words of condolence, but he had to climb in at the back way over a neighbor's fence, and found the house of mourning deserted. There was not even a dead cat on the premises. The shrewd widow had hung out the black flag of mourning, and under cover of the darkness of the night quietly stole away with all her effects, leaving the sympathizing landlord minus several months' rent.—*Balt. The general freighting business conducted for many years by my father, J. F. Taylor, between Chestertown and Baltimore, has now entirely and solely passed into my hands. It shall be my constant effort aided by the long experience in the business, of my agent, Mr. W. H. PALMER, to merit a share of the public patronage.

The business is attempted under adverse circumstances, yet we trust by our constant and personal attention to the trade to regain whatever may have been lost to the late business. The vessel has undergone such repairs as now make her in every respect suitable for the business.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
