Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1880.

St. Patrick's was as gentle as a lamb.

Three daily newspapers now own paper mills in Cecil county. The papers are the Philadelphia Ledger, the Baltimore Sun, and the Philadelphia Record.

We were in error last week in stating that the Morris farm, offered on the 4th instant, was not sold. It was purchased by Henry W. Arcker, Esq., for $6,900.

Never before was reliable Nursery Stock offered lower than N. BARNARD quotes in his advertisement, in this issue of our paper.

The M. P. Church will be re-opened next Sunday morning, the 21st inst. Some minister from abroad will probably fill the pulpit, though we are not informed at this writing as to who he will be.

Three Bishops will be present during the present session of the Wilmington M. E. Conference. Bishop Andrews will preside, and and Bishops Scott and Simpson will also be on hand before the conference closes.

A Prolific Ewe.—A ewe belonging to Mr. Wm. H. Stewart, near Chestertown, recently gave birth to four lambs, all of which are in a thriving condition. They are now over a month old. Who can beat it?

Palm and Easter Sundays.—Next Sunday, which is Palm Sunday, Father Bradford will hold Divine service at St. Dennis' church, near Galena. Sunday week, Easter Sunday, there will be service in Chestertown at 10:30 A. M.

The Rockwell House, in this town, has recently changed proprietors, being now conducted by Mr. John W. Startt, who, though new to the business, possesses qualities that will no doubt render him popular in the business.

Mad Dog.—Mr. Walter Morris, residing near Chestertown, killed a mad dog on Monday morning last. It was found by a little boy on the porch, in a spasm. Mr. Morris was called in and administered a dose of pitch-fork, &c. A dog was heard in the yard the night before. It is hoped that none of his stock has been bitten. Mr. M. immediately locked up his dog.

The New School Room in Chestertown, built especially for the use of the second and third grades, is finished and will be occupied at once. Great pains has been taken in its construction in order to secure proper ventilation for the comfort and health of the fifty or sixty little folks that will occupy it. Miss Ava Downes is the teacher. It was built by Mr. R. K. Pippin.

As there is a mixture more or less of joy and solemnity in the ringing of bells it has been customary from time immemorial to suspend their use during the last days of Holy Week, when the entire church is in mourning for the Passion and Death of our Divine Saviour. Next week being Holy Week, in consequence of this custom, the bell on the Catholic church in this town, will be silent after Holy Thursday morning, until Saturday at noon.

Baltimore Grain Market.—We quote from the Sun of Tuesday, as follows: Southern Wheat is firm and in good demand, but the light offerings make a quiet market. Sales of long-berry at $1 50, and fair to prime Fultz at 1 42a$1 46. No. 1 Maryland red sold at 1 48¾ to $1 48 for a few car loads. Southern Corn was in better supply, and the market was fairly active and firm; sales of choice white at 59 cents on track and at 58½ and 58 cents afloat, and No. 1 yellow at 57 cents.

Off for Conference.—Rev. E. B. Newnam left yesterday morning for Dover, to attend the present session of the M. E. Conference, held there. Mr. Newnam stands high in the esteem of his church and will be cordially welcomed back when conference is over. We are informed that the church showed its appreciation of Mr. Newnam's good work by the very substantial method of paying a $1000 salary, when only $900 had been promised.

The M. P. Conference, which began its session at Washington, D. C., on Wednesday of last week, will perhaps adjourn to-day. Rev. T. D. Valliant has been elected as the new president of the conference. One of the important questions up for discussion during this session was the division of the conference into two conferences, the one to preside over the Eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia, and the State of Delaware, the other to preside over the Western Shore. The next annual conference will meet at Cumberland, Md., on the 1st Wednesday in April, 1881.

