MESSRS. EDITORS:—I had the pleasure, on last Friday afternoon, to be at the Flatland Public School, Miss S. E. MELVIN teacher. The occasion was a special meeting of the "Cheerful Workers" and "Willing Laborers," two societies of the school. On entering, I found the room filled with nicely dressed children, and the ladies and gentlemen of the school district, among them two of the Trustees of the school, Mr. William H. Stewart and Mr. Wm. Morris. The first thing which attracted my attention was the word WELCOME, beautifully printed on one of the blackboards, followed by the Programme, as follows:

The Metting	Ella Davis
The Robin and Cherries	Charles Locates
The Will	A Dialogue by Four Boys
A Bit of a Sermon	Alice Davis
Spring Cleaning	Owen Dodson
Boy Faith	Charles Parsons
Over the Hills to the Poorhouse	Annie Stewart
Over the hills from the Poorhouse..	Ethel Stewart
The New Boy	Sadie Morris

On another blackboard was nicely printed "Come Again." A handsome motto on one side was "Do Right and Fear Not," and right over the teacher's desk "God bless our School"—both these in large fancy letters.

Miss Ethel Stewart read an original Essay entitled "Little Toodles," which was very creditable indeed. A very interesting feature of the occasion was the asking and answering of questions by the members of the two societies. At the conclusion of the exercises the entire company was served with cake.

The whole affair was pleasant, and I am sure there was but one opinion—that it was creditable to the Teacher and pupils. X.

P. S.—I omitted to mention two maps of North and South America, executed in colors, on the blackboards, by Ethel Stewart and Sadie Morris.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

At Vienna the Hungarian women are considered the prettiest and best dressed, the fair-haired Poles and Bohemians the most stylish, the Viennese the sauciest, most coquettish and attractive, and the Croats the ugliest. The daughters of sunny Italy were in much favor in the capital of Francis Joseph before he lost them with their provinces.

The late dull times have driven many men from merchantile pursuits and the learned professions into farming. The majority seek the West, but the East is also feeling the good effects of this movement in the rrduced price of provisions. In New England the farmers are most numerous than at any previous time within the last twenty years.

Miss Moegler of Chicago, one of the graduates of the Women's Hospital College, has been successful in winning, by competitive examination, a place as assistant physician to the county Insane Asylum. This is the first competitive success of a lady in securing a hospital position in this country, where doctors of both sexes have met in competition.

An adept in ocean travel urges those who fear sickness to take a ten-grain blue pill the night before sailing, and a dose of citrate of magnesia the following morning. Then eat breakfast and go on board. He has followed this practice for several years, and been entirely free from qualms. All those who have imitated him have been equally fortunate.

Kellogg warns Mr. Spofford, who, it is rumored, will contest his seat again, that if he attacks his (Kellogg's) character, he should bear in mind that "two can play at smirching." Whether Mr. Spofford is an accomplished "smircher" or not we do not know, but there can be no doubt as to Kellogg's proficiency in that art.

The fact should not be lost sight of that the legislation which the Democrats propose to repeal was "war legislation;" that is to say, it grew out of an abnormal condition of things which have ceased to exist. The condition of the country, no more demands the imposition of these extraordinary restrictions now than it did a quarter of century ago.

The trial of Talmage, though on grave charges enough, is not proceeding with the decorum and calmness which would seem proper to unministerial persons. The so-called judges show anything but a judicial spirit of impartiality, and the "prisoner at the bar" does not seem inspired with any great awe for the tribunal before which he has been summoned. Altogether this investigation, like most others of the present day, promises to have no practical result whatever.

Professional Changes.—Dr. E. F. Nowland, formerly at Chesterville, has removed to Middletown, Delaware, where he will continue the practice of medicine; and Dr. N. Comegys, who has been for the last twelve years practicing medicine at Wye Mills, Talbot county, has removed to Chesterville, in the place of Dr. Nowland.

Colored School Teachers' Association.—The colored school teachers of Kent county have organized an association, and the first meeting was held last Friday, at the school room in the basement of the colored M. E. church in this town. The association, we presume, is similar in its character and objects, to that of the white teachers of the county.

