Chestertown Transcript.
THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1879.

Harvest, it is generally supposed, will commence in this county the latter part of next week. Wheat is looking well, and a fair crop is expected.

Serenade.—The Kent Cornet Band last Tuesday night serenaded our young friend Wm. A. Wheatley and his bride, at their residence on Mill street, near Cannon. The music was good.

The Festival held at the Fair Grounds, Worton station, on the evenings of the 5th, 6th and 7th inst., by the ladies of St. James' Methodist Protestant Church, was a very pleasant and successful affair, netting the handsome sum of one hundred and thirty-five dollars.

The Converted Jewish Rabbi, Rev. C. E. Reider, will preach at St. James' next Sunday morning, and at the M. P. Church, Chestertown, Sunday evening. He lectures, to-night and to-morrow (Friday) night, at the M. P. Church in this town, and at St. James' next Monday evening.

Farm for Sale.—We call attention to the sale, by Gen. George Vickers, Trustee, of the farm known as the "Money Farm," situated near Galena, and possessing many desirable advantages. Sale to take place next Wednesday, the 18th day of June, at Mr. Wm. H. Pennington's hotel in Galena. See advertisement elsewhere.

Land Sale.—The Van Lear farm, containing 67 acres, was sold at the Voshell House on Tuesday last, at $26.00 per acre, to Henry N. Hurtt, Esq., of Baltimore city.

The "Gresham Farm," containing 544 acres, was offered for sale at the same time, by James A. Pearce, Esq., Trustee, but was withdrawn and held for private sale.

Beaten.—We understand the Wissahicon nine went to Kennedyville, on Saturday last, to play the Kennedyville nine, and came home beaten, the score standing 23 to 10 in favor of the Kennedyville boys. Another game is expected between the Kennedyville and College nines, Saturday week, the 21st of June, on the College Grounds.

Festival.—The Ladies of the Mite Society of the Methodist Protestant Church, of this town, held a Festival, Tuesday evening, at the Chapel. The managers displayed excellent taste in the arrangements generally, and altogether it was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion, partaking, as was designed, in great measure the character of a "sociable." We have not learned of its success financially.

The Ladies' Parlors at Perkins's celebrated "Rising Sun Saloon" have just been newly painted and papered, new furniture added and handsome matting takes the place of carpeting on the floors. They are very pleasant in every respect, and we hazard the assertion that they cannot be excelled outside our large cities. The ice-cream, frozen-custard, water-ices, cake, &c., are first-class, and charges very moderate.

The painting and decorating is hard to beat, and is another evidence of the skill and taste of one of our well known painters, Mr. Jno. Davis.

Unkind.—The Denton Journal cracks the following unkind joke:

"What may be called a seventy-five cent revolt is in the Democratic ranks in Kent county, Md. Why it is called a seventy-five cent revolt, is explained by some cruel wretch who says that it wouldn't cost more than seventy-five cents to treat the entire 'Hanson Movement.'"

The Journal must understand one thing, and that is that this little band, like Sir Joseph of H. M. S. Pinafore, "Hasn't any patience with ill-bred taunts, neither has its sisters nor its cousins or its aunts."

Conference Academy.—We call attention to the advertisement, elsewhere in our columns, of the Wilmington Conference Academy, located at Dover, Del. There is to be built this summer a large separate building for the accommodation of lady boarders. Those having sons or daughters to send off to school will do well to communicate with Prof. R. H. Skinner, the Principal. We speak knowingly when we say that any school of which Prof. Skinner has control will be a good one. The advantage that this school possesses is that it is not far from home and is equally thorough with schools two hundred miles away.

Children's Day at the M. E. Church.—Sunday last was what is known as Children's Day in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the morning the pastor, Rev. E. B. Newnam, preached a sermon well adapted to young people, illustrating by stories that held the children in wrapt attention. In the evening a large congregation began to gather early, and some time before the exercises of the evening were begun, it became difficult to find seats,—even the galleries being filled. Seats were reserved in front for the Sabbath School children, and when the hour for opening came, they filed up from their room below, in classes, bearing flowers. At each corner of the pulpit were handsome urns, filled with flowers, and in the centre a cross covered with evergreens and erected upon what appeared to be a moss-covered foundation. The exercises were opened by reading a selection from the Scriptures, the pastor and the school reading alternately. After the reading, two young ladies,—Miss Effie Pierson and Miss Dellie Baker,—dressed in snowy white, ascended the pulpit to receive the floral offerings. The children came up, two at a time, and presented their flowers, with a scriptural quotation, to which the pastor responded, and passed the flowers to the young ladies, who placed them upon the cross. The singing was very pleasing, particularly a solo by a little girl—Miss Lambert—who did not appear to be more than eight years old. An address was delivered by the Superintendent, C. H. Baker, Esq. He impressed upon the audience that Sunday Schools are for grown-up people as well as for children, and urged upon that class the necessity of their attending. Mr. E. N. Ebaugh read a sketch of what is being done in the way of Sabbath school work in different parts of the world. After the last floral offerings had been placed, the benediction was pronounced, and the congregation dismissed.