Visit from a Distinguished Frenchman.—M. Henri Say, an officer of high rank in the French army, and nephew to M. Leon Say, the present French Minister of Finance, has been lying off Chestertown, during the last week, in his ocean steam yacht, the "Henraetta." M. Say represents one of the oldest and wealthiest families of Europe. He was married some two years ago, and came to America on a bridal tour, traveling on his iron steam yacht "Follette," a much smaller vessel than the "Henraetta," and now used as her tender. Soon after his arrival he purchased the yacht which is now lying in our river, and which was being built by a firm at Newbergh, N. Y., for Dion Boucicault. The yacht is 168 feet long, 28 feet beam, draws 11½ feet of water, and has a tonnage of 270. The vessel is brigantine rigged, and carries twelve sails, which when desired are used in conjunction with her steam propelling power. The officers and crew comprise thirty-five, besides the family of the owner and his attendants. All of her machinery is of the best modern production. Her speed under steam is 13½ knots an hour, under steam and sail combined, 17 knots. She consumes only six tons of coal in twenty-four hours. The vessel is heated throughout with steam, and is supplied in all parts with hot and cold water. She also keeps a constant supply of ice. The private departments comprise fourteen staterooms, the main saloon, and a smoking-room on the upper deck. The staterooms and saloon are magnificently upholstered and are supplied with all the modern luxuries and conveniences. Such a craft is something rather unusual in our waters, and as a matter of course many of our citizens were desirous of inspecting her machinery and appointments. It might be supposed that M. Say, in stopping at so many ports, would be overwhelmed by curious visitors and would soon tire of them. Since he has been here, however, he has received those who have called to inspect his yacht, with the greatest politeness, and has gone to no little trouble in showing them her fittings.

The present yacht is not large enough to suit the Monsieur's convenience, and he is now waiting for the completion, by Malster & Reaney, of Baltimore, of a new steam yacht, which is to be 240 feet long, 32 feet beam, 20 feet depth of hold and 900 tonnage. The new yacht, it will be observed, is to be nearly one hundred feet longer than the present one, and more than three times its tonnage. It will be turned out from the hands of the ship-builder at a cost of $250,000. It will be bark-rigged, and built in all of its parts of the best materials.

Monsieur Say took possession of the "Henraetta" in May of last year, and since that time has been coasting in American waters. He has been as far North as Montreal, Canada, and as far South as Charleston, South Carolina. The Monsieur is said to be rather Republican in his tastes, and plain and unostentatious in his manners. He likes our country and admires our form of government. When his new yacht is completed, it is said he designs coasting slowly South, running across the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans, and stopping at various ports on his route. He will round Cape Horn in February, and run as far up as San Francisco. Thence he will cross the Pacific, and finally make his native France. Mr. Joseph Delano, formerly of Quaker Neck, in this county, and who is known to many Kent county people, is at present pilot of the "Henraetta."

For the Young Folks.—Below we give two enigmas, which have been sent us by two young ladies residing in the upper part of the county. We invite some smart boy to try his head in working them out, and we extend the same invitation to the smart girls. It is probable that there will be more girls smart enough to give the solutions than boys, but we can't always tell about that:

The Missionary Anniversary of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School of this town, was held in the audience room of the church last Tuesday evening. The exercises commenced with a voluntary on the organ, by Mrs. M. A. Toulson, during which the classes, headed by their respective teachers, came up from the lecture room and filed along the aisles to the seats set apart for them in the middle block of pews. The school then sang "Jesus shall reign," followed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Newnam. The hymn, "Happy Time," was sung, and at its conclusion the pastor delivered a short but very appropriate address. "On to Victory," was the next hymn, followed by a reading, "The Progress of Christianity," by Prof. Ebaugh, showing the order in which the nations accepted the Gospel, from past to present. At the beginning of the reading "Christianity," personated by Lillie Baker, came slowly up the aisle, sceptre in hand, and, mounting the platform, was seated on her throne at the foot of the cross. She was arrayed in spotless white, (as were also the other young ladies engaged in the piece) wore a crown composed of "lilies of the valley," and well represented the part she took. Next came Asia and Greece, with flags representing their respective nationalities, the former Ella Thomas, the latter Effie Pearson; Asia with Turkish turban, Greece in pure characteristic style. Next came Rome, (Delma Bordley,) and Egypt, (Lollie Newnam); then France, (Lucy Gruber,) and Germany, (Sadie Gardner); England, (Laura Davis) and America, (Mollie Welch); India, (Fannie Brice) and Isles of the Sea, (Burtie Hines); then China, (Ida Gardner) and Japan, (Irene Gardner), each taking their respective places at the sides of Christianity. As the representatives of the different nationalities came on the platform (ascending from opposite steps) they approached each other and crossing their standards in front of Christianity, were sent to their proper positions at the touch of her sceptre. M. deK. Smith, Esq., the secretary, then took his position at a stand immediately in front of the platform, and as he called the roll a member from each class came forward bringing bouquets and a Bible, reciting short Scriptural selections. The flowers and Bibles were received at the front of the platform by "Love," (Laura Thomas) who presented them to Christianity, and she sent the Bible, open, to the different nations. At a given signal the nations came to the front, and, while Asia and Greece decorate Christianity and her sceptre with flowers, England and America approach and cross their flags over her head. Having now attained its climax the scene presented was really beautiful, and surpassed anything of the kind we ever beheld. All the young ladies engaged in the representation performed their respective parts most admirably. The conception of the piece originated with Mrs. Burton, and was very creditable to her taste and judgment in such matters. Mrs. Lulie Brown then sang a solo, and was followed by Annie Lambert, one of the small scholars, who did remarkably well for a child of her years. The infant class having made the largest missionary collection during the year, received a handsome banner, the presentation being made with some happy remarks, by Mr. Thomas G. DeFord. Charles H. Baker, Esq., the superintendent of the school, then made a short and appropriate address at its close making an ingenious appeal for a good collection, but at the same time insisting that he was utterly opposed to anything like a begging collection on such occasions, and that this one must not be so regarded. Emma Lambert, Carrie Cooper, Walter Perkins and Harry Brice then waited on the audience, and the baskets returned the handsome sum of forty dollars. In the recess back of the pulpit platform a large arch, inscribed in bold letters, "All Nations Shall Bow before Him," was erected. In its centre was a banner with the inscription, "The Lord Reigneth;" and directly underneath it, on the platform, stood a large gilt cross. Over the organ was suspended a banner inscribed "Let the multitude of the Isles be glad," and on the opposite side of the room was a similar one, bearing the inscription, "Let the Earth Rejoice.

The missionary collections in the school for the year, amounted to the sum of $129.96.

A feature of the exercises was the excellent singing, that of the school being very good, and the solos by Mrs. Lulie Brown, were particularly fine.

The church was crowded, the number being estimated at fully five hundred. Capt. Taylor, Mr. Todd, M. A. Toulson and W. F. Simpers acted as ushers, and faithfully discharged their arduous duties. Charles H. Baker, Esq., had charge of the exercises, and everything passed off very pleasantly.

COPY OF ORIGINAL TESTIMONIALS.

Baltimore, Jan. 31, 1879.

Mr. J. S. KNAPP—Sir:—I have made a thorough test of the London Food and recommend it to the public as a good Improvement Food for horses. I will use it in preference to any condition powders I know of.

[They have 300 head of horses.]

Respectfully, R. PRICE,
Supt. of Citizens Line Street R. R.

Carrollton, Feb. 11, 1879.
Carroll county, Md.

JOHN S. KNAPP—Sir:—Having used the London Horse and Cattle Food on both my horses and cows, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a good condition food for the horse and a profitable condiment for cattle, as it will cause cows to give more milk and make at least 20 per cent more butter than any condition powders I ever used. Hoping this will induce my friends to try it, after which I am convinced they will bear the same testimony as to its merits as I do.

Yours Respectfully,
March 6, 1879. JACOB M. HOFF.