Fruit.—Owing to the severity of the past winter, plants and trees of all kinds have been much retarded in blossoming and leafing. There ... scarcely be any danger to peaches or other ...its from late cold snaps, because peach trees this year, it is said, will not blossom before the the first of May. Last year peach trees blossomed about the 22d of March, and by the 1st of April many trees had put forth their leaves,—this year, so late as the 10th of April, the woods are looking bare.

Counterfeit.—We learn that a counterfeit five dollar gold coin, in circulation in Kent county, was detected last week by one of our business men. It appears that, by some skillful operation, the gold has been scooped from the interior of the coin, (without in the least defacing the outside) and the cavity filled with baser metal, giving it the correct weight, and a genuine appearance. The only manner of detection was the dull, leaden sound, in comparison with ring of the true coin, when dropped. Look out for them.

Contemplated Improvement.—We learn that Mr. Samuel L. Rawleigh has purchased three building lots at the upper end of High street, and contemplates erecting dwellings on them in a short time. The lots are situated on the south west side of the street—a portion of the John K. Willis lot—and is a desirable location. Mr. Rawleigh has contributed in no small degree to the growth of the upper part of Chestertown, for which he deserves credit; and now, since his "new departure"—taken, we learn, during the ...ible storm on the bay last Thursday, on the ...took ...use-

... steamer Chester, ...ore, on Thursday of last ... about fifteen minutes run of ... beach, was struck by a very heavy ...—in the language of a passenger,— ... her stern out of water and plunge ...er the waves. But the boat braved ...against the fury of the storm, a long ... scarcely any progress, but after a struggle of some two hours' duration, succeeded in crossing the bay and finding comparitively smooth water under the high lands of the Western Shore, between Miller's Island and North Point. There were a number of passengers on board, and the usual amount of sea-sickness, inevitably attending the tossing of the boat by the tremendous waves. Considerable apprehension was expressed by many of the passengers, but the captain assured them that there was no real danger. On reaching harbor, the passengers passed a complimentary resolution to the captain and officers, for the judicious manner in which the boat had been managed. There were three Reverend gentlemen aboard, and when the boat was safely anchored, they opened a prayer meeting, offering thanks to the Supreme Being for protection during the storm.

Romantic.—Queen Anne's county, and particularly the Church Hill vicinity, is just now in considerable of a flurry, caused by the unexpected marriage of one of its most high-standing citizens, R. E. C. Downes, A. M., J. P., long known to every body in Queen Anne's county, and doubtless to many of the citizens of Kent, has, it is reported, married a fortune, in the shape of a blooming widow, aged forty-five, whose wealth is variously estimated at from forty thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Mr. Downes is a graduate of the St. James College, of Newark, Delaware, and when a young man, was the possessor of a good deal of property. We understand that he read law in the office of a gentleman eminent in the legal profession, in this town. Mr. Downes has at different times engaged in various callings, at one time having started a newspaper, called the "Air Line," at Church Hill. Recently he has been engaged in the sale of patent lamp wicks. He has been married twice before, and feeling this third time a longing after matrimonial blessedness, and not finding among the fair ones of Church Hill any one whose loving smile answered his, he put a little advertisement in a city paper, inviting correspondence with a view to matrimony. Among the many letters that he received in answer to his advertisement, there was one that touched the tenderest cords of his being, and—to make a long story short—he soon brought the correspondence to a matrimonial terminus. It is said they have commenced ... at Church Hill, in very much style.

... Calvert Journal says that the lady, who ... a Mrs. Evard, taught in the family of Mr. ... W. Dorsey, of that county, near Port Republic. That statement makes the forty thousand dollar prospect a little cloudy.

COPY OF ORIGINAL TESTIMONIALS.

Baltimore, Jan. 31, 1879.
MR. J. S. KNAPP—Sir:—I have made a thorough test of the London Food and recommend it to the public as a good Improvement Food for horses. I will use it in preference to any condition powders I know of.
[They have 300 head of horses.]
Respectfully, R. PRICE,
Supt. of Citizens Line Street R. R.

Carrollton, Feb. 11, 1879.
JOHN S. KNAPP—Sir:—Having used the London Horse and Cattle Food on both my horses and cows, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a good condition food for the horse and a profitable condiment for cattle, as it will cause cows to give more milk and make at least 20 per cent more butter than any condition powders I ever used. Hoping this will induce my friends to try it, after which I am convinced they will bear the same testimony as to its merits as I do.
Yours Respectfully,
March 6, 1879. JACOB M. HOFF.