Annapolis.—The B. S. Ford took on board a few people from Chestertown, on Friday last, on the excursion trip to Annapolis, increasing the number largely at each wharf down to Corsica, where there was a perfect rush both of Sabbath school children and grown-up people, as there was also at Queenstown and Kent Island. Every part of the boat was filled with people, but as they were pretty generally distributed from the bow of the boat where the sheep are kept even up to the hurricane deck, the trip over was not particularly uncomfortable. Arrived in Annapolis the crowd scattered to see the sights. We, for our part, started out to look for something to eat as the first thing on the programme. Being in a hurry we stopped at the first dingy-looking eating-house we came across. Asked if we could get dinner there: the proprietor said we could when the regular boarders were done. We walked on. Next came to a respectable-looking building with sign up as City Hotel. Went in and asked if we cold get dinner. Proprietor said we could not, but thought we could at the Maryland Hotel. We went to the Maryland Hotel, where we were told we could not get dinner before two o'clock. As that was more than an hour off, we journeyed on till we came to another eating-house. We walked in and asked the proprietor if we could get something to eat. He eyed as suspiciously, but finally said we could get a beefsteak. We said all right, show us into your dining-room and fix up the beefsteak. He said he didn't have any dining-room except what he kept for his regular boarders, and showed us out into his back yard. When the beefsteak finally came, we ate just two mouthfulls. It was the worst we ever did eat. We think it was dog-steak. We had often heard that Annapolis is a one-horse town, but we never were so well convinc- the fact as we were by our search after a , and the character of the dinner we found. Nearly everybody has been to polis, and those who have not should go. val Academy and grounds and the ships are well worth seeing. The State nd St. John's College should also be places of interest to all Marylanders. We are indebted to a St. John's student for piloting us around. We found him after we had dined. He said he had not been to dinner himself, but as he had had a good square meal the day before, he was not at all hungry. It seems that the St. John's boys only get a palatable meal occasionally, but they have learned like the boa constrictor to stow away enough on those occasions to last them for a long time. The Ford arrived in Annapolis at twelve o'clock and did not leave till five, so that every body had plenty of time to tire themselves out "looking around." When the whistle finally blew for departure, there was a tired crowd ready to go home. It came on to rain, and everybody crowded inside the boat, and there seemed to be about twice as many people on the home trip as there were going. A great many were compelled to stand until Kent Island was reached, when the crowd was somewhat thinned out. There was more than one person formed a mental resolution never again to go on a steamboat Sunday school excursion.

The Tournament at Tolchester.—The Tournament at Tolchester came off on Wednesday, 4th instant, with Capt. Wm. I. Rasin as Chief Marshal, and the following assistants:—R. C. Smyth, Spencer Harris, James L. Beck, R. S. Diehl, Joseph R. Usilton, Wm. W. Dwyer, and several others whose names could not be learned. The judges at the stand were Messrs. J. Evan Thomas, William T. Hepbron and T. Romie Strong, and Mr. Frank Wilson acted as starting judge. The excursions from Baltimore and Georgetown were slimly patronized, owing to the severe rain storm of the previous day. There were only about three hundred and fifty persons on the ground, and the tournament just about cleared expenses. The tilting did not commence until about noon, in consequence of the heavy conditi n of the track. Some of the riding was superb and excited the admiration of all beholders, the Knight of Reckless Boy taking twenty-nine rings out of a possible thirty in ten tilts and the Knight of Cedar Vale twenty-eight. Fifteen Knights contested for the prizes, with the following result:

James P. Wickes, Knight of Wickliff	2 2 2
R. S. Jones, Knight of Rosedale	2 3 3
W. B. Stephens, Knight of Reckless Boy	3 3 3
J. C. Ringgold, Knight of Oakland	3 2 3
E. R. Strong, Knight of Cedar Vale	3 3 3
S. Y. Henkle, Knight of Monumental City	2 0 2
George Venable, Knight of Worton	2 3 2
Jos. Dwyer, Knight of Clydedale	2 0 2
J. C. Beck, Knight of Lankford	2 1 2
Geo. W. Henkle, Knight of Harlem	0 1 1
Wm. E. DeFord, Knight of Still Pond	2 1 3
John Cosden, Knight of Ambrose	2 1 1
F. E. Ford, Knight of Bayview	2 1 1
Wm. P. Jewell, Knight of Willow Manor	3 3 1
M. McCall Raisin, Knight of Arlington	3 3 0

There being a tie between the Knight of Reckless Boy and the Knight of Cedar Vale for the first prize, both having taken all three rings at every tilt, it was contested and not decided until the seventh tilt was ridden, when the former Knight took three rings and the latter two. There was also a tie for the third prize between the Knight of Rosedale and the Knight of Oakland, which was decided at a single tilt in favor of the former. The fourth prize was won by the Knight of Oakland. The first prize was a silver-plated water pitcher, pivoted in a frame-work of ornamental style; the second a handsome silver-plated butter-urn, the third silver-plated castors, and the fourth a handsome cake basket, which were presented to the winners respectively. The Knight of Reckless Boy crowned Miss Mattie Ringgold queen of love and beauty; the Knight of Cedar Vale crowned Miss Emma Willson first maid of honor; the Knight of Rosedale crowned Miss Mary Constable second maid of honor, and the Knight of Oakland crowned Miss Julia Willson third maid of honor. The coronation address was made by Chas. W. Heuisler, Esq., of Baltimore, and was a very happy effort. Everything passed off pleasantly. —News.

