Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 23, 1880.

The Catholic fair is still open.

J. E. Aldridge has in a new advertisement this week of his hardware store, stoves, &c.

A Call for a Democratic Mass Meeting will be noticed at the head of our editorial columns.

Salmon Fish, of small size, we are informed by one of our oldest anglers, have been caught from Chester river bridge witbin the past week.

The Last Registration.—The advertisement of the last sitting of the Registrars, on Monday and Tuesday, the 4th and 5th days of October, is to be found elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. Sol. Wright, formerly of Kent county, has now a permanent position as clerk on the GEORGE LAW. He will be pleased to see his friends on their trips to and from Baltimore.

Our thanks are due Mrs. John C. Voshell and Mrs. James Brice for generous portions of the delicious cake which they had on exhibition at the Kent fair. Both lots were as good as any connoisseur in cake need desire to sample.

Cecil County Fair.—Cecil county comes to the front this year with a bran new fair. Though this is the first year that Cecil has attempted a full-fledged fair, we should judge, from all appearances, that she is going to make a first-class success of it from the start. Read the advertisement of it elsewhere.

The Kent Guards having been ordered to Baltimore on the 13th of October, to participate in the grand military demonstration, commenced their drilling after the summer season, again last Tuesday evening, and will follow it up with full dress parade next Tuesday night. They seem determined to perfect themselves in marching and drilling, and expect to carry 50 men and present a first-class appearance.

Kennedyville Opens the Campaign in Kent next Saturday, with a pole-raising, an oyster feast, and speech making. JAMES A. PEARCE and H. W. VICKERS, Esqs., are to deliver addresses. Other speakers will probably be present. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Hancock and English Club of Kennedyville. The public generally is invited. A big turn-out and a good time is anticipated.

Washington College Graduates.—We published last week, that Mr. F. Malone, who graduated at Washington College last summer, proposes to enter the University of Virginia this fall. We have since learned, of the principal, of the whereabouts of the other graduates. Mr. Albert E. Twiford, two weeks after graduation, obtained the position of Professor of Mathematics in Eaton & Burnett's Business College, Baltimore. Mr. William Beckwith expects to espouse the teacher's calling, and Mr. Oscar Purnell is reading or expects to read medicine.

The Managers of "Delaware State Fair" have certainly been fortunate in securing a fine list of horses. Driver, Trinket, Jersey Boy, Wedgewood, Irene, Phil. Dougherty, Wilbur F., Ed[illegible] [illegible] the track in [illegible] th[illegible]

M. Say's New Yacht.—M. Henri Say, the wealthy Frenchman who visited Chestertown last spring in his steam yacht the "Henraette," has just had completed by Malster & Reany, of Baltimore, a larger and handsomer yacht, which has been christened the "Bretagne." The christening ceremony was performed by Rev. George Bradford, of Chestertown. After the christening Father Bradford delivered a brief address. The Baltimore Sun gives the following description of the yacht:

"The yacht is a beautifully proportioned one and will cost nearly $250,000. She is bark-rigged, 240 feet long, 17 feet depth of hold, 32 feet beam and will draw 17 feet of water: tonnage, 1,038 tons O. M. The frame is of white oak, staunchions of locust, ceilings, deck-beams and planking of best Georgia pine. Combings about the sky-lights, pilot-house and smoking-room are of mahogany. The engines will be of the compound pattern, 28-inch cylinders, stroke 50 by 33 inches, giving the screw 80 revolutions per minute. The coal bunkers will hold 150 tons, and under steam the engines will consume 20 tons a day. The interior of the yacht is excellently arranged. Directly in the rear of the engines is the main saloon, 28 feet long, with state-rooms on each side. The private room of M. Say is on the port side, and 13 by 16 feet in size. The woodwork in the cabins will be of pine, painted white and ornamented in gilt. Forward of the dining saloon is the officers' mess-room, similar to the main cabin and with state-rooms on the sides. The forecastle is 28 feet long, and furnished with hammocks instead of the customary bunks. A steam launch, modeled exactly after the yacht, will swing at her davits. The vessel was modeled by E. Morgan, and is highly praised by all who have visited her."

