☞TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

I have arranged with Mr. Perkins to fill all unexpired contracts for subscriptions to the TRANSCRIPT which have been paid to him. He will collect all unpaid subscriptions to and including July 20, 1877. From that date subscriptions are payable to me; and I earnestly request all subscribers to pay their subscriptions before the expiration of September, and thereby avail themselves of the lowest rate which is payable in advance, viz: $1.00. After October the 1st., all subscriptions, not paid for at the t me of subscribing, will invariably be $1.50. GEO. A. HANSON.

TO ADVERTISERS.

All persons who advertise in the Transcript to the amount of fifteen dollars and pay cash for the same will receive the Transcript, for one year, free of charge.

New Subscribers.

Our new subscribers will accept our thanks for their generous support. The Transcript is becoming not only the best family paper in the county, for general and select reading, but also a first class advertising medium. Let our merchants take due notice and govern themselves accordingly. The most enterprising of them have already taken the hint and are reaping the advantage.

Editorial Visit.

A few days ago, W. SCOTT ROBERTS, Esq., the able editor of the Centreville Record, paid us a fraternal call.

Seeding.

Our farmers are now busily engaged preparing the ground and seeding wheat.

Corn.

A fair crop of corn has been made in Kent, this year.

Gloves.

A pair of buck-skin gloves, trimmed with black, was left in this office. The owner will please take due notice and call for them.

Killed by Bees.

Mr. Comegys Cosden, of the Fifth District, lost a pair of valuable horses, a few days ago. They were left in charge of a small boy, who was unable to restrain them. They ran the pole of the wagon against and upset several beehives. The bees swarmed upon the horses and in a few minutes stung them to death.

Appointment.

Mr. Thomas V. Simpson, of this town, a week or two ago, was appointed to a position on the police force of Baltimore city, and immediately entered upon the discharge of his duties. He was in town a day or two this week, making arrangements to remove his family to the city. As Town Bailiff, several years ago, he proved himself a most excellent officer, and in his new position will be second to none in efficiency, energy and faithfulness.

Death from Hydrophobia.

A son of Mr. John P. Edes, about five years old, died of hydrophobia at the residence of his grandfather, near Edesville, in this county, a few days ago. The family had removed from Baltimore a short time previous, in which city the child was bitten by a dog some seven weeks ago, but it was not known that the animal was mad. The deceased was a very interesting child, and the whole community tender their sincerest condolence to the bereaved family in their deep affliction.—News.

Exercise is absolutely essential to the healthy condition of the body, yet there are but few forms of exercise entirely free from the liability to Sprains or extreme muscular soreness; to remove these pernicious effects of exercise, Keller's Roman Liniment is the best remedy known.

A Time-Honored Specific.—The long and successful career of Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, as contrasted with the speedy collapse of nostrums devoid of efficacy which have from time to time been puffed into a brief notoriety during the twenty odd years that this celebrated medicine has been sold, affords a proof that the American public continues to repose its confidence in deserving articles only. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL has long been recognized as the leading specific for Consumption, Cronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma Diptheria, and all other diseases of the breathing organs. It is, moreover, a certain, speedy, and safe botanic remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Disorders, Scrofulous Affections, Urinary Troubles, Gravel, Dropsy, Debility, Constipation, and Female Complaints. Constantly accumulating evidence of an unimpeachable character establishes the facts that it not only entirely exticates the diseases to which it is adapted, but also that its action is remarkably prompt and thorough. The crucial test of experience has demonstrated its reliability in every particular. Sold by all druggists.

THAT FIRE.

Investigations thus far have shown what was already widely suspected, that the fire in the patent office was the work of an incendiary. The board of inquiry are not only assured of this, but they are of opinion that the fire was started by some one well acquainted with the building. Now, this investigation ought to go on until the person or persons concerned in it are brought to justice, and, if necessary, agents skilled in the detection of crime should be employed and set to work. It ought not to be difficult to discover the author of this abominable crime, and unless he is discovered there will always be a suspicion that he is already known and protected by those in authority. Who is it that is interested in the destruction of any models or records of the patent office? Who knows exactly what has been burned up? There has been too much of this sort of thing. Four or five times, within as many years have fires occurred in the different departments, and always under circumstances that indicated an indendiary purpose to destroy the evidences of improper disbursements or to account for the absence of vouchers. It is idle to talk about civil-service reform of any kind until these things are ferreted out and the knaves dragged to light and punished. Mr. Schurz can do more to establish his reputation as a reformer by laying bare all the secret springs of this patent-office arson than by any amount of fine speaking or promulgation of orders. The failure to discover the crimical will be regarded by the country as a survival of Grantism, and all who are connected with the department where it occurred will be judged not leniently by the American people, who are now thoughly awake to suspicion.—Baltimore Gazette.

HON. ALEXANDER STEPHENS, who, the past week, has been visiting his biographer, Col. R. M. Johnston, at Pen Lucy, Baltimore county, in an interview with a reporter said: "Mr. Hayes' policy cannot fail. It is the policy of the Constitution of the United States, and is based and planted on the foundation and principles upon which the great American Federal Republic stands, and on which alone this grand matchless system of government can be harmoniously and prosperously administered. There will doubtless be many disaffected Republicans who will fail to sanction his policy, and who will, in all probability, keep up an organization against it, but the entire Democracy and a large majority of the Republicans of the country will sustain it. The people of the United States are devoted to the institutions of their fathers, and yearn for the restoration of that good government under which the country was so happy and prosperous for so many years."—Baltimore Bee.

OUR EXPORTS TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Heretofore the United States has been the great market for European manufactures, but this order of things is being suddenly reversed, for not only are American manufactures driving European manufactures out of our market, but they have begun to compete most successfully with European manufactures in European markets. To cite a single instance, as reported to the Department of State by the United States Consul at Amsterdam. The house of Daniel Loeb largely exported leather, principally tanned calf skins, to the United States. The Consul, noting the cessation of these exports, called upon the senior partner for an explanation. His answer was, "We are no longer exporters. We now import from the United States. Affairs in Europe are about being turned topsy-turvy by the Yankees.' He then stated that not only did they import leather from the United States, but that they had also begun to import New England shoes, and that European manufactures cannot compete either in price or quality with the Americans. The house has recently sent a large order to New England for shoes, and the junior partner was about leaving for the United States to perfect and enlarge their business relations.

CONSULAR REPORTS UPON OPPORTUNITIES FOR EXTENDING OUR COMMERCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 2.—The trade circular recently issued from the Department of State and forwarded to our diplomatic and consular officers, is having a most beneficial effect in arousing those officers to renewed efforts for the enlargement of our trade in their several districts.

The consul at Liverpool writes to the department that he is of the opinion that as in American beef, a large trade can be established by the export of America poultry, alive or dead, to England. In that country the wholesale price of turkeys averages 15 cents per pound, and chickens 16 cents. The American poultry being far superior to the English would sell most readily in that market.

The United States consul at Leeds sends an interesting report on the leather manufacture of his district the great market for the finest kind being the United States. He gives in detail the several processes through which the skins pass preparatory to export, and sees no reason why our manufacturers cannot supply our home demand, and then compete with the Leeds manufacturers in the English markets.

It is contemplated by the Department of State to publish all the responses to this trade circular from our diplomatic and consular officers, and the publication will be of the highest importance to all who take interest in the progress of American trade at home and abroad. The responses thus far received are most encouraging, and promise not only a revival, but a new era in the development of our foreign trade.