Orphans' Court, Tuesday, June 10th, 1879.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Benj. F. H. Caulk, administrator of Charles Hessey, passed first and final administration account, which was filed and ordered to be recorded.

Any of our Readers who are in want of Fine Clothing, can find no better place to purchase than at the large, reliable and well-conducted establishment of Chas. N. Oehm & Son, 230 W. Pratt street, near Hanover, Baltimore. Their goods are of the best quality, while their prices will compare favorably with those of any house in Baltimore city.

Completion of a Great Work.—The completion of the new Acme edition of Chambers's Cyclopædia of English Literature will mark an epoch in the experience of many lovers of good books. The announcement that they would publish a work of such superior excellence, in a form so convenient and so entirely becoming to one of such high merit, at a price only nominal when compared with that of similar books generally, was more than a surprise to reading people. It was generally supposed to be an undertaking impossible of accomplishment, except at great loss of money, and many who knew the excellent standing of the publishers feared that they had undertaken too much, and would never be able to complete the work. But it seems they knew their ground; they have not only fulfilled their promise to the public, but by undertaking and accomplishing something so extraordinary, have attracted the attention of almost the entire reading community, to themselves and their various literary enterprises, and have secured a sale for the work itself beyond precedent in the history of bookselling, and so great that it is really remunerative. This month, with a view to extending the sale as greatly as possible, they offer to send sample volumes for examination, with privilege of immediate return if not wanted, or of purchasing the remainder if found satisfactory, as they unquestionably will be by all who appreciate what is choicest in literature. Prices of sample volumes, postpaid, in paper, 15 cents; cloth, 25 cents; half morocco, gilt top, 8 vol. edition, 50 cents; half morocco, gilt top, 4 vol. edition, 75 cents. They also send free on request, to any one, descriptive catalogue of this and several hundred other standard and valuable publications which they sell at prices far below usual rates. American Book Exchange, publishers, 55 Beekman street, New York.

Pushing Advertising Too Far.—"Bless my soul!" said Col. Crawford, last Sunday morning, "This is too bad! Here's Bull's Cough Syrup in the Bible!" The Colonel took off his specs, rubbed them carefully and looked again. "Yes! here in the 23d chapter of Isaiah, 15th verse,—Over 500,000 bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, &c.' Well, I thought that Bull got everywhere else except in the Bible. Now I'll give it up; it must be a good thing." Mrs. C. came in and explained that she had cut the slip out of a newspaper and put it in her Bible for safe keeping and it had stuck to the leaf. So the Colonel was satisfied.—Staunton, Va., Vindicator.

COPY OF ORIGINAL TESTIMONIALS.
Baltimore, Jan. 31, 1879.
Mr. J. S. Knapp—Sir:—I have made a thorough test of the London Food and recommend it to the public as a good Improvement Food for horses. I will use it in preference to any condition powders I know of.
[They have 300 head of horses.]
Respectfully, R. PRICE.
Supt. of Citizens Line Street R. R.
Carrollton, Feb. 11, 1879. Carroll county, Md.
John S. Knapp—Sir:—Having used the London Horse and Cattle Food on both my horses and cows, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a good condition food for the horse and a profitable condiment for cattle, as it will cause cows to give more milk and make at least 20 per cent more butter than any condition powders I ever used. Hoping this will induce my friends to try it, after which I am convinced they will bear the same testimony as to its merits as I do.
Yours Respectfully,
March 6, 1879. JACOB M. HOFF.

WARRANTED GENUINE.
THE above Fertilizer was tested on Corn last season, along side of other Fertilizers of higher price. For reference I refer to the following gentlemen, who used it last season on corn:

William Overend,	W. C. Crow,
Charles H. Baker,	W. Thomas of Wm.
Richard Taylor,	Daniel Jewell.

Facts, not Opinions.
Mr. John Bell:—I used several kinds of Phosphate last spring on Corn. That which I bought of you gave better satisfaction than any other, and cost fourteen dollars less per ton. I shall use it again this spring.
S. H. CRAWFORD.
This is to certify that I used one ton of Snowden's Corn Fertilizer, on corn, last year, 1878. I applied it the same quantity per acre as a much higher priced Fertilizer, costing eleven dollars per ton more than Snowden's did. The result was, I gathered one fourth more corn, where I applied Snowden's, than where I applied the higher priced. PETER STOKES.