Homicide in Kent Forest.—On Saturday night last, William Daniels, accompanied by a man named Moffitt, and two others whose names are not known, forced an entrance into the house of Wesley Murphy, situated in Kent forest, near Morris' station, and the leader, Daniels, was shot dead by Murphy, in the doorway. Daniels is said to have been a leader of the worst element in the forest, and to have been much feared by the more quiet and orderly inhabitants of that region. Moffitt also is considered to be a bad man. He is the same who was tried some two years ago in Kent County Court for rape, and there has been for a considerable length of time a bench warrant standing for his arrest on some other charge. Murphy is about fifty years of age, not more than five feet in stature, and has been a cripple from his birth. He is said by those who know him, to be a quiet, industrious, inoffensive old man, and to be one of the most respectable citizens of the forest. The next day after the shooting—Sunday—Murphy sent for constable Jacoby, and gave himself up, and was brought to Chestertown and lodged in jail.

A reporter for the Transcript called on him and had a talk with him on Monday. The following particulars of the affair were gathered from his conversation: Murphy himself is a bachelor, and owns thirty-three acres of good cleared land in the forest, out of which he manages to get a comfortable living.

Some fifteen years ago he took an old woman for a housekeeper, and the old woman had a grand-daughter, three years old at that time. They have both lived with Murphy since then, and the girl has grown up to be a forest belle. She is known as "Sadie Bell." He says he came to think as much of the girl as though she had been his own child, but some two years ago she went astray, and now has a child nearly two years old. He continued to keep her at his house however.

Daniels has been a frequent visitor at his house, but was not in favor with the girl, the old woman, or himself. They all treated him politely however, and pretended to be pleased with him, because they were all afraid of him, and afraid of offending him. Moffitt had never been at his house but once before Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon the girl went to Sassafras to get some medicine for her child, and while she was gone, Daniels called at the house and asked for her. Murphy told him that she was gone to Sassafras, and Daniels, after lingering around awhile, left.

A little after dark, Moffitt appeared at the house, but was received with very cool treatment. After having some cross words with the old woman, he left, swearing and threatening. About nine o'clock two men appeared on the outside of the house. The old woman and the girl slept below, and Murphy slept up stairs. One of the men—Daniels—tapped at the old woman's window and asked to be let in, but the old woman refused, and applied some abusive epithets to him. He in turn swore that he would come in. He and his companion then left the house. The old woman called to Murphy and told him he had better make the house fast, as she knew that those men were coming back, and meant mischief. He took her advice and fastened the house up as securely as he could, after which he lay down and got a short nap of sleep before any further disturbance was made. Toward midnight, however, the old woman wakened him, and told him that there were four men without. The moon was shining very brightly, and he looked out and recognized among the four, Daniels and Moffitt. He called to Daniels by name and said to him, "Bill Daniels, take those men away from here: I know you, and I don't want to have any trouble with you." The old woman then gave Daniels a piece of her mind. Daniels replied that "they had given him the name and he intended to have the game," and that he was coming in the house. He expressed his purpose to ravish the females either dead or alive. The old woman tried to persuade Murphy to shoot from the upstairs window, while he had a chance, but he replied that it was a bad thing to kill a man, and that he did not intend to do so until he was compelled. He noticed that they seemed to be making ready to force an entrance, and he took his carbine and posted himself below at the stair door.

Pretty soon there was a heavy crash at the door. The fastenings gave way and the door flew open. Murphy raised his gun and fired at the first man who entered. He did not wait to see the effect of his shot, but hurried up stairs to reload. While he was reloading, he told the girl to look cautiously and see if any of the men were below. She looked, and seeing nobody, she went down and went to the door, where she found the dead body of Daniels. The other three men she saw running across the field. Daniels had been killed instantly dead. Four shot had entered his neck in the region of the jugular, and one had penetrated the brain through the eye. The gun used was an army carbine, capable of sending a ball one half mile. It was loaded with large size shot.

Murphy expresses regret at having killed Daniels, but he thinks that if the crowd had obtained entrance to the house, they would have killed him and have ravished the women. From what he says the girl was pluck to the backbone. She coolly looked up paper with which to reload the gun, and then went below alone to reconnoitre. Murphy says that if the girl's pistol had been in order, she would have been likely to have brought down another of the men, as she rarely misses a half dollar at ten yards distance with a pistol.

The three other men did not trouble the house again. On Sunday morning Murphy sent for a coroner, who summoned a jury of inquest over the body of Daniels. The verdict of the jury was that Daniels came to his death from a gunshot wound, inflicted by a gun in the hands of Charles W. Murphy.

After the inquest, Murphy surrendered himself to constable Jacoby, and was brought to Chestertown and lodged in jail as before stated. The trial of the case will probably come off at the October session of court.

Orphans' Court, TUESDAY, Sept. 21, 1880.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

H. Clay Lusby, guardian to Samuel H. Lusby, returned his guardian account for said ward for the year 1879, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

Wm. Perkins, guardian to Clara J. Wilmer, returned his final guardian account for said ward, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

Ordered, that George W. Jacoby, administrator of Thomas Hall, (colored) deceased, give notice by advertisement that he will make a final dividend of the personal estate of said deceased, on Tuesday, October 26, 1880.

M. B. Roberts' Horse Powders have been used with astonishing results in the stables of Mr. Pierre Lorillard, so much so, that the Englishmen have been ordering it in large quantities; since Parole, Wallenstein and other American horses, have won thousands of dollars for their owners.

No more sick Chickens. Save your poultry and cure them of disease, by using Roberts' Poultry Powder. It has never failed to cure Cholera, and all diseases to which fowls are subject. Price 25 cents per package.

How often do we hear the remark: O, he only took a slight cold at first, and he thought it would go as it came! He took nothing for it, and it fastened on his lungs, and now he is in the last stages of consumpeion. Prevention is better than cure. Sine's Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Lung Affections. It has a reputation of over 40 years. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Your druggist has it.

A life of torture is often endured by the rheumatic; their pangs may, however, be relieved by the use of the old reliable remedy, Roberts' Embrocation. Sold over 50 years. No mushroom growth, its reputation excels all other remedies. Price 35 cents per bottle. Try it just once.

Mothers, before giving your little babe cough or croup medicines, remember that Sines' Syrup of Tar, Hoarhound and Wild Cherry, is the only cough preparation that contains no opium, morphine, nor any other narcotic.

To make a good broil; leave a letter for one of your old sweethearts where your wife can find it: and to avoid any bodily injury have a horse ready saddled that has taken Roberts' Celebrated Horse Powders. Price 25 cents per package.

The Leaders of Fashionable Dress and Low Prices.—C. N. OEHM & SON, proprietors of the largest one-price double Clothing House, Baltimore, now occupy two entire three-story buildings with their splendid stock of Men's, Youth's, Boy's and Children's Clothing. We feel it our duty to call the attention of our readers to this truly famous and reliable establishment, corner of Pratt and Hanover Sts. A REMARABLE WHEAT YIELD.

John N. Endwoods, living on the Oldham Massey farm, one half mile east of Chesterville, realized last harvest the following yield of wheat: On 10 acres he seeded 1 bushel and 1 peck to the acre, used 300 lbs. of the MARYLAND CO'S PHOSPHATE to the acre, and reaped a yield of 33 bushels of wheat to the acre. On 25 acres he seeded 1 bushel of wheat to the acre, used 200 lbs. of the same fertilizer to the acre and reaped 24 bushels of wheat per acre, making in all a crop of 920 bushels from 27½ bushels seeding. His fertilizer cost him only $30 per ton on time. Who can beat it? Beside the above named grower we refer also to Albert Medders, Chesterville, and Medford Copper, who threshed the wheat, and others of the neighborhood who will testify to the correctness of the yield.

T. W. WICKES

TO WHEAT GROWERS

THE undersigned, PIONEER in the manufacture of Fertilizers in this city, and ORIGINATOR in 1858 of the Formulas and processes of manufacture of

'Excelsior' & Ammoniated Phosphate

So well and favorably known by the Agricultural public, relying upon his experience and personal reputation hitherto acquired in the uniform excellence of these Fertilizers, as manufactured by him, continues to offer them to the Farmers and Planters of Maryland and Virginia, with the assurance that the high standard quality of each will be maintained as heretofore.

AND

The above are the most concentrated FERTILIZERS ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating properties of Peruvian Guano, and the ever-durable fertilizing properties of Bones, in fine, dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling.

For growing Wheat, it is the universal opinion of the farmers of Maryland and Virginia, after over twenty years experience in the use of these FERTILIZERS manufactured by me, that an application of 100 pounds is equal in its effects to 200 pounds of any other Fertilizer or Guano, therefore fully 50 per cent. cheaper.

With my present advantages and superior acilities for manufacturing, I challenge competition with any Fertilizer sold in the United States, in Quality, Mechanical Condition and Price.

By strictly adhering to my Original Formulas, using only the most concentrated materials, and superintending in person their manufacture—as for the past twenty years—

Uniform Quality is Guaranteed.

☞ Farmers, to secure the ONLY GENUINE EXCELSIOR and PHOSPHATE, prepared according to my Original Formulas established in 1858, should see that every Bag is branded as above, with the ANALYSIS and MY NAME IN RED LETTERS.

MR. T. W. ELIASON, JR.—In reply to your inquiries concerning the results of your No. 1 Ammoniated Super Phosphate, which I have used upon my wheat the two past seasons, I would say that the first season I used it, it was by the side of —— ——, costing me seven dollars per ton more than yours. For lightness of draught, durability and superior work, this Plow cannot be equaled and has never been by any yet introduced; this may be considered by some a broad claim, but a trial will soon convince as to the correctness thereof. All who purchased of us last spring were so much pleased that they seem to delight in talking about them to their friends, and this fact alone has made for us a number of sales even this early in the season, hence it can be truly said that the OHIO CHILLED advertises and sells itself.

The fifth section provides that the officers of Registration shall, before striking from said list of qualified voters and from said books of registration the name of any registered person, diligently inquire and accurately ascertain that said registered person does not possess, or before the election next ensuing will not possess, the requisite qualifications to entitle him to be registered as a qualified voter in such precinct or election district, or that such person is disqualified under the provisions of the second and third Sections of the first Article of the Constitution; and if it shall appear that said registered person does not possess or will not possess said qualifications, and that he is so disqualified, then said officer shall strike the name of such person from said list of qualified voters and said books of registration, but if it shall appear otherwise then such officer shall not strike the name of such person from said books of registration and from said list of qualified voters; and before registering as a qualified voter any person who has applied to said Officers of Registration to be registered as a qualified voter, said officer shall diligently inquire and accurately ascertain that such person possesses or will possess before the election next ensuing the requisite qualifications to entitle him to be registered as a qualified voter, and that he is not disqualified under the provisions of the second and third sections of the first Article of the Constitution; and if it shall appear that said person so applying possesses or will possess before said day of election said qualifications, and is not so disqualified, then said officers of registration shall register the name of such person as a qualified voter; but they shall not register the name of any person who does not or will not possess said qualifications or is so disqualified; and when any person applying, as aforesaid, for registration, shall have been previously registered within this State, the officer of registration to whom such application is made, before registering such person shall demand and receive from him a certificate of his previous legal registration, and such certificate of previous registration shall be cancelled by the officer who shall register such person anew.

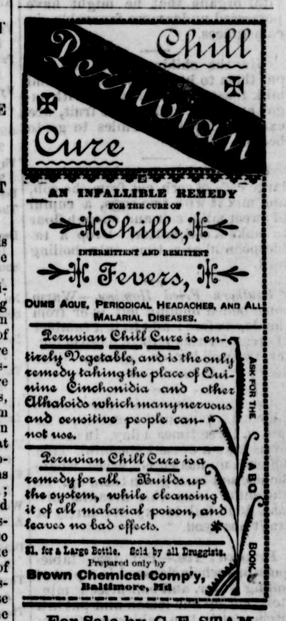

The thirteenth section provides that no person shall be entitled to be or remain registered in any precinct or election district, unless he shall have been a resident of the State for one year, and of the city of Baltimore, or the county in which registration is claimed, for six months next preceding the next ensuing election, at which such registration would be evidence of the right of the person so registered to vote; and in case any county or city shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of representatives in Congress, delegates or other officers, then to entitle a person to be or remain registered in any particular section or part of such county or city, he must have been a resident of that part or section of the electoral district in which he claims to be or is registered for six months next preceding the next election, at which such registration would be evidence of the right of the person so registered to vote; and the residence necessary to entitle any person to be or remain so registered, shall be an actual bona fide residence within the precinct or district within which such person may claim to reside and to be registered, and such actual bona fide residence shall be established upon the oath or affirmation of competent evidence to the satisfaction of the register to whom the application is made, and to the satisfaction of the judge or judges to whom any appeal is made under the provisions of this Act; and the neglect or refusal of any person deeming himself aggrieved by the refusal of any officer of registration to register his name, or by the striking off of his name from the list of qualified voters, to appeal by petition from such action, as provided for in this act, shall be deemed and taken to be conclusive evidence that the said person was rightfully refused registration, or that the name of such person was rightfully stricken from the list of qualified voters of such precinct or election district.

The law further provides, that whils discharging the duties imposed by the several sections of this act, said officers of registration shall have and exercise the dowers of a Justice of the Peace for the preservation of order around the place of registration, and may compe the presence of witnesses for the purpose of obtaining any information necessary to an intelligent discharge of the duties of their office; they shall have power to issue summonses, attachments and commitments, to any constable or sheriff, who shall serve such process as if issued by a Judge of a Court or a Justice of the Peace.
